PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

No. I.—Form of Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East the sum of _____ Pounds free of Legacy duty* for the general purposes of the said Society to be paid within _____ calendar months next after my death, exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all other payments thereout but to be subject to abate proportionably with other Legacies in case my general Personal Estate shall be insufficient for payment of them all in full. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto† shall be paid out of such part of my personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund; and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund; and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East for the general purposes of the said Society such part of my residuary personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to (one-fourth or one-half, according to the intention) of my whole residuary personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general residuary personal Estate I bequeath the same &c. &c.

* If so intended.

† In case there be other charitable Legacies, insert here, "other than and except charitable Legacies."

‡ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on real Estate, then add "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

§ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes; but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

To Stations formerly connected with the Society, but from which, on various accounts, it has withdrawn, were attached 1813 Communicants and 8032 Scholars.

* By MISSIONARY, is to be understood one in Holy Orders; and by CATECHIST, one who engages in such religious care and instruction of the people as may be consistent with his character as a Layman. The letter (m) means Married; (w) Widow.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Females; such as, cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing Female Adults.

A STATION is the place at which a Missionary or European Catechist is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers sent from Europe show the date of their first leaving England.

The asterisk (*) denotes that the Missionary is on his way out; The mark (†) that he is on his way home.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May the 4th, 1853, being the Fifty-fourth Anniversary—

The Right Hon. the EARL OF CHICHESTER, President, in the Chair,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. JOHN VENN, M.A., PREBENDARY OF HEREFORD,

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF NORWICH, V.P., seconded by the RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF CARLISLE, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be received, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this Meeting be given to the Rev. William Weldon Champneys for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to His Grace the Vice-Patron; to the Right Hon. the President and the Vice-Presidents; and to all those friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen be appointed the Committee, for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies—[See List, p. iv.]

On the Motion of the RIGHT REV. C. P. M'ILVAINE, D.D., Bishop of Ohio, seconded by the REV. HUGH STOWELL, M.A., Minister of Christ Church, Salford, Manchester, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting cordially rejoices in the wide-spread extent, and large success, of all other Protestant Missions, which they regard both as an encouragement to their own labours, and a special call upon this Society to maintain its position in the foremost ranks of the evangelizers of the world.

On the Motion of the REV. EDWIN SIDNEY, M.A., Rector of Little Cornard, Suffolk, seconded by the REV. DR. STEPHEN H. TYNG, of the Episcopal Church of the United States, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting heartily sympathises in the Jubilee year of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and recognises the free and copious distribution of the Holy Scriptures as the indispensable accompaniment of all Protestant Missions, and the only solid foundation for permanent success.

On the Motion of the REV. THOMAS NOLAN, M.A., Minister of St. John's Chapel, Bedford Row, seconded by the REV. EDWARD HOARE, M.A., Incumbent of Christ Church, Ramsgate, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the increased facilities now presented for evangelizing the millions of Africa through the mother church at Sierra Leone, and its branch in Yoruba, as well as the disposition now manifested in the East to attend to the preaching of the itinerant Missionary, encourage this Society to special and enlarged exertions, and to abounding prayer, for the full accomplishment of its great undertaking.

At a Meeting of the Society, held at Exeter Hall, in the Evening of the same Day—

The Most Noble the MARQUESS CHOLMONDELEY, one of the Vice-Presidents, in the Chair,

On the Motion of the REV. JOSEPH RIDGEWAY, M.A., seconded by JOHN GURNEY HOARE, Esq., it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the astonishing advance, during the last few years, in the position and prospects of Protestant Missions, forms a powerful call on all Christians for more fervent prayer for the outpouring of the Spirit, for the readier consecration of their substance to the work of the gospel, and for a larger supply than hitherto of able ministers of the New Testament, who, whether as the ground of their own hopes, or as the subject of all their ministrations, will determine to know nothing among the heathen but Jesus Christ, and Him crucified.

On the Motion of the REV. FRANCIS CLOSE, M.A., Incumbent of Cheltenham, seconded by the REV. EDWARD FORBES, M.A., Perpetual Curate of St. George's, Douglas, Isle of Mann, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the vast commercial facilities developed by the enterprise of the Anglo-Saxon race; the wide diffusion of the English language, and its richness in works of evangelical and experimental divinity; are providential indications which specially call the churches of England and America to labour, above all others, for the conversion of the world to the faith of Christ.

On the Motion of the REV. W. D. VEITCH, M.A., Honorary Chaplain to the Anglican Bishop at Jerusalem, seconded by the REV. W. PAKENHAM WALSH, Visiting Secretary of the Hibernian Auxiliary, it was

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the rapid opening of one country after another to European intercourse and Missionary effort; the movement now taking place in the fallen churches of the East, and among the Roman Catholics of Ireland; and the thirst of multitudes in heathen lands for the word of God; should open the hearts and awaken the minds of Christians at home to more earnest resolve to occupy, without delay, the fields which are now white unto the harvest.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued: The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made, by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence, of his qualifications; and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next Meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least Three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a Special Meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot, to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. That all questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between any Colonial Bishop and any Committee of the Society, shall be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the United Church of England and Ireland, whose decision thereupon shall be final.

XXXIII. That the object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as, in any other respect, to alter the principles and practice of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations, and explained in Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Report.

The proposed reference shall be made, through His Grace the Primate, by the Committee, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the Committee may deem advisable; and the Committee will be bound so to refer all questions, falling within the scope of the Rule so understood as aforesaid, which the Colonial Bishop shall require them to refer.

While all decisions of the Bench of Bishops on questions so referred will be considered by the Committee as binding on them and their agents or representatives, the Colonial Bishops or other Ecclesiastical Authorities, unless concurring in the reference, cannot properly be considered as so bound.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The following passage, from Appendix II. to the Thirty-ninth Annual Report, illustrates the practice of the Society in reference to this Rule:—

"The Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] our Missionaries—these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same Colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church."

APPENDIX II. TO THE THIRTY-NINTH REPORT.

REFERRED TO IN THE NOTE TO LAW XXIX.

REMARKS ON THE CONSTITUTION AND PRACTICE OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, WITH REFERENCE TO ITS ECCLESIASTICAL RELATIONS.

It is the object of the following Remarks to show, that the constitution and practice of the Church Missionary Society are in strict conformity with Ecclesiastical principles, as they are recognised in the constitution and practice of the Church of England.

Throughout the system of the Church of England there is a recognised co-operation of temporal and spiritual functions in MATTERS ECCLESIASTICAL; that is, the Laity and Clergy have not only their separate and distinct provinces, but, in many important respects, they unite their agency for the accomplishing of Ecclesiastical acts.

For instance, in supplying a vacant Church, a Lay-Patron selects and presents "his Clerk"—as the Clergyman is technically called—to the Bishop; who thereupon invests him with authority to minister in that Church. So, also, there are certain Lay-officers appointed to every Church—the Churchwardens or Sidesmen—whose duty it is, not only to guard, in conjunction with the Minister, the temporalities of the Church, but also to watch over the due performance of Divine Service, the morals of the parishioners, and the conduct of the Minister; and to report, from time to time, on each of these matters, to the Ecclesiastical Authorities. The duty of these officers is implied in the old appellation, "Sidesmen," or "Synodsmen"—men summoned to attend and give information at Synods and Visitations.

The distinction and co-operation of lay and spiritual functions in the Church of England might be further illustrated in the case of Ecclesiastical Courts, and various relations which arise out of the principle, that the Sovereign is the Supreme Ruler of the Church.

Keeping the foregoing distinction in view, the Church Missionary Society may be regarded as an Institution for discharging the temporal and lay offices necessary for the preaching of the Gospel among the Heathen. It is strictly a Lay Institution: it exercises, as a Society, no spiritual functions whatsoever.

Such being the constitution of the Society in theory—are its proceedings conducted in conformity with this theory, and with the Ecclesiastical principles of the Church of England?

In order to review these proceedings, they may be conveniently arranged under the Four following Heads:

I. THE COLLECTION OF THE HOME REVENUE, and THE DISBURSEMENT OF IT ABROAD.

These acts are altogether within the province of Laymen.

II. THE SELECTING AND EDUCATING CANDIDATES FOR MISSIONARY EMPLOYMENT.

In this department there is no necessary encroachments upon spiritual functions. The Colleges in our Universities are Lay-Corporations, and may, in many cases, be administered and presided over by Laymen.

Yet it may be urged, that in this department there is an approach to the peculiar province of Clergymen; because spiritual persons seem the more proper judges of a Candidate's fitness for Missionary employment: and it is generally admitted, that a Bishop may exercise a control over the education and training of Candidates to be advanced by himself to Holy Orders. Now, in both these particulars the Church Missionary Society has carefully guarded its proceedings. The examination of Missionary Candidates is referred to a Clerical Sub-Committee; and the General Committee consult and act upon the report of this Clerical trial and judgment. In respect of the other point, the education and training of Candidates for Holy Orders, the Church Missionary College at Islington has the sanction and approbation of the Bishop of London; who, in this country, admits to Holy Orders all the Society's Candidates: and his Lordship has repeatedly expressed his satisfaction at the results of the system of instruction, as they have been manifested in his examinations for Holy Orders.

III. The Third general head of the Society's proceedings is, THE SENDING FORTH, TO PARTICULAR STATIONS, THE MISSIONARIES THUS ORDAINED, OR OTHER CLERGYMEN WHO HAVE BEEN PREVIOUSLY ORDAINED.

Now, here an objection against the Society has been founded on the use of the term "sending forth:"—it sounds like an exercise of Ecclesiastical power. But, Ecclesiastically speaking, the Bishop of London "sends forth" every Missionary ordained by him. The Law of the land has sanctioned the Two Archbishops, and the Bishop of London, in ordaining persons to officiate abroad. The Secretary of the Church Missionary Society requests, by Letter, the Bishop of London to ordain, in conformity with the provisions of the Act of Parliament, such and such persons, whom the Society is willing to support in some Foreign Station. The Bishop, by the imposition of hands, gives them authority to preach the Gospel, with a view to their Foreign location.—In the case of persons already in Holy Orders, who may join the Society, they may be said to go forth by their own voluntary act; but their Letters of Orders, given by a Bishop of our Church, are their mission and commission, Ecclesiastically speaking.

Hence, to call the acts of the Church Missionary Society—in selecting the station, paying the passage-money, and agreeing to provide the Missionary's salary—to call these acts a SENDING FORTH of Preachers, in an Ecclesiastical sense, is to confound names with things, and to lose sight of all true Church principles.

IV. The Fourth general head under which the proceedings of the Church Missionary Society may be arranged, is, THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF MISSIONARIES IN THEIR LABOURS AMONG THE HEATHEN.

Here a distinction must be made between the case of those Foreign Stations which lie within the jurisdiction of a Colonial Bishop, and other stations, which are not so situated, and may therefore be termed Extra-diocesan.

In the first case, the Church Missionary Society has expressly determined, that all its ordained Missionaries shall be submitted for licence to the Bishop of the diocese in which they may be stationed; and that no Missionary shall exercise his spiritual functions in such diocese without a licence. The Society has further recognised the uncontrolled discretion of the Bishop to grant or withhold his licence, and the propriety of specifying in such licence a particular district as the field of labour; so that a Missionary cannot be removed from one district to another without the sanction of the Bishop.

These principles were stated in a Letter from the Society to the Bishop of Calcutta, signed by the Right Honourable the President—December 17, 1835—in a manner so satisfactory to the Bishop, that he embodied them in the four following Rules, expressed for the most part in the words of the Society's Letter: which were, at the Bishop's request, entered upon the minutes of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, as the recognised Rules of their practice:—

"1. The Bishop expresses—by granting or withholding his licence, in which the sphere of the Missionary's labour is mentioned—his approbation or otherwise, of that location.

"2. The Bishop superintends the Missionaries afterward, as the other Clergy, in the discharge of their Ecclesiastical duties.

"3. The Bishop receives from those—the Committee and Secretary—who still stand in the relation of Lay-Patrons to the Missionary, such communications respecting his Ecclesiastical duties as may enable the Bishop to discharge that paternal superintendence to the best advantage.—The Archdeacon of Calcutta or Bombay acting under the Bishop's immediate directions when he happens to be absent.

"4. If the Bishop* or Archdeacon fills, at the request of the Society, the offices of Patron, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, &c., he receives, further, all such confidential information, on all topics, as the Bishops officially neither could wish nor properly ask [to receive]."

The Bishop also wrote to the Parent Society in the following terms:—"You seem to me to lay down the principle most correctly. . . . This is to me perfectly satisfactory; as I shall instantly inform the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom I report all the proceedings of the diocese."—9th June 1836.

It will be perceived, that the Missionaries, thus licensed, stand toward the Bishop in the relation rather of Stipendiary Curates, than of Beneficed Clergymen. For a Bishop in England cannot refuse a licence or institution to a benefice, without assigning a reason which will bear investigation before a Court of Common Law; nor can he deprive a Clergyman of his benefice without a judicial process. But no law has provided any such check in the case of Missionaries: the Bishop has the power of withholding a licence, or of withdrawing it, at his sole discretion, without assigning any cause, as in the case of Stipendiary Curates in this country.

If it be asked, What are the checks and safeguards against the undue exercise of this discretionary power of the Bishop?—it may be replied, in the words of the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Parent Society, April 12, 1837:—

"We are not to take for granted, that discretionary power will be abused; but, on the contrary, to provide, by a cheerful and friendly spirit and conduct, against the likelihood of such an occurrence. If the event of arbitrary conduct should arise, or be supposed to arise, the remedies are—public opinion—an appeal to the Archbishop—and the Society's refusing to make other appointments and locations than those unreasonably objected to. Nothing is the least likely—and probability is the guide of life—to arise to impede or cramp the Committee; since they unquestionably and avowedly possess, The choice of men.—The appointment of spheres of labour.—The temporal power, including pecuniary support."

But though the Bishop's licence is at once the pledge and proof that the Society's Missionaries are under Episcopal superintendence and jurisdiction, and that the spiritual oversight rests altogether with the Bishop; yet the Society may seem, to some persons, to keep up a kind of spiritual jurisdiction and oversight, by requiring accounts from the Missionaries of all their proceedings, and by giving them directions, from time to time, which may bear upon their spiritual duties. But it must be remembered, that the Society stands toward its Missionaries in the relation of Trustees of the fund out of which their salaries are paid. In the case of a Beneficed Clergyman in this country, the Minister is the guardian and possessor of the temporalities of the benefice, because the benefice is an endowment; and the Patron has no further connexion with the Minister whom he has once presented to the Bishop. In our case, the office of Patron is, in a sense, perpetuated by the payment of the salary, and the possession of all the temporalities of the Mission.

This matter has been well explained by the Bishop of Calcutta, in a Letter to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee, May 26, 1837:—"The Missionary Committees," says his Lordship, "have a far greater latitude in India than any Lay-Patrons at home. Upon presenting his Clerk to the Bishop, the Patron at home is functus officio. The Clergyman is removed, on being once instituted and licensed, totally and for ever from the Patron, and is transferred to the superintendency of the Bishop. The Patron has nothing whatever more to do with him. But in India, the Committee is (1) the continued paymaster of the Missionary after he is duly licensed;—for institution and induction there are none. (2) They correspond with him. (3) They supply him with Catechists. (4) They report his chief proceedings home. (5) They propose removals and changes of Station to the Bishop. (6) They exercise, unavoidably, an influence which does not belong to the mere Lay-Patron; and are aiding, in a variety of ways, to the comfortable and honourable discharge of the Missionary's most exalted and most spiritual duties."

It remains to consider the case of those Stations which are Extra-diocesan; i.e. where there is no Colonial Bishop of the Church of England having jurisdiction over them.

In these cases, the Society has endeavoured to procure for such Stations the benefits of the Episcopal office from the nearest Bishop of the Church of England. Application was made by the Committee both to the late and to the present Bishop of Madras, to extend, as far as circumstances would admit, these benefits to the Mission in Travancore; which, as an independent state, not forming a part of the British Dominions, was not included in the diocese of Madras. A similar application was made on behalf of the New-Zealand Mission, to the Bishop of Australia; who at once acceded to the request, and kindly promised to visit New Zealand as soon as his other duties would permit; stating, in a Letter to the Society's representatives at Sydney, "It is highly satisfactory to me, that our friends at home are taking a view of these things which proves them to belong, not only to a MISSIONARY, but also to a CHURCH Society." (See Annual Report, 1838.)

Such is a General View of the Constitution and Proceedings of the Church Missionary Society.

It is not intended to assert, that errors are not sometimes committed in the application of these principles to matters of detail. It must be remembered that Missionary operations are, alas! new and anomalous in the system of the Church of England; and that it is not always easy to draw a definite line between the two provinces which belong respectively to the Bishop and the Committee. It has been observed by the Bishop of Calcutta—Letter, May 26, 1837:—"The boundaries of the power of Committees, as they approach to those of the Bishop, can be ascertained, in many points, only by time and observation." Perplexities have consequently occurred; and, unhappily, misunderstandings have sometimes arisen between the Representatives of the Society abroad and Ecclesiastical Authorities. But these are the principles by which the Home Committee have endeavoured to guide the proceedings of the Society: and they confidently respond to a sentiment expressed by the Bishop of Calcutta—"The principles of our new relations are now fully recognised: the details will soon find their level."—Letter, 9th June 1836.

In reviewing the Ecclesiastical relations of the Church Missionary Society, there are two or three points which it seems very important to notice.

1. Missionary operations, as they are conducted by the Church Missionary Society, though apparently anomalous in the system of the Church of England, are yet in strict conformity with its constitution and principles: they are analogous to many other instances of voluntary exertion for the extension of true religion within the Church, in which Ecclesiastical authority and Lay co-operation unite for the accomplishment of the same end: so that these operations may be regarded as the acts of the Church of England, putting forth its energy for the Conversion of the Heathen World. For it has been shown, that the Bishops of the Church, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth our Missionaries—that these Missionaries are licensed and superintended abroad, in every case where it is practicable, by Colonial Bishops of the Church of England; as are the other Clergymen of the Church officiating in the same colony. The Services which the Missionaries perform are in strict conformity with the Ritual and Discipline of the Church. Even in the few cases in which Lutheran Clergymen are employed, this rule is observed; and all the congregations which are gathered into the fold of Christ are trained up as Members of the Church established in this land.

And here it may be observed, that nothing less than the sanction of a duly-assembled Convocation can more fully identify the acts of any Missionary Society, within the Church of England, with the Church.* Without such sanction, all associations of Churchmen must stand in the same position. Still further, not to notice the present abeyance of Convocations, it may be asserted, that even if the Church were to assemble in her provincial Convocations, and to decree and to regulate Missionary operations, such proceedings could not essentially add to, or alter, those important particulars which, under present circumstances, entitle the operations of the Church Missionary Society to be regarded as Missionary operations of the United Church of England and Ireland.

2. It must be ever borne in mind, that Missionary operations are, in their very nature, temporary and preparative;—that they are to be gradually but eventually superseded by a different order of things, when the Heathen Nations shall have become Christianized. In some cases, as in the West Indies, this change is further advanced than in others. Now, it must be expected, that, in proportion as this change advances, difficulties and perplexities will arise in our Ecclesiastical relations, peculiar to this TRANSITION STATE—from Missionary operations, to that happy consummation when there shall be an endowed and established system of Christian Instruction, and a territorial division of Ministerial labour.

* The American Episcopal Church has, in Convention, thus identified itself with a Missionary Society.

February 1839.

This consummation the Church Missionary Society has ever kept in view, and devoutly desired; and, as far as possible, has prepared for its approach. In an interview with the Bishop of Barbados—April 1835—this point was expressly alluded to; and it was stated by the Committee to his Lordship, "that whenever a district should be brought into the state of an organized Christian community, it should assume entirely the Parochial form, and cease to be occupied as a Missionary Station.—The Bishop entirely acquiesced in this view; and only expressed his anxiety that it should not be so acted upon as prematurely to deprive a district of the Missionary's services."—(Extracts from Committee's Minute.)

3. Lastly, it must be evident, from a review of the whole subject, that our Ecclesiastical relations depend, in many important respects, upon a mutual confidence and good understanding between the Committee and its representatives, and the Ecclesiastical Authorities both at home and abroad. This must be the case, to argue upon no higher grounds, while those relations are governed by Ecclesiastical laws and canons made without reference to Missionary operations, for an Established Church in a Christian country; and where so much is also necessarily left to the discretion of both parties. If we look to our Home operations, the Committee places confidence in the Bishop of London, that he will continue to ordain the Missionary Candidates introduced to his Lordship by the Society, according to the provisions of the Act: and the Lord Bishop of London relies upon the Committee's using every means to select, train, and duly qualify proper Candidates to be thus introduced to him.

So also, in its Foreign operations, the Society places confidence in the Colonial Bishops—as it has been already shown, in a quotation from the Letter of Bishop Wilson—that they will not exercise an unreasonable or arbitrary discretion, in withholding or withdrawing licences from our Missionaries, or in refusing ordination to our Candidates. And the Bishops, by granting licences and ordination to the Missionaries of a voluntary Society, whose income is liable to fluctuations, and whose agents are constantly changing, manifestly place confidence in the Committees, that they will use every endeavour to keep up the Missions once established; and that they will not, on their part, act in an unreasonable or arbitrary manner, or withdraw the salary from a licensed Missionary, without reason sufficient to prove to the licensing Bishop the necessity of the proceeding.

It seems impossible to supersede this conventional understanding—as it may be termed—till Missions are supported by endowments, or till a code of Missionary canons be established by competent authority.

This mutual confidence and good understanding now exists, it may be thankfully asserted, between the Committee of the Society and the Ecclesiastical Authorities of every Colonial Diocese in which Missionaries are labouring. And may He, who is the God, not of confusion, but of peace, and "the great Shepherd and Bishop of Souls," unite together the hearts and hands of those who are labouring in this Holy Cause—"that all and every of these may, IN THEIR SEVERAL CALLINGS, serve truly and painfully, to the glory of His name!"

JOHN XII. 32.

“I, IF I BE LIFTED UP FROM THE EARTH, WILL DRAW ALL MEN UNTO ME.”

“THIS day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears.”

These words were spoken in far-distant Palestine. England was at that time a proverb in the mouth of the courtly Roman for the furthest outpost of the earth—the Patagonia of the world. Some blessed hands brought into this then barbarous land the great magnet of human souls. It has long been held up among us; and the hundreds here met to-night, and the thousands who shall assemble to-morrow, and the myriads in almost every quarter of the earth who will be with us in spirit, are witnesses of His truth who spake these words, and His power who has given us the great instalment, which assures us that the whole vast treasure of covenanted blessing will, in His own good time, be poured out upon the world. “The Lord hasten it in His time!”

Our text gives us three subjects for meditation—

I. THE SPEAKER.

II. THE THING TO BE DONE.

III. THE RESULT TO FOLLOW.

We will consider each of these; and may the Spirit of Truth guide us into all the truth of this text, and the Spirit of Love and Power apply that truth to all our hearts, drawing those who may not yet have been drawn, and drawing those nearer and closer who have known already the power of this great and only magnet of the soul!

I. Let us see who is THE SPEAKER OF THESE WORDS.

In outward appearance, He was a Jew of the better class of the lower orders. Of his character of countenance we have no record : if we had seen Him, there would have been "no beauty that we should desire Him." Yet was He the lineal descendant of the royal David, though His supposed father was but a carpenter, and He Himself, probably, had worked at that trade. Circumstances of strange and mysterious character had attended His birth. An angel had appeared to His mother—a young maiden engaged to be married to a good man, also of the family of David—and had told her that "the Holy Ghost should come upon her, and the power of the Highest should overshadow her;" that she should conceive and bring forth a son; and that "that Holy Thing which should be born of her should be called the Son of God." The prophets of Israel had said the same, a thousand years before. One, that "the Lord had created a new thing in the earth, A woman should compass a man;" another, that "a virgin should conceive, and bear a son, and should call his name Immanuel"—God with us. And God Himself had said the same, four thousand years before, when, as the first man and woman stood before Him as trembling criminals, He said that "the seed of the woman should bruise the serpent's head."

The night on which He was born, when His mother and her good and gentle husband were with the new-born babe in the stable of the inn of Bethlehem, some shepherds came to see the child and worship Him. They said, that, while watching their flocks in the dark and silent night, a sudden blaze of glory had burst upon them. As their hearts almost died within them, they saw a form of glory and beauty in the air above them, who, in gentle tones, told them not to be afraid, for that he brought them good news—that that very day their long-expected Saviour was born; and that if they went to Bethlehem they would see Him—a little babe, wrapped in His swathing bands and "lying in a manger." They said that the glorious messenger of God had no sooner told them this, than in an instant the air and heaven were alive with forms of glory, flashing out like sparkles high above and far, far around, who made the midnight air ring with this song—"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

At another time, some noble strangers from the far-distant East came with a train of servants, with camels laden with golden jewels and precious spices, to see this child. When they were in their own country, beyond the sunrise, they had seen a strange star in the western sky, and were led to know that that star indicated the birth of that "King of the Jews"—that great Person, whom not only the Jews, but many in other nations, expected to arise. That star had moved before them in their journey. They reached Jerusalem, and it vanished. They asked in the streets and lanes of the city where the new-born King of the Jews was, but none knew. At last the jealous Herod, determined to find out where this strange child was, and to destroy Him, called together the great scholars of the nation, and asked where their ancient inspired writings said that the anointed of God, whom they expected, should be born. Without any hesitation they said, "In Beth-lehem Ephratah." These strangers, as soon as they heard this, set off for Bethlehem; and had scarcely left the city when the star appeared again, and, moving on before them, stood directly pointing down upon the house where this young child was.

Of His early life we know next to nothing. One single fact has been told us, which showed that the Child claimed God's House, the Temple, as His Father's house: he wondered that, when His friends missed Him, they should even think of asking where He was, and should not at once know that He would be found in His Father's house, and about His Father's work.

Of His early education we know nothing, except that He had "never learned;" and yet, when, at thirty years of age, He left the retirement and the privacy of His supposed father's house, He came forth such a teacher as the world never saw, drawing vast crowds of all ranks to hear Him—His language so plain and simple, that the common people could all understand Him; His illustrative stories so deeply interesting, that men "hung upon His lips;" so deep in meaning, that the greatest scholars of the nation could not sound them; so apt, that they fitted the case He meant to touch as clay fits the seal; spoken with such mild authority, that men felt an influence which they were unwilling to confess; and accompanied with such a power as made the very officers, sent to bring Him as a prisoner, rapt and rivetted listeners, and caused them to return to those who sent them without a word to say but this, "Never man spake like this man." A bold, fearless, and unsparing exposé of the hollow-hearted hypocrite, so that human language never exceeded the intense severity of His awful denunciations; yet so gentle and tender-hearted, so full of compassion for the worst and most degraded, that the despised publican and the fallen female crowded round Him, to be won away from sin, and cheered by the hope of pardon. So meek in temper, that never in all His life was He once provoked to speak unadvisedly. No flattery ever threw Him off His guard, nor any "contradiction of sinners" irritated Him—whether it was the open or dissembled malice of His many enemies, or the constant mistakes, disputes, and prejudice of His friends. No angry, hasty, or unkind word ever fell from Him. He lived for others. He "pleased not Himself." Day and night there was but one object before Him—to "go about doing good" to the bodies and souls of men. Such a character the world never saw: it was altogether unlike any thing which had ever existed before. No man could have imagined such a character: they who have left us sketches of it—so like each other, though taken from such different positions—must have drawn from the original.

But the things He did were as wonderful as the things He said. Wherever He went His presence turned streets and lanes—yes, and the very fields—into hospitals and infirmaries. Men might be seen carrying out their sick and afflicted friends and neighbours, and laying them along where He was to pass. The pale, wasted, helpless paralytic, stretched utterly powerless upon his couch, as he lifted his languid eye, and heard Him say, "Take up thy bed, and walk," felt those unstrung limbs recover power, and rose a hale and strong man. The poor blind beggar by the roadside, as they led him by the hand near Him, stood with his eyeless sockets turned towards His face, whose gentle voice he could hear asking, "What do you wish me to do?" And as He spoke the words, "Receive thy sight," that marvellous apparatus of nerves, and lenses, and fluids, and muscles, and blood-vessels, was formed in an instant, the sweet light broke in upon the new-born eye, and he looked upon his Benefactor. There lies on the bed the honoured and cherished mother of one of His disciples' wives. A violent fever has prostrated her. They ask Him to go and see her. He approaches the bed, takes the hot, dry hand of the patient in His own—the violent, jerking pulse sinks into the calmness of health; the giddy, whirling brain is quiet in a moment; the weak, relaxed limbs recover strength; and she who could not lift her hand to her own head an hour ago, is now waiting on her Physician.

See this group of mourners. These women are sisters, who have lost their much-loved and only brother. We can feel why they should weep. And these are friends who have come to comfort, because they feel for them, and this makes their tears flow. And He, too, is weeping, as all are weeping round Him. In that cave is the corpse: it has been dead four days: putrefaction must have begun. He orders some to take the stone away—looks up to heaven—"Father, I thank Thee that Thou hast heard me. And I knew that Thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that Thou hast sent me." Then, in a loud, clear voice, He calls, "Lazarus, come forth." And that body, which a moment before was mouldering within that cave, lives ; that heart, which was still, is beating ; that blood, which was dried up, is flowing through the veins ; those eyes, which were sunk and glazed, are now beaming with life ; and that soul, which had fled to its far distant resting-place, has returned, at His bidding, quicker than the lightning, quick as the twinkling of an eye, into her body again.

Here is a fishing-boat in a storm ; a sudden squall has rushed down the hills and burst on the sea of Galilee ; the waves are breaking into the boat. He is fast asleep, wearied with preaching in the open air, resting on a hard fisherman's pillow in the stern. The hardy fishermen see their boat filling—they fear it will sink, yet HE sleeps on. They wake Him. He rises ; speaks to the gusty winds and the foaming waves, as a man would speak to his dog—"Peace, be still." And the winds drop, the waves sink, the storm is over. It is a deep calm.

Such things as these did that Man do in every quarter of Palestine—not in a corner, but before many witnesses. A few only of these wonders have come down to us, chosen out of such a mass, that if all were written "the world itself" would scarcely hold the books.

Who was this Being, whose birth was so wonderful, whose words were so passing wise, whose works were so astounding ? Was He MAN ? He was born, swathed, nourished, grew, learned, spoke, hungered, thirsted, was weary, wept, rejoiced, was grieved, angry.

Was He NO MORE THAN MAN ? Can man, by his own mere word, make deafness hear, blindness see, fever flee, palsy walk, leprosy be clean, death live, and multiply a lad's meal into a feast for thousands ? Can man know the thoughts, see what passes at a distance, "know all that is coming upon him," command the elements, and make diseases and devils do his bidding as readily as the officer commands his soldiers or his servants ? These things belong only to God. And He who spake the words of our text is God—the Word, "by whom all things were made"—the eternal Son of God ; who was born as a man, lived as a man, walked this earth as a man—THE GOD-MAN—CHRIST JESUS.

This is "the Speaker."

II. He spoke of A THING TO BE DONE. "I, if I be LIFTED UP."

1. He knew what death He should die. When human malice and fiendish subtlety invented that mode of death by which the greatest possible amount of agony and pain should be inflicted on the sufferer, and yet the vitals not be touched, so that life should ebb away, drop by drop, in protracted suffering—HE knew that by that death HE should die, who, though above all angels, worshipped by all angels, yet would make Himself “a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death.”

Before His advent, when the last of His martyred prophets was stoned to death—when stone upon stone was rained upon his bruised body till the spirit, violently driven out, fled—He knew that no Jewish hands should thus put Him to death, though Jewish malice should murder Him; He knew that the sceptre should have departed from Judah; that “the heathen should rule over them;” and that by the same death by which they destroyed their own slaves would the Romans destroy Him. And by that death has He died, and changed that instrument of death, by which He died, from the very synonyme for disgrace and degradation into the symbol of honour, and the topmost jewel of the crowns of “the kings of the earth.” On that tree of the curse has He been “lifted up” between heaven and earth, wearing for His crown the thorns of the curse, for His garments the nakedness of the curse, and on his sinless soul and body the whole weight of sin, the whole curse of sin, the whole wrath for sin.

On His guiltless and holy head did God “LAY the iniquity of us all.” On Him, “the Lamb of God,” who should “take away the sin of the world,” was the world’s sin placed. He is “the Lamb” which “God provided Himself for a burnt-offering.” Created by the direct power of God Himself, having “a body prepared for Him,” and, “by the eternal Spirit,” who created that body, “offered without spot to God,” He was yet “made sin,” because all sin was put to His account. He had written with His own hand in the eternal covenant of grace, “Whatever man owes, put to my account. I will pay it.” Man’s iniquities were therefore imputed to Him, who had undertaken man’s debt. He hung upon the cross with that which He hates, made so entirely His own that He called them “His iniquities.” “The storm and tempest” of Divine wrath, that must and would have broken on our guilty heads, was drawn off on Him, and by Him, who was “lifted up”—the great Conductor—to save the whole house; and the lightnings, that would have burnt up the world, played round His cross, and would have destroyed the Man, if the indwelling Godhead had not sustained the manhood. The plates of metal saved the altar of wood from being consumed. “The cup of trembling,” which we must have wrung out to the very dregs, He emptied. By His death He “made an end of sin,” because He exhausted the punishment of sin. Penal suffering for sin is at an end to the believer. Eternal justice requires no further satisfaction. When Christ said, "It is finished," God said, "It is enough." All that man deserved to suffer was suffered by man. Law is honoured; its demands have been fully met; and there is no sin for which atonement, "full, perfect, and sufficient," has not been made.

Thus was He "lifted up."

2. And it is the great object of all preaching still to "lift Him up." The Christian preacher's one chief subject is "Christ CRUCIFIED." Like Paul, he would "evidently set forth Jesus Christ CRUCIFIED" before the mind's eye of his hearers. (Gal. iii. 1.) As in a lively picture (προεγραφή), so would he, by vivid realization, place his hearers on Calvary, show them the cross, and Him who died thereon. He "determines not to know any thing save Jesus Christ, and Him CRUCIFIED." He glories in nothing but the cross of Christ. He knows, indeed, that "the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto them which are saved it is Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God." He knows, and is sure, that he is as much commissioned to lift up Christ to a world of sin-stung rebels, as Moses was to lift up the serpent to those who were dying of the fiery serpent's bite. And he does so, surely relying on the promise, that whoever looks shall live.

And this leads us to the third point suggested in our text, viz. THE RESULT.

III. "I will DRAW ALL MEN UNTO ME."

What! the story of one crucified as a malefactor draw all men! What power can there be in this?" says the modern infidel—"the scoffer walking after his own lusts" (for sin often makes and keeps men infidels). "What! a piece of brass cure! Will it heal a living serpent's bite to look at a brazen serpent's image?" might the Jewish infidel have also said. And yet, as many as were bitten, when they looked at the serpent of brass, lived; and every one that has ever looked, with the opened eye of simple trust in God's promises, on the crucified Saviour, has lived too. "The story of the cross" (ὁ λόγος ὁ τοῦ σταυροῦ, 1 Cor. ii.) has "a power" which nothing else has ever exercised upon the mind and heart. Men, whose hearts were as a block of ice, cold, hard, dead, have felt that ice begin to melt by a strange influence as they gazed on the cross, till they dissolved in tenderness of sorrow and love. "As wax melteth before the fire," so has many an ungodly heart at the story of the cross.

The mighty globe that "draws" the waters of this earth—that makes the obedient ocean still turn towards it as this earth wheels round—does not more surely draw those waters, than Christ crucified does the soul of man. The mighty sun does not more surely draw those worlds that circle round it, than does Christ every believing soul. And as even the wandering comet in its eccentric orbit feels, at its furthest distance, the power of its great attraction, so does that soul, whose path seems quite its own, feel the attraction of the great central power. Eighteen hundred years have tested this mighty Magnet, and proved its force, but not weakened it. It has been "lifted up" before the eyes of almost every nation under heaven; and men of every nation under heaven have felt its mysterious might. It was raised in meretricious Corinth, and it "DREW much people in that city." Souls, blotted by every darkest stain that ever blackened our poor fallen nature, were drawn out of their pit of corruption by it. It was raised in superstitious, newsmongering, philosophic Athens, and it drew some of the great and noble from their idol altars, their false philosophy, and their "hearing and telling" perpetual novelties, to God. It was raised in Macedonian Philippi, and it drew as well the gentle woman as the hard Roman jailor, whose heart was hard as his own prison walls, barred as his own massive iron doors, and cold as his own inner dungeon.

It was "lifted up" in imperial Rome, and there it drew, not only the poor despised sand-digger of the catacombs, but the cup-bearer, as he stood by the imperial monster's side; the concubine, who shared such love as Nero could give; and the nobles of "Cæsar's household," the exalted servants of the master of the world.

It was lifted up in swarthy Nubia, and dark Egypt, and along the northern shores of Africa, and it drew the hearts that beat under those dark skins, filling them with new and heavenly affections. The Jew felt his deep-rooted prejudices and national expectation drop away, as he gazed on Him who died for him. The heathen "turned from his dumb idols" as that Power drew him "to serve the living and true God." The eyes of millions, whose dust now strews the earth, but whose spirits are safely housed, have been fixed on that cross; and He who drew them to Himself gave them grace to trust Him—grace to copy Him—grace to glorify Him in life and death. The imprisoned confessor has felt his soul filled with overflowing joy, that could find no vent but hymns of praise as he looked to Him. The dying martyr, as the stones rained thick and fast upon his bruised and bleeding body, has risen above his pains as he saw HIM ready to receive his spirit.

The fire has lost its terrors, the axe its edge, the array of death and torture its horrors, as the soul was drawn to HIM.

And as He changes not who said these words—as He is “the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever”—so does every day bear witness to the truth of this assurance in our text; and the records of Missions are a running commentary.

The Red Indian—that hard, iron man, trained from his earliest youth to bear pain without even one quivering muscle betraying the intenseness of the agony—that stern warrior, who left tears for babes and women—as he heard “the story of the cross,” as he sat on the ground, his head resting on his hand, his eyes fixed on the face of the meek apostle of his race, as he heard of God’s unutterable LOVE, felt his heart swelling with strange emotion, and, unable any longer to control the rising flood of feeling, buried his face in his hands, and sobbed and wept as if his heart would break. The Greenlander, cold as his own icebergs, and immoveable as his own icebound coast, into whose heart the terrors of the law could no more drive an entrance than the iron weapon could into his own deeply-frozen ground, yet, when CHRIST was at last “LIFTED UP,” began to thaw, as the iceberg in the sun, till the cold stillness of wintry death was changed into the warm summer of the living soul by that Sun that then rose, never to set again. The dark savage, who could tread, without one thrill of feeling, on the earth that covered the palpitating body of his own little one—who could steal, with serpent-like stillness, behind the unsuspecting victim, and, at one crushing blow, lay his fellow-man a bleeding corpse upon the ground—who could feast upon the horrid food of human flesh—even that fierce man of blood, that unnatural parent, that fiend in human shape (as he would have seemed), heard the story of the cross; and, as he heard it, strange thoughts of guilt, of murdered children, and slaughtered enemies, and unnatural feasts—a strange melting sense of heavenly pity—new thoughts of God—broke in, like straggling crossing rays of light, upon his darkened soul: the savage dropped his weapons, and wept as a little child. The poor Palmyra-climbers of Tinnevely, whose narrow intellect seemed incapable of taking in more than one idea; the Brahmin, whose quick and ready subtlety might match even Jesuit craftiness; have alike felt the drawing power of the Saviour; and, while the narrow and straitened mind of the one has been gently opened by the expansive power that then entered it, the other dropped his subtlety, while he held his acuteness, and learnt the simplicity of divine truth.

And if we could look into ANY ONE HEART which has thus been "drawn," we should there see that work in epitome which the history of the Christian Church, and the records of this Society, place before us in something of its width and fullness. Every Christian heart is a little Calvary. Christ's cross is erected there. The body of sin is dying on one side—dying hard, with pain, with resistance, with its native hatred of truth and holiness—while the other, a better nature, the happy recipient of the gift of faith, the blessed possessor of "repentance unto life," and the joyful proprietor of a hope that maketh not ashamed, is waiting for the hour of its release, to walk at large and free with Christ in paradise. That heart looks on the world as the crucified man would from his cross. The world is "crucified to him." What can its pleasures, its honours, its ruling objects, do for him who is a dying man? And the world in its turn looks on him as a dead man already. On that cross are nailed and dying the angry passions, the selfish dispositions, the corrupt affections, of the man. They may writhe there, struggle, wish to be released; but He who fastened them there will drive the nails home by fresh strokes; and sin shall not come down till it is dead: it shall only quit the cross for the grave. Yet is that heart also the place "where Christ liveth." There Christ walks, and "meets those who work righteousness, and remember Him in their ways." There He "opens to them the Scriptures." There, in the inner chamber, He "reveals Himself as He does not unto the world." There His features are seen, and marked, and studied, till the very soul of the Christian is filled with His image, and catches, by His transforming spirit, the faint reflection and impressive lineaments of His glorious likeness.

Thus does He, who was lifted up on the cross, and is lifted up still in "the preaching of the cross," draw and draw the man from self and sin, till He shall draw both body and soul to heaven.

This great Society has one object, and only one—to draw souls to Christ. It employs the only instrument than can thus draw them—the lifting up of Christ. It aims not to add numbers to its own lists, but "names that are written in heaven." It aims at extending that branch of the Church to which its members rejoice to belong, by gathering in those who shall be found in "the Church of the first-born." It would choose as its agents, not so much the eloquent orator, not the subtle disputant, not the profound scholar, but "the man of God," who has "tasted that the Lord is gracious;" who, having himself "received mercy," will not faint in his efforts to proclaim the glad tidings of that mercy, and whose one, reigning, absorbing wish is, that "Christ may be magnified in him, whether by life or death;" the man who, though he may partake (as many of its Missionaries have) of the eloquence of Paul, of his logical accuracy of argument, of his powers of close analysis, of his deep knowledge of God's word, and his mighty grasp of mind, yet has laid it all down before the Cross, and received it back WITH THE CROSS MARKED FULL, AND CLEAR, AND BROAD UPON IT, determined that, as all comes from Christ, all shall lead back to Him. It chooses the man, not whose aim is merely to oppose error, but to spread that truth before which error cannot stand; the man who, because he loves Christ, lives Christ as well as preaches Christ, and who desires to be "an ensample of the believers," who may safely follow him because he surely follows Christ.

Such is the AIM of this Society, such the AGENTS it seeks to have.

Its outposts are in the wide earth; but many a nation lies beyond who might be gained, many a tribe of perishing fellow-men who might be drawn.

It wants the men for the work, for God HAS made ready the work for the men.

The faithful God has heard the prayers which He encouraged His people to offer, and taught them, by His Spirit within them, to pray. Not in vain have so many companies of believers, at our blessed Missionary meetings, lifted up their hearts together as one man; not in vain have so many, in their own individual approaches to the throne of grace, pleaded for the perishing heathen. Have the seed of praying, wrestling Jacob ever sought His face in vain? The wide fields are white unto harvest. It is not a solitary man, the pleader for his own people, that we see standing before us: it is mighty nations, and the vast tribes and races of earth, whose voice we hear across the waters, "Come over, and help us." God has given to the heathen, almost as a man, a longing desire to hear the good news which we have to tell them. It would seem as if the day were near when "the eyes of man (of the whole race) shall be towards the Lord." And the same God, who has given the heathen this desire to hear, and has brought such vast masses of them into the closest political connexion with our own nation, has given to the church of this nation the glorious privilege of leading the van in that march of mercy, in which all our Christian brethren, with holy zeal and strife of love, are pressing onwards. Shall we, as a church, be wanting in this hour? When Wellington asked a few volunteers for a storming party, the whole detachment moved forward as one man. Shall the Captain of our salvation in vain ask our church, with its 15,000 clergy perhaps, for forty men—not to push on as the forlorn hope to storm the towers, nor even to break the dangerous ground within reach of the enemy's shot, but to occupy posts which veteran soldiers of the cross have carried, and held, and secured, and so enable them, with their experience and knowledge, and command of languages and resources, and climatised constitutions, to push forward and onward, and to win the land beyond?

The Son of God asks you—each soldier of this detachment of His great army—"CANNOT YOU GO?" Has God given you "knowledge of salvation by the remission of your sins?" Has He made you to "know and believe the love He hath towards you?" Has He given you grace "not to hide His righteousness within your heart, but to talk of His truth and His salvation?" Has He bestowed on you strong health, fair powers of mind, determination of character? Then you are the man He wants for this work. May He make you hear the call, and step out, and say, "Here am I, Lord, send ME!"

But if we cannot go, can we do nothing?

Have we, as ministers or members of a church which puts into her children's lips so many MISSIONARY PRAYERS, thrown our whole heart into those prayers? Does our whole soul go forth in those words of our Divine Lord—the true Missionary—"Thy kingdom come: Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven?" Have we pleaded with our whole heart with God, "the Creator and Preserver of all mankind, that He would make His ways known upon earth: His saving health among all nations?" Have we, with yearning pity over those who are living without God and dying without hope, prayed, "That it may please Thee to have mercy upon all men?" Have we on that day, when, standing safe upon the rock ourselves, which lifts its head above the raging waterfloods, we look at our brethren who are still clinging to the wreck—have we fervently prayed God to "have mercy upon all Jews, Turks, Infidels, and Heretics;" and added in our own thoughts, "the poor heathen?" And when kneeling with our households, have we each led "our church in the house" to remember the perishing heathen and the outcast Jew? What does our closet testify? If the prayers of our chamber were all daguerre-typed upon the walls, how many Missionary prayers would men read there? God pardon the past, and pour on us all "the spirit of grace and supplication" in the time to come, that our churches, and homes, and closets, may all tell of the incense of "effectual, fervent prayer!"

And if we cannot give ourselves to this work, is there nothing which we CAN give? O that the richer Christian were only as liberal and self-denying as the poor! They do "give out of their penury:" "their deep poverty abounds to the riches of their liberality." "According to their power, and beyond their power," they give to the work of Him whom they love, and who has made them so rich in all their poverty. I have known the ragged child go days without a meal that she might purchase the Book of God. Would our self-denial for the furtherance of God's work keep pace with this? Do our burnt-offerings cost us any thing? What proportion do our gifts bear to our means? The poor Christian's Missionary pence are often a tithe or half a tithe of her living. What are our Missionary guineas to ours? Is there no tangible record kept by us of mercies received?—a child's recovery from sickness—an escape from danger—preservation and comfort in a journey—special prayers heard and granted—success in business—guidance in perplexity—storms that threatened blown over or broken in a few heavy drops of rain—have these been noted in our book, and recorded in gold or silver marks upon the score of mercies?

Might they not have been? Should they not have been? And if each member of our Society had so marked His mercies in the past year, would not far larger means have been placed under the faithful stewardship of its Committee?

May He who has drawn so many Christian hearts, by the great magnet of His cross and the attraction of His love, draw us all nearer and nearer, that in His LIGHT we may see more and more light; and in His LOVE get more and more warmth of love, till heart, and soul, and mind, and strength, and time, and influence, and money, and talents, and life itself, are wholly given up to His work—His service—His glory.

"God be merciful to us, and bless us, and lift up the light of His countenance upon us," His favoured people, that through us "His way may be known upon earth, His saving health among all nations!"

EXPENDITURE.

The Expenditure of the year has been 118,274*l.* 1*s.* 1*d.*, being an increase of nearly 14,000*l.* over the expenditure of last year, and reaching, within a reasonable balance, the large income of the year. This increase of expenditure has been occasioned by an enlargement of the Missions.

The number of Missionaries employed by the Society has been raised from 162 to 172, and there has been a proportionate increase of native agency: a very small part of the increase has been expended upon the building of schools or churches. The Committee have thus redeemed their pledge, as far as it was possible for them to do so, given at the last Anniversary, to devote their enlarged resources to the wider diffusion of the preaching of the gospel. They had, indeed, cherished the hope that a larger number of candidates would have presented themselves, qualified for the Missionary work, whom they would have rejoiced to accept, and to send into new and promising fields of labour which have opened before them. But it is the work of Christ to call and send forth labourers. They therefore still wait for this exercise of the Divine prerogative, ready to receive any number of Missionaries who may appear to be thus called, and to promote their entrance upon the office of "preaching among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ." The Committee still hold the balance announced at the last Anniversary available for this purpose; though some portion of it will be employed in defraying the expenses of the Missionaries' Children's Home.

ISLINGTON INSTITUTION.

The Committee are happy to report a considerable increase of students, the number resident having advanced from nineteen to twenty-seven. The training of the students who eventually join the Missions does not represent the whole work of the Institution. Many candidates are admitted for short periods, with a view of testing their Missionary qualifications, who are not ultimately received. Thus, during the last year, the number of students and candidates who have resided for a longer or shorter period amounts to thirty-six. The Principal, in his Annual Report, states—"The tide of supply, which had so long been on the ebb, has once more begun to flow; and whilst the existing body of students already exceeds the average, the hope is naturally suggested that the increase may still be progressive. The improvement thus indicated is peculiarly gratifying when regarded as an answer to prayer. So generally has this view of the fact been entertained in the Institution itself, that the students spontaneously set apart a day of special thanksgiving for the encouragement thus graciously vouchsafed."

The Principal also remarks, that, during the last year, a new mode of employing the leisure hours of the students has been introduced, by their acting, under the superintendence of the Principal and tutors, as "Home Evangelists" amongst the Irish Romanists, of whom there are many thousands residing in the parish of Islington.

MISSIONARIES' CHILDREN'S HOME.

Among the events of the year the Committee must record the completion and opening of the Missionaries' Children's Home, which will afford to these children—as far as the ministry of Christian friends can provide them—a parental roof and watchful care, combined with sound education.* The whole cost of the building, and of the furniture, including 3000*l.* for the site, will amount to about 20,000*l.*; three-fourths of this sum being provided for by the Jubilee Fund, and the legacy of Miss Cook, of Cheltenham. The number of children now in the Home is sixty-five, and a large increase will shortly take place.

PREPARATION OF A CLASS OF TRAINING MASTERS FOR THE SCHOOLS IN THE MISSIONS.

The Committee have the satisfaction of reporting that the Directors of the Metropolitan Training College at Highbury, in the parish of Islington, have been good enough to allow the Committee to send schoolmasters, selected and supported by the Society, to that institution, to be educated, trained, and exercised in the art of teaching under the excellent system adopted at the present day. Ten have been already admitted into the College.

PATRONAGE.

During the year the following Prelates and Noblemen have accepted the office of Vice-President of the Society—The Right Hon. and Most Rev. the Lord Bishop of Meath, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Lincoln, the Lord Haddo, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, and the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Sierra Leone.

The Committee have added to the list of Honorary Governors for Life the following names of zealous friends, who have rendered very essential services to the Society—

Robert M. Bird, Esq., late of the Civil Service, Bengal;
James Farish, Esq., late Acting Governor of Bombay;
Lieut.-Col. Browne, Military Secretary to the Government of Madras;

The Rev. John Tucker, late Secretary of the Society.

IRELAND.

The Committee cannot omit to notice, amongst the events of the year which call for especial thanksgiving to God, a fuller measure of support from friends in Ireland, the income having risen from about 3000*l.* to 4000*l.* The Thirty-ninth Report of the Hibernian Auxiliary, for the year 1852, thus notices the fact—

* An account of the opening of the “Home” is given in the “Church Missionary Intelligencer” for May 1853, pp. 112—120.

At the last Anniversary of the Church Missionary Society it was the pleasing duty of your Committee to announce an increase in the Society's income, as compared with that of the preceding year; and it is with feelings of gratitude to that God who alone "giveth the increase," that they have a similar announcement to make to-day with respect to the income of the past year.

It might, perhaps, have been anticipated, that as, a few years ago, the pressure of temporal distress had diverted from their usual course much of those funds which had previously flowed in the channel of Missionary effort, so, in the present crisis of our country's history, the urgent, and, blessed be God! the recognised duty of ministering to the spiritual wants of our home population might interfere with the relief of the no less urgent, though oftentimes less appreciated, destitution which is presented in the spiritual condition of the heathen abroad.

But experience has proved the fallacy of such fears, and rebuked the unbelief of such apprehensions. The increased interest exhibited during the past year in the cause of the Church Missionary Society, and the enlarged support which has been given to its funds, afford the most satisfactory evidence that a Missionary spirit at home is no impediment to Missionary effort abroad; but that as, in apostolic times, the church of Thessalonica, which was famous for its "work of faith and labour of love," was that from which "sounded out the word of the Lord;" so, in our own day, the church of Ireland, more awake than ever to its immediate duties and responsibilities, exhibits a corresponding sense of the obligation which lies upon it to make known God's "saving health among all nations."

And is there not warrant, on the other hand, to conclude that her former endeavours to fulfil the Saviour's last command, by preaching the gospel to every creature, may have secured to herself that continuance and increase of vital energy, which are implied in the accompanying promise, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

One other quotation is added from the same Report—

Your Committee are happy to state that almost the whole island is now divided into districts; each of them under the charge of a local Secretary, who has undertaken to be the medium of communication between the Associations and the Committee; to select the most suitable seasons for receiving deputations; to fix the days, hours, and places of meeting; and otherwise promote the interests of the Society throughout his district.*

Madras and South-India Mission—The Rev. David Fenn, M.A. Trinity College, Cambridge, late Curate of St. Paul's, Covent Garden, the Rev. R. R. Meadows, B.A. Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, and Mr. John Gunning Seymer and Mrs. Seymer, left Portsmouth on the 1st of July for Madras, and arrived there on the 24th of September. The Rev. John Pickford, St. Bee's College, Cumberland, late Curate of St. Michael's, Stockwell, and Mrs. Pickford, left Portsmouth for Madras on the 16th of September, and arrived there on the 25th of December. The Rev. Nicholas James Moody, B.A.

Oriel College, Oxford, late Curate of St. Martin's, Stamford, left Southampton on the 20th of October for Madras, as Secretary to the Corresponding Committee at that Presidency, and arrived there on the 30th of November.

China Mission—The Rev. R. H. Cobbold, M.A., with Mrs. Cobbold, left Liverpool on the 17th of July for Ningpo, to resume his labours there, and arrived in June.

New-Zealand Mission—Mr. James Booth and Mr. James Stack, Students from the Metropolitan Training Institution, Highbury, Mrs. Booth, and the chief Tamahana Te Rauparaha, left Gravesend on the 22d of July for New Zealand, and arrived there in December. The Ven. Archdeacon W. Williams and Mrs. Williams left Gravesend on the 24th of October for New Zealand; but in consequence of tempestuous weather, and the crippled state of the vessel, they were obliged to put into Plymouth on the 25th of November, where they were detained by contrary winds till the 17th of January last.

North-West-America Mission—Mr. William West Kirkby, Student from the Metropolitan Training Institution, Highbury, and Mrs. Kirkby, left Gravesend on the 5th of June for York Fort, and arrived there on the 15th of August, and at Red River on the 6th of October. The Rev. Edwin Arthur Watkins, Student from the Society's Institution, and Mrs. Watkins, left Stromness on the 1st of July for Moose Fort, and arrived there on the 18th of August.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

In the course of the year nine individuals in connexion with the Society have been admitted to Deacons' Orders—Two Students from the Institution, Islington, by the Bishop of London; one Student from St. Peter's College, Cambridge, by the Bishop of Sierra Leone, at Islington, by special commission from the Bishop of London; three Students from the Institution, Bâsle, by the Bishop of Sierra Leone, at Freetown; one catechist at Masulipatam, by the Bishop of Madras; one catechist in New Zealand, by the Bishop of New Zealand; and one catechist at Moose Fort, by the Bishop of Rupert's Land.

NUMBER OF MISSIONARY LABOURERS.

During the year one clergyman and the wife of a clergyman have been removed by death; ten clergymen, two laymen, one female teacher, and the wife of a clergyman, have returned home, on account of health, and for other reasons, of whom three clergymen and one layman have resumed their labours; nineteen additional labourers—ten clergymen, and nine laymen—have been sent out; and five clergymen, exclusive of those before mentioned, have returned to their labours.

The number of clergymen and European lay teachers in connexion with the Society as Missionary labourers is 221; viz.

Appointment and Arrival out of the Bishop of Sierra Leone.

THE Committee are happy to open their Report of this Mission by a reference to the long-desired appointment of a Bishop of Sierra Leone, and his arrival in his diocese at the close of the year 1852. The large body of clergymen assembled in Sierra Leone—the native-Christian youth growing up without confirmation after infant baptism—the native teachers waiting for ordination—as well as the need of some organization for the native church—had tended to make the presence of a Bishop indispensable for the full efficiency both of the native church and of the Mission of the Society. The Committee have also to record their thanksgiving to Almighty God that the person selected for this office was a devoted friend of this Society, who had already a Missionary heart, and the important qualification of being an accomplished linguist. He had, as a country clergyman in England, acquired the Tamul language, to encourage native teachers in South India by a correspondence in their own tongue; he had prepared a Malay grammar for the use of the Borneo Mission; and he had advised with the Rev. Dr. Krapf in his philological labours in the languages of East Africa. Before the bishop sailed for his diocese he acquired the Yoruba language, and rendered very important assistance to the Rev. S. Crowther in the preparation of his grammar and vocabulary of that language, as the able preface to that volume, from the pen of the bishop, will testify. The bishop cordially entered into communication with the Committee upon the adoption of such ecclesiastical arrangements and regulations as may serve to introduce the principles of self-support and self-government into the native church in Sierra Leone.

I. PASTORAL MISSION-WORK WITHIN THE COLONY.

The reports of the pastoral work within the colony, during the past year, mark satisfactory progress.

The Rev. J. Beale, in his report of the Pademba-road church Sept. 30, 1852, writes—"The third year since the church was opened is now closing. We have increased from 40 communicants to 130, leaving 80 candidates in the classes; whilst our worshipping assemblies are serious, and gradually increasing."

Mr. Beale has also adopted measures for penetrating some of the remaining corners of the colony in which heathenism is still cherished. He notices in his journal, May 28, 1852—

In the evening I preached in the open air to a group of heathen, in that nest of idolatry behind the new burying-ground. This place, at the foot of the mountain road in the east, has long excited my compassion. There, as in the grass field at the west, the tomtom never ceases among the thunder worshippers. At these places a large number have been grouped together for years undisturbed. They never enter any place of worship, and know little more about Christianity than the heathen in the deep forests of the interior. God helping us, and by His strength, this foul blot shall be done away. Henceforth we purpose carrying the gospel to their very doors, and, with holy violence, compelling them to come in.

And in his half-yearly report he states, Sept. 30—

The two lectures among the heathen in the east and west of the town are working their way, and have been well sustained during this half-year.

The Rev. H. Rhodes has taken under his charge a group of villages surrounding Wilberforce, which had gradually sprung up unobserved in neglect and heathenism. In several of them schools have been opened, and occasional services commenced, and thus the way prepared for their being placed under native pastors.

The Rev. N. Denton has charge of the whole Mountain District, residing at Regent, with native catechists at each of the villages. Respecting two of these native pastoral charges he writes, June 1852—

The number of young people who, during the past six months, have been admitted at Gloucester as church members is very pleasing.

The state of the church at Bathurst still affords ground of encouragement. During the half-year, four colony-born young people have come forward to join the church; and a number of old inhabitants, after years of sin and indifference to religion, seem now to be stirred up to inquire, "What must we do to be saved?" I have been much pleased with their earnestness and simplicity.

Mr. Denton's remarks upon the new Station of York serve also to mark the progress of the gospel in the colony at large.

In May 1852 I spent two Sundays at York, and my sympathies were much drawn out towards Mr. Ehemann in the "work of faith" to which he is called in this place. I took the service on the last Sunday morning I was there, and felt most sensibly the difference between that congregation and the one at Regent. If, before I visited York, I sometimes felt "weary in well doing," I certainly returned home thankful for my privileges. Would any one wish to measure the progress which has been made in some of our old Stations, no better method could be adopted than to visit first a new Station, such as York, and then proceed to some of the older ones. The difference is very striking. York, however, must, like other places, have its seed-time. Let us labour, together with Mr. Ehemann, in our prayers that the harvest may speedily come. There is already a good school in operation.

The Rev. F. Bultmann is able also to speak of new and aggressive efforts upon the remaining heathen, as well as of progress in the older Stations.

Sept. 26, 1852—Shortly after the morning service at Waterloo I set out for Macdonald. The two villages, Middleton and Macdonald—of old, Kusso-town—forming this new Station, stretch along, in an almost unbroken line, for a couple of miles. The further end of the latter place is exclusively inhabited by Kussos, who, with few exceptions, care little for the means of grace, and are, as a whole, a roaming and ignoble tribe. All the rest is peopled by the Yoruba race, who form the most striking contrast. Arriving among them before the close of the Sunday-school, I found a large attendance, eager to learn "book," as they call it; and at church it was so crowded, that they sat as close as, of yore, in the slaver—the difference being, that then they were packed, and now they packed themselves. Examination having taken place, and previous notice of it given, I admitted four adults and fifteen children into the fold of Christ by baptism. Their interest was intense, and their eager attention to every word of Christ's blessed gospel most touching, and truly edifying. Unable to gratify their desire of shortly spending another Sunday, or half Sunday, with them, they very heartily entered into my proposition of coming to Russell—a distance of several miles—when next I should visit that place from Kent on a Sunday.

To these general notices of the progress of Christianity a few special instances may be added, which evidence the work of the Spirit of God upon the hearts of believers.

The Rev. E. Dicker reports—

Sept. 14, 1852—I visited a very afflicted man, of a thoughtful turn, belonging to my Tuesday-morning class. He had been suffering in various parts of his body, but yet was in a very cheerful state of mind. I was much pleased with the intelligent manner in which he listened to me, and read from a well-used Testament the portion of Scripture I selected. On my questioning him as to his experience of Christ's love in his sickness, he replied, with great animation, "Yes, Christ is good for me. Christ is a good doctor for me. In my sickness, when the people go away to farm, and leave me, and lock the door upon me, I pray to Christ many times in the day. Christ is good for me." It was truly gratifying to see his earnestness in bearing testimony to the faithfulness of the Redeemer.

The Rev. D. H. Schmid records in his journal a striking instance of "long patience."

Aug. 24, 1852—I visited some sick people, among whom was an old communicant, whose sufferings are of a most painful nature. For more than thirty years he has been affected by elephantiasis, so common in this country. By degrees it has eaten his fingers and toes, and will continue to consume the inner parts of his body until death puts a stop to its havoc. But in spite of his great and fearful sufferings, his reliance on Jesus is firm: he knows, and rejoices in the thought, that he shall get a glorified body. I had a blessed conversation with him, in which his much-tried wife cheerfully partook. After I had read to him Psalm cxlii., and engaged in prayer, he was full of thanks, and I left him.

Mr. Beale thus describes the character and death of one of the Christian visitors—

Early this morning—April 25, 1852—Mr. Johnson, my zealous, devoted, and useful Christian visitor, entered into that rest for which he had long been waiting in the "patience of hope." He was a strong, robust man, of the Yoruba nation—one of the early converts in Leicester Mountain. During the mania for emigration, about ten years ago, he went to the West Indies, and there remained about three years. Finding his privileges as a Christian curtailed, he returned to this colony. On arriving out, he was placed on an estate where was a Roman-Catholic chapel. On the first Sabbath he went, he was surprised to find none of that simplicity to which he had been accustomed. On the Monday he went to his master, and said, as related to me by himself, "Please, Sir, this place cannot do for me. I go to church, but it is not like what I am used to: I do not understand what the minister says. I want a minister who can tell me words which I can hear" (understand). It cost him much trouble to get a passport to remove to another estate; but though the distances he had to walk were great, and before he succeeded he had to go many times, he never rested until he could go to a place where the gospel was preached. On his return hither he settled in the west of Freetown, but joined himself to the congregation in Kiskey Road. His house was very distant from the church, but no man could be more regular in his attendance on the means of grace. On our church being built on this side the town, he was chosen by the people as Christian visitor, an office for which his bold and earnest spirit well fitted him. Though the emolument was small for a man of his standing, with a large family, yet he accepted it for the Lord's sake, and set himself zealously to work, not only to visit the sick, but to seek and call in the heathen. Many, I trust, will acknowledge him, in the last great day, as the first instrument to lead them to a Saviour. Many of his countrymen quail before the "country-fashion" man, but not Johnson. About eighteen months ago, whilst engaged in his work, he bruised his foot against a stone. For some time the wound was very small, but it did not heal. He tried various means, but in vain. The knowledge of his danger did not terrify him. He "knew whom he had believed." As his end approached, the whole limb became awfully swollen and dreadfully ulcerated. Under all his sufferings he was very cheerful and contented, and looked forward with confidence to a better inheritance in heaven, through a crucified but risen Saviour. To one who said to him, "Well, Johnson, how do you bear all this?" he replied, "He that gives the pain gives also the power to bear it." He ever manifested deep interest in our spiritual Zion, and longed, not only for the members to increase in number, but in spirituality. In the last few months, as he ripened for glory, these feelings deepened much. His sufferings were of no ordinary kind, but he was wonderfully supported under them. Grace has seldom, among us, shone forth with greater lustre than in him. He wanted no light talking—nothing but experimental Christian society, and holy fellowship with brethren of a like spirit. He was highly respected by all Christians. The members of Kiskey-Road church would come and join my own in prayer and praise around his couch.

Two events in the course of the last year may be mentioned as having excited an unusual interest in the Mission. In the early part of last year the Rev. Samuel Crowther visited Sierra Leone, upon his return from England. Mr. Denton writes—has visited and preached in all the Mountain churches. His sermons have been deeply interesting and profitable to the people; and his friendly visits and intercourse, both with them and ourselves, have, I am sure, been refreshing to us all. This evening we held at Regent a Missionary meeting for the district. The church was well filled, and the people listened with the greatest attention to many details of the work at Abbeokuta, which Mr. Crowther gave us in his usual graphic and amusing style. The sum of 3*l.* 8*s.* has been collected in the district, and given to Mr. Crowther, to be devoted to some useful object in furtherance of his work at Abbeokuta.

Mr. Rhodes also reports—

April 18: Lord's-day — Mr. Crowther having promised to perform my duties at Wilberforce, I went over to Aberdeen, to take the morning service there, and to administer the Lord's Supper. In the afternoon an opportunity was afforded me of hearing a sermon from Mr. Crowther, and I was thankful that my people were privileged to have the gospel preached to them by one of their countrymen. On any difficult point, or where there was the least danger of misapprehension, he had resort at once to his native language, and thus rendered gospel truths simple and plain to their understandings. Several who had never entered a church before were induced to attend, nor was our little place of worship ever so well filled on any previous occasion. May the Lord bless the word spoken to the salvation of many souls!

Another event was the very merciful preservation of two of our Missionaries in shipwreck, who were on their voyage home, in May last. After being five days at sea, the vessel struck upon a reef of rocks, from thirty to forty miles from shore. The passengers and crew were obliged to leave the wreck in three boats, which were in an unsafe condition, amidst breakers and rocks, and ill provided with sails, oars, or rudder. But, through the merciful providence of God, all were brought safely to land, and returned to Sierra Leone. Their unexpected return brought out, in a very touching manner, the affection felt by the Christian Africans for those who have long faithfully and affectionately laboured among them. Mr. Beale writes—

April 24, 1852—The report of our wreck soon spread, and our dwelling became a continued scene of sympathizing people. "Oh, master! thank God, thank God! Hush, master! Hush, mistress! No mind, so long the Father spare life. He will give you more than that," &c. After a few hours, we were obliged to keep our beds from pain in the head and ears, and fever, which was only increased by the excitement. The people had but just loaded us with tokens of their affection on leaving, and yet now seemed not to know what to do to evince their sympathy in our distress. Besides presents of fowls, yams, loaves of sugar, and butter, they sent us many articles of wearing apparel—as shoes, stockings, shirts, trowsers, pieces of muslin and print for dresses, &c. Only in one case was money received for shoes, the master being out. Shortly after, the money was returned, with an apology. Such facts need no comment. They only lay me under a deeper obligation to my God and to His people.

May 14—We were surprised to receive three notes, each from a few members of Kissey and Pademba-road churches, begging our acceptance of sums of money, amounting to 17*l.* in all.

II. EDUCATION.

The educational establishments of the colony are in a satisfactory and hopeful state. The number of students in the Fourah-Bay Institution has been seventeen. During the last year two students have been sent to the Abbeokuta Mission, and three appointed to labour within the colony.

The Rev. E. Jones takes the following review of his labours—

As this is the fourth year since the opening of the Institution, it may be well to notice the amount of work which the first class have been enabled to accomplish. Commencing with the elements of Greek and Hebrew, they have read, as has been shown, the whole of the New Testament, with Arnold's two works on Greek Prose Composition, studied chiefly with a view to the easy acquisition of a knowledge of the grammatical difficulties. Their mathematical acquirements are, five books of Euclid, and a knowledge of quadratic equations in algebra. Keightley's History of the Reformation, Horne's Introduction, Nicholls' Bible Help, the first twenty-eight articles in Burnet, English Grammar, Geography, and Composition, Barth's Church History, and Spanheim's Ecclesiastical Annals, to the end of the fifth century. Their Hebrew attainments have been already mentioned. I regret that I have not been able to accomplish more, yet feel great thankfulness that we have been permitted to go over so much ground. In judging of results, we must look to the state of things four years ago, and the quantum of information possessed by the students. The want of habits of reflection and discipline; the inability to repeat to-morrow the lesson that has been got up to-day; the little knowledge of English words; these, and various others—their name is legion—are some of our difficulties, known and felt on the spot, but scarcely to be appreciated elsewhere. For instance, in reading Burnet, my first aim is to get them to understand the meaning of the author—that is, the mere construction and signification of the words and sentences; then the ideas or statements made by him as to the different points of doctrine; of all which I can feelingly say, Hic labor, hoc opus est. Well may we, then, thank God and take courage; and earnestly should our prayers be offered, that the rich blessing of our covenant God might cause this "day of small things" not to be despised; that the grain of mustard-seed may grow into a tree, whose branches shall hang down with fruit, and afford shelter to the birds of the air.

The Rev. T. Peyton gives the following report of the Grammar-school, Sept. 30, 1852—

The number of pupils now in the school is seventy-three, whose ages range from six to twenty years.

The conduct and diligence of the pupils, on the whole, have given me much pleasure, and their submission and willing obedience to those who are over them in the Lord have, in a great measure, made up for all the care and anxiety.

The periodical Missionary meetings among the pupils have been regularly kept up, and well attended, not only by the boarders, but also by the forty daily pupils who reside in Freetown; and I thank God for the very deep interest which many of the boys, not designed by their friends for the work, take in the Missionary cause. A fortnight ago I had for our subject the "Melancholy Narrative of the Patagonian Missionaries," in the detail of which the pupils were deeply affected.

The Rev. E. Jones thus speaks, Nov. 17, of the examination of the two Institutions—

The examinations of the Fourah-Bay Institution and the Grammar-school have both taken place. Of the former, I can only say it was quite satisfactory to my own feelings; but of the latter, which was largely attended by the parents and friends of the pupils and the Society—among whom were the Governor, the Chief Justice, the Colonial Secretary, and others—I have heard, from all quarters, exceedingly gratifying accounts.

The Female Institution has been carried on by Miss Sass, who has accomplished the arduous work of first commencing such an establishment. Miss Sass writes, Sept. 30, 1852—

I must especially speak of the steady, upright, persevering conduct of my boarders; the general improvement of all the pupils; and the peace and quietness which have prevailed, almost without intermission, since January last. The behaviour of the elder girls has been very satisfactory: they have, I really believe, done their best, both in teaching and watching over the younger ones, as well as in improving themselves: and the truthfulness manifested by most of them forms a striking contrast to what was my painful experience in former years. They are still far from what we could wish, and require continually a watchful eye. The oldest and most steady amongst them is but, as yet, a frail and erring child; but as the Lord has blessed our endeavours, we must praise Him, and pray that His grace may now prevent and follow them.

There are twenty-six pupils at present in the Institution, fifteen of whom reside in the house.

Female education, especially in Sierra Leone, must have so important an influence upon the community that the Committee have received with much satisfaction the following account of the School of liberated-African girls at Char- lotte, from the devoted superintendant of that school, Mrs. Clemens—

Sept. 1852—Many of the girls in my Bible class evidently grow, not only in the knowledge of the word and will of God, but apply it to their hearts, and show its blessed fruits in their daily behaviour; so that I was able to recommend them to Mr. Denton for baptism. He examined them to his satisfaction, and thirteen of the eldest of them were, after careful preparation, admitted into the fold of Christ on the 13th of June last.

I rejoiced with great and indescribable joy over these firstlings in the Lord out of my numerous flock. The girls themselves took it very seriously, and, during my sickness in the week before, when I could not attend to them as I wished, they met together of their own accord, every evening, to read the word of God and pray, which latter they did with a touching simplicity and ferventness.

It was a pleasant, heart-refreshing sight to see these young confessors of Jesus, with mild, meek, thoughtful expression of countenance, so different from what they appeared a few years ago, and which we so seldom see in young females in this country. Through the goodness of a kind friend and benefactress in England I was enabled to dress them all neatly in white, as is the custom of the natives on such an occasion.

III. EFFORTS TO EXTEND CHRISTIANITY BEYOND THE COLONY.

The Timneh Mission has occupied the anxious thoughts of the Rev. D. H. Schmid, who is in charge of it. Though he resides within the colony, he visits Port Lokkoh each quarter, and inspects the school, which is under the charge of a native teacher, Mr. Macaulay. Mr. Schmid is well understood by the natives when he preaches in the native language. But the town is Mahomedan; and here, as in every other place, that pernicious system appears to present the most formidable barrier against the reception of Christian truth, both by the prejudice of mind and sensuality of heart which it fosters. "I go," writes Mr. Schmid, "to Port Lokkoh with a heavy heart, and return no lighter." Mr. Schmid has also visited the Great and Little Scarcies, where the Rev. C. F. Schlenker sought to establish a new Station, but there also Mahomedanism opposed its stern front.

A ray of hope for future good appears, indeed, in the fact that three of the boys in the school have been thought worthy of being placed at the Grammar-school, and that Mr. Peyton is able to speak well of them. Mr. Schmid mentions also, in his journal, the interesting case of a little school-boy, who was in the habit of going to his grey-headed grandfather, and his family, praying with them upon his knees, and admonishing them to follow the Lord Jesus. Nor were his efforts without effect, for the old man sent Mr.

Schmid, when at Port Lokkoh, a bagful of smooth pebble stones, which he had been in the habit of using for divination, but which he appears now to have entirely given up.

One of the first matters to be considered in the Local Committee, after the Bishop's arrival, is the continuance of the Timneh Mission, or its transfer to some other locality.

The Rev. C. F. Ehemann's Missionary Visit to Sherbro.

At the close of the year Mr. Ehemann, who has been for some time engaged in the study of the Sherbro language, visited that country, and was able to converse with the people; but it does not present any promising field for a Missionary's residence. The inhabitants are scattered over a flat district, extending seventy miles along the coast, and from twenty to thirty miles inland. They live in small villages, containing from 12 to 130 inhabitants each, with scarcely any political union, or commercial intercourse with each other, each petty chief being independent in the village or small district in which he resides. The slave-trade has deeply infected the country with the degradation and miseries inseparable from that accursed traffic. Mr. Ehemann recommends, for the present, occasional visits to the country, for the purpose of Christian instruction, until it shall become more settled and promising.

Native Languages.

Some progress has been made during the last year in the translational department of the Mission. A Timneh and English dictionary has been prepared by Mr. Schlenker; and the Epistle to the Romans has been translated into that language by Mr. Schmid. The Rev. S. W. Koelle has also completed his grammar of the Vei and of the Bornu languages. The former is one of the most simple, and the latter one of the most fully developed, languages of Africa. Mr. Koelle has also prepared a still more important work in this department, by collecting specimens of languages from the natives of different countries in Africa who have been brought into the colony of Sierra Leone. These specimens consist of 250 words and short sentences, translated into the native languages of 200 different localities. The results of the investigation are of an astonishing kind; and unfold such a view of the multitudinous inhabitants of that vast continent, and of the variety of their languages, and such glimpses of their national peculiarities, as to fill the mind of a Christian philanthropist with new thoughts of the work which lies before the Christian church in the evangelization of Africa, of the vastness of the undertaking, and yet of the steps to be taken for its accomplishment. These discoveries show that Sierra Leone is the asylum of the representatives of not fewer than 200 different nations, speaking 151 distinct languages, besides numerous dialects of the same. These nations lie scattered over the surface of Central, Western, and Southern Africa. The languages have been arranged under twenty-six groups; but there still remain fifty-four unclassified languages, more separate and distinct from each other and from all the rest than the languages of Europe are from each other.

The natives represented at Sierra Leone lie along 4000 miles of coast, beginning from beyond the Senegal, in the north, to the Portuguese settlements south of the Line. They extend in the interior throughout the whole course of the Niger, from its sources, in the mountains behind Sierra Leone, to its estuaries, comprising Timbuctu—the emporium of African commerce—and the vast provinces subdued by the fanatical Mahomedan Fulas, and numerous small tribes who appear to have floated down the large volume of waters to settle upon the delta. At Sierra Leone are also found those who have wandered over the trackless Sahara from the very borders of Egypt, and those who have inhabited the islands of Lake Tchad in the centre of Africa, or borne office in the powerful kingdom of Bornu, or fought in bloody battles with the warriors of Darfur. Even the deep recesses of Southern Africa have furnished their tribute to the motley population of the British colony. There are those now casting their nets into the Atlantic, who in their youth sported on the shores of the Indian Ocean, and looked across the Mozambique. From that part of the southern continent, which has hitherto been a perfect blank in the maps, there are those in Sierra Leone who can tell of their native towns, which require a day or more to be traversed from end to end; of broad and deep rivers; of nations of tall and strongly-built warriors; of savage cannibals; and of peaceable and generous nomadic hunters. And they are all ready to tell of the wants of Africa's hidden millions of immortal souls. Their breasts heave with emotion when a friendly inquiry is made respecting their fatherland: they eagerly supply the information, and appeal, often in fervid language, and with moving eloquence, to those who possess the best gift of God to a fallen world. And shall they plead in vain, in the very spot where they have been brought together, the asylum for liberated Africans, freed from the grasp of the oppressor, and settled in a quiet home by the powerful arm of Great Britain—shall they plead in vain for that second boon which shall make them and their country “free indeed?”*

THE last year has been, to the Yoruba Mission, one of peace. The powerful navy of Great Britain has effectually kept the slave-trade in check; and has protected the agencies of lawful commerce and Christian civilization. The Committee have only to regret that their Mission has not been able to take full advantage of this favourable opportunity. Three out of its five Missionaries were, during the greater part of the year, absent from the scene of labour. The Rev. S. Crowther did not rejoin the Mission till June, and the Rev. D. Hinderer and the Rev. I. Smith returned to England in the early part of the year; so that there only remained a single European on the coast, and one at Abbeokuta, together with native catechists. Yet the Committee are thankful to say that this diminished force was enabled to hold their ground, and that the Mission has now been effectually strengthened and enlarged. One Missionary, the Rev. A. Mann, arrived at the close of the year; and Mr. Hinderer has returned with four additional European Missionaries,* together with a medical practitioner.

BADAGRY.

Retrospect of past Labours.

Immediately after the taking of Lagos, the Rev. C. A. Gollmer wisely determined to make that town the chief Station upon the coast, and to remove his own residence from Badagry. His reflections upon this removal are touching—

Well may we now ask, What is the fruit of your seven years' labour at this place? Alas! I see but little—I had almost said, "I have laboured in vain, and spent my strength for nought;" for, after seven years' labour, there is not one from among the Popos whom I can consider converted to God. They are as averse, a few excepted, to God and His word as in former years. Even the judgment of God—the war last year—made but little impression upon them. They will listen for a time, when we go to their houses, or meet them in the streets; but ever foremost is, "I am hungry." "What shall I eat and drink, and wherewith cover myself?" As for coming to our church to hear God's word, or to our Sunday-school to learn to read, they will not. Why? They prefer darkness to light, because their works are evil. Remarkable it is, that even the Mahommedans have not made one proselyte during the long time they have been here, although the Popos could of course embrace Mahommedanism with less self-denial than the Christian religion. But no! they are wedded to their idolatrous and superstitious systems, and will not depart from the ways of their ancestors. Not one Mahommedan, not one real Christian! A few were baptized, not by us. The promising boarding-school, like a beautiful flower scorched by a mid-day sun, withered away, because no immediate temporal advantages accrued to the parents from their children's attainments—in plain words, because we only fed, clothed, and taught them free of expense, and did not pay them a good salary besides, they took them away, and sent them to the bush to cut sticks; so that, of the thirty boys, there remain but half-a-dozen with us.

But although we see no fruit from among the Popos, I do believe that our labour has not been "in vain in the Lord." Many people from Abbeokuta, coming down to trade, have heard God's word here: and may we not hope that a grain has fallen in good ground, and brought forth fruit? Moreover, some of the strangers, Yorubas and others, residing here, have heard God's word. Some are convinced of the truth, some waver, some strive with the devil, the world, and the flesh, to come out. Others have gained the victory, and live by faith. Fourteen adults—Yorubas and Egbas—and thirty-six children, have been baptized, and one marriage and eighteen funerals have taken place. The monuments of our Mission at this place are the four Missionary graves, which remain as witnesses of devotedness to our work among the people of Badagry.

In consequence of the war at this place last year, the still unsettled state of things, and the opening at Lagos, Badagry has dwindled down to a small and unimportant place. Many people are removing to Lagos, so that fewer still attend our services, and no more than a dozen children remain in our school. By these events we consider that God has clearly marked out our path to depart from those who so long have despised Him and His word, and to carry it to those who have hitherto sat in darkness and in the shadow of death. May God open their hearts to receive the blessed gospel, and Christ, without whom there is no salvation!

LAGOS.

Lagos is a very important place. It is an excellent and well-built native town, near to the sea-coast, and accessible to vessels drawing as much as ten or eleven feet of water. It has water communication far into the interior, and for hundreds of miles along the coast. It is, therefore, a great commanding point, from whence Christianity may go forth into the interior, as well eastward as westward of Abbeokuta, carrying with it the promises both of "the life that now is, and of that which is to come." It is most desirable and necessary that it should be at once and strongly occupied by Missionaries, more especially as Akitoye is not a Christian but a heathen, and in danger of falling under the influence of the Mahommedans, who are very busy endeavouring to proselyte in this part of Africa. The officers of Her Majesty's Squadron urged the Missionaries to commence Missionary work at Lagos.

Commencement of Missionary Operations—Labours of James White.

Mr. Gollmer's first residence in the town was a large, deserted slave barracoon, which had been lately filled with the wretched victims of the slave-trade, but now became the habitation of a Christian household, where a little band of native Christians also met together for prayer and praise. A Mission-house was, however, quickly raised, on a spot given for the purpose by the king.

Until the Mission-premises were erected, the king allowed a school to be held, and divine service to be celebrated, in his own premises. Here the native catechist, James White, conducted the Missionary operations for several months before the arrival of Mr. Gollmer.

A few extracts from the journal of Mr. White will give an interesting view of his occupations, and of the feelings of the liberated Africans who return from Sierra Leone to their fatherland.

The following extracts describe Mr. White's first interview with Akitoye, the king, after he had been restored to his throne, and the first Lord's-day spent by him at Lagos—

Jan. 10, 1852—I saluted His Majesty, and wished him a happy, long life, and a prosperous reign. I told him the purpose for which I was come, adding, that Mr. Gollmer wishes me to congratulate him, and to advise him to look upon all events as coming from God, and to think of that God who has taken so much care of him from the time of his expulsion to the time of his reinstatement; that he should be very cautious of receiving those back into his country who, only a short time ago, were his enemies, lest he be driven out a second time; and that he wishes me to warn him to beware of the Mahommedans, who, pretending friendship with him, may lead him aside; and that I shall dwell longer on these things when he is more at leisure. I told him I had one request to make, and that was, to apprise his people of the approaching Sabbath, to tell them to be quiet, and to ask them to attend two services at his yard. He told me that at present it is not yet convenient for him; and that, as he is not quite settled, we would be much disturbed by the bustle and noise of the populace. I told him, if he has no convenient time now, to thank God for His late mercies, and pray to Him that He may assist him in the formation and establishment of his kingdom, the time may never come when it will be convenient for him; and that if he cannot manage to have two services, I shall be satisfied with one. He consented to inform his men.

Jan. 11: Lord's-day — Early this morning, after prayers, the drummers came in, as yesterday, and made such a noise as was sufficient to disturb any one. I hastened to Akitoye, and begged him to remind his people not to dishonour the Sabbath of God, and he immediately restrained them. I told him also that we shall soon have service, and that the attendance of his people shall be required. About ten I went to tell him that it was time. Fortunately, some grave old men, who are his chiefs and counsellors, some men from Abbeokuta, and a good number of other men, some women, and a few children, were present—many of whom probably came, according to custom, to prostrate themselves before the king, who soon after told me he was ready. I read the morning service from the Yoruba Prayer-book that I took with me, telling the people to repeat after me, at short lengths, the Confession, the Lord's Prayer, and the Creed, and to say Amen after each prayer. I spoke to them from 1 Kings iii. 5—14. I exhorted the king to remember that God who had watched over him since his dethronement, and whose goodness of late has been so singular towards him. I told him that nothing can prosper that has not God for its foundation, and that he should imitate Solomon in asking for "a wise and an understanding heart" in the formation of his new kingdom; that God's blessings cannot fail to rest upon him and his dominion if he gives his heart to seek God; that he is responsible to God for himself and his subjects if he makes ill use of the talents God has entrusted to him; that the good example of a Christian king will make a deep impression on the minds of his people—will lead them to a reformation of their manners, and ultimately, by God's blessing, may be a means of making them renounce the works of the devil, and embrace the faith of our blessed religion. I turned to the people, and spoke a few more words to them. After this I kneeled down, and prayed, in Yoruba, that God may grant them hearts to love and fear Him, and to bless the few words that have been spoken by such a weak instrument as I am; and they all joined in a loud "Amen." After service, I counted the number of attendants, and found that 200 were present on the occasion, viz. 156 men, 31 women, and 13 children. Upon obtaining their consent of assembling together in the afternoon, I dismissed them.

A second service was held in the afternoon, at which there was a larger attendance than in the morning.

At a later day we find the following notice of a further step in Missionary operations—

June 6, 1852: Lord's-day—To-day I was enabled, through God's assistance, to open the first Sunday-school here, that adults—who, for want of leisure, cannot conveniently attend the day-school—may avail themselves of this opportunity of being taught to read the word of God in their own tongue. A party of young men, the servants of the chief Bajuläi, whom I have frequently visited, attended, not to mention the Abbeokuta converts. I introduced to them the Yoruba alphabet, and taught them to pronounce the letters after me. In order not to weary them with one continued exercise, I next brought before them Mr. Crowther's translation of Watts's First Catechism, which I found to be of much service. What a delightful scene it was to behold in these young men such anxiety to get up these simple elements! Their eyes were stedfastly fixed upon the book, and they tried to sound the letters as exactly as the teacher. After this I taught them to kneel down with me, and join in prayer. This being done, I asked them to wait till divine service was over. They did so, and I addressed them from Acts xvii. 30. They paid great attention during the whole devotion, and tried to follow after the other people in the responses. In the afternoon they all attended school, and remained with us to the close of divine service. Upon the whole, I felt how cheering were such opportunities of doing good to perishing souls, when there are people willing to listen to the word of God. May the Lord bless our weak endeavours to bring Lagos under the power and influence of the gospel!

Arrival of Mr. Crowther and party—Touching recollections.

In the month of June Mr. Crowther returned to the Mission from his visit to Europe. He was accompanied by his son, and several native helpers. They landed at Lagos. It was not the first time of their being there. Several had been brought down thither as slaves many years previously. The little schooner in which they had come from Sierra Leone anchored off the same place from whence they had been shipped. Many recollections of the time of slavery were awakened in their minds as they went over the spots where slave-barracoons were wont to be, now changed into plantations of maize and cassada, or covered with sheds filled with casks of palm-oil and other merchandise, instead of fettered slaves in agony and despair.

Mr. White thus records in his journal [the arrival of the party—

June 14, 1852 — This morning we went with Mr. Gollmer to the beach, to welcome our dear friends who have just arrived from Sierra Leone, after a voyage of six weeks. This was a season of truly Missionary joy to us—a season to give thanks to God for His answer to the prayers of His servants. We need this supply more especially, as the Lord is everywhere opening a way for the spread of His gospel. Under the present crisis, triple the number of labourers sent would find a ready field of labour. We feel cheered, and we are enabled to go on in our work rejoicing. After an interview with our dear friends, accompanied with several tokens of reciprocal joy, we conducted them home. While on our way home, we were touched with the relation of our dear friend, Mr. Charles Young, of the manner in which he was taken as a slave, and shipped on board one of the Portuguese slavers; and it struck us that he could, after several years have passed, point his finger to the very house from which he was sold. He asked whether his master were still here, and was told that he had gone to Brazil. We joined him in acknowledging the kind providence of God, that had attended him from the time that he left to the time of his return to Lagos.

June 18—Equally striking is the case of Mr. Gilbert Lawson, one of our newly-arrived friends. He was sold to one of the Portuguese by his master, Aşogbon, one of the chiefs here, early one morning, when he least expected it. This morning he requested me to accompany him to Aşogbon, and accordingly I went with him to his house, and requested his servants to inform him that we had come to see him. After some time he came, and asked us to sit down. I introduced Lawson to him, and asked whether he could recollect who he was. He said he could not remember any thing of him. Lawson replied, "I am the man who some years ago was your slave, and whom you sold to one of the Portuguese. God mercifully delivered me from the cruel hand of the Portuguese slave-dealers, by the kind interposition of the British cruisers, took me to Sierra Leone, and has brought me back to tell you what good things He has done for me. You have been living in sin, and doing what is wrong in the sight of God: but now attend to the word that God's messengers have come to proclaim to you. Little did you think to see me again, when that morning you ordered me to be sold to the Portuguese. Such, indeed, are God's mysterious ways!" The confusion into which the chief was thrown can be better imagined than described. He tried to change the conversation several times, and betrayed much uneasiness in his mien. What a contrast between the slaves of the chief and Mr. Lawson! While the former, miserable as they are, approach their master in humble prostration—compelled to flatter and approve his every action—Lawson was dressed in a better style, and seated on the same form with the chief, freely conversing with, and faithfully reproving him. The miserable condition of these slaves is a proof of the neglected state of their souls, while Lawson's exterior is, we trust, an indication of the better state of his immortal soul.

A third member of the party thus describes, in a letter written to Mr. Gollmer, from Badagry, where he was placed as a schoolmaster, his interview with his long-lost relatives—

Having been told that my family were still living, I sent a letter to Mr. Crowther, with the humble request that he would try whether he could find any of them. He kindly inquired for them; and, finding that they were alive, called them together, and explained my letter to them. They, being rejoiced with hearing that their long-lost child is living, could not rest themselves till they see me, and I was surprised in seeing them. Uncles, aunts, a brother, and a younger sister, came down here on the 22d of July: they are eight in number. They state that my parents, another sister, and many other relatives, are still living. My feelings and joy on seeing them words cannot express. Once more to welcome and sit amongst my people, after the long period of thirty years' captivity, is, as it were, the greatest of blessings I have ever enjoyed in my life. Abundant blessings be on the English nation; and may God grant prosperity to the Society with which I stand connected; and let God's name be praised henceforth and for evermore! I am, moreover, glad to say, that part of my family have been attending church at Abbeokuta; and the rest are determined to worship that God who carried away, and has brought back, their long-lost child; so that I am bound to thank God, and pray that I may be the means of inducing them to seek for their souls' salvation.

Benefits accruing from the capture of Lagos.

By the last reports from Lagos, it appears that the Missionaries have met with some encouragement. An infant church is already established in this late focus of cruelty and iniquity. The following remarks of Mr. White may well close the account of the first year's Missionary operations at Lagos. He writes, May 17, 1852—

The taking of Lagos by the resistless arms of England is a circumstance which should inspire every true Christian, and particularly every friend of Africa, with heartfelt gratitude to God. We deeply regret the loss of so many British in the late war. Had we been able to do any thing, even to the laying down of our lives to save theirs, we would have done it with pleasure. By the taking of Lagos, England has performed an act which the grateful children of Africa shall long remember. Let not England so much grieve for the loss of her sons, as consider the benefits that must accrue from the result. A few gallant men have sacrificed their lives to save those of a whole population. Fortified by nature, and commodiously situated for commerce, Lagos was proud of this superiority above the rest of her countrymen, and mightily oppressed them. Not satisfied with desolating other places, she set out with an expedition to bring even Badagry in iron fetters to Lagos. But God's justice overtook her. Her forces were recalled to cope with one more powerful. Just at that moment, one of H. M. ships of war arrived to engage the attention of haughty Kosoko, and thus freed Badagry from his intended invasion. Let not the delicate feelings of pious men induce them to look with horror on the dark side of the picture, if they are the true friends of Africa. Lagos is taken. One of the principal roots of the slave-trade is torn out of the soil. The chains of the wretched prisoners are broken; and we anticipate that the place, once filled with groans and murmurs, shall in future years echo the praises of the Redeemer. Afric's sons are not only morally declared free by England's banners, but this circumstance is subservient to the spiritual restoration of that untutored race to liberty by the heralds of the Messiah, when that great event shall succeed.

ABBEOKUTA.

Alarms from Dahomey—Visit of Commander Forbes to Abbeokuta.

In the early part of the year there were constant alarms of a Dahomian invasion; but the Lord has mercifully protected the infant church, and the tribe to which it belongs, from the molestation of their enemies. Abbeokuta was put into a state of defence; and the chiefs received the best counsel and encouragement from the temporary residence amongst them of one of the officers of the navy, Commander Forbes, who zealously undertook this important and benevolent work. He soon won the confidence of all parties at Abbeokuta; and his influence and talents seemed destined to place the civil affairs of Yoruba upon a firm footing, and also to develop her commercial resources. But it pleased God to frustrate these hopes. Commander Forbes was attacked with illness, brought on by his over-zealous exertions, which terminated fatally. His death was deeply deplored by the Missionaries. Mr. Crowther writes, Sept. 22, 1852—

I cannot close this letter without paying some tribute of grateful acknowledgment to the memory of the late Commander Forbes, R.N., whose invaluable services we have lost by his death.

Facility for now travelling about in the country is, under God, owing to his insertion of an article to that effect in his treaties with the chiefs of Abbeokuta, concurrently with the abolition of the slave-trade at Lagos—Art. 2 of the supplementary treaty: "That we will not attempt to hinder the advance of Missionaries, merchants, and others, into the interior." The influence of that lamented gallant officer over the chiefs of Abbeokuta was very great, and his proceedings during his stay here have done a great deal of good in this country. His loss is felt by all, both chiefs and people. I have read and translated Lord Palmerston's most encouraging letter to the chiefs of Abbeokuta, to which they listened with profound reverence and attention, and received the messages with much confidence and gratitude. They are always very attentive to any letter, message, or instruction to them from any authority of Her Majesty's Government.

Progress of the Mission.

The work of the Mission has made a very encouraging progress. The Rev. H. Townsend, at the close of the first quarter, March 25, 1852, writes—

I am thankful, in bringing my journal to a close, to be able to state that I have received thirty-four persons as candidates during the past quarter: four names I have taken from the list for non-attendance, and one from removal to Badagry. I have also received twenty candidates for the Lord's Supper to a participation in that holy rite. The number on my communicant list is 101, having lost one during the quarter by death.

We have been engaged in enlarging our church; the members of my congregation doing the work, and finding grass to thatch it with. I have endeavoured to teach them that it is their duty to provide a suitable place, according to their means, for the worship of God. Our buildings are very poor and unpretending; but, to our comfort, we are confident of this, that God will be present with the humble worshipper who worships "in spirit and in truth."

About the same period Mr. and Mrs. Smith left Abbeokuta, to return to England, for the restoration of their health. He notices the circumstances of his departure in the following terms—

March 23, 1852—We left our Mission premises at Ikija yesterday, about two o'clock P.M., glad to move off, as so many of our dear people came hanging, as it were, upon us, and expressing their sorrow at our leaving them. This morning, about seven A.M., we left our old and dear friends, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, at Aké, and commenced our journey to the coast. It was very touching to me to see so many of our people awaiting our arrival at the water-side, to cross the Ogun with us, and to get a last look, all wishing us God's blessing and a speedy return.

In closing my brief journal, I must say that I much regret leaving Abbeokuta. My temporary church at Ikija is now crowded at every morning service with attentive hearers, inquirers after truth continue to join our candidates' class, and the Sabbath and day-schools have considerably increased also; whilst the heads of the nation are placing their sons and their daughters under our care for instruction. Hence every thing seems full of promise.

At the same time it is not to be supposed that such progress can be made without opposition from the powers of darkness. Mr. Thomas King writes, April 5, 1852—

Though the flame of persecution, as regards the public, is comparatively quelled, yet the underneath fuel of the furnace is still raging, more or less, at one time or another—a proof that the leaven of the gospel is still spreading.

A few extracts are added to mark the growth of true piety among the converts. Mr. Townsend writes—

We have many proofs that Christianity is a vital principle in Abbeokuta. One of my communicants, a short time since, was deeply cursed by a heathen in the public street: the destruction of Oro was imprecated upon him, and all like him; but in a month this very curse fell upon the heathen man. He was given to Oro, and his body dragged about the street, like a dog, for having kidnapped and sold a boy, a native of Abbeokuta. The morning after this occurred I saw this Christian, and said, "David, the curse has fallen upon that man's own head." He could scarcely reply from sorrow. "Yes," he said, "I was not able to sleep last night: my heart gave me no rest because of him." He grieved, not rejoiced, at his enemy's fall.

Mr. Townsend also records the hopeful death of a school-girl.

May 10, 1852—Maria Makanju, one of our scholars, about twelve years old, was the daughter of a native communicant. Her illness lasted about three weeks. She afforded a proof that our Lord and Saviour is working here in the hearts of the young as well as of the old. Before her death, she gave good evidence that a change of heart had been wrought in her, and that she placed unshaken confidence in Christ, the Rock of Ages. Her elder sister once brought her medicine from an idolater, but she refused it with disdain. Two days before her death she begged to be removed to her uncle's, because her mother's grief and anxiety, she said, did her harm. On the day before she died she mentioned the great benefit which she had derived from attending school. The instruction which she had there received greatly assisted her now to bear her severe pain, and she recommended that all parents should send their children likewise. On that day I visited her as usual, accompanied by Mr. Barber, and asked her whether she were afraid to die. With a smile on her face she earnestly said, "Oh, do ask Him to take me away at once!" This, we told her, was wrong, and advised that she should patiently wait the Saviour's own good time. After this we knelt down and prayed with her. We then took leave, and it proved to be for the last time.

Mr. King records an affecting instance of the earnest anxiety of a communicant for the salvation of his heathen relatives.

Feb. 29, 1852: Lord's-day—Both the school and service were well attended this morning. I preached to the people from Mark xvi. 16, endeavouring to explain what it is to be lost. After the service, one of our communicants, who was deeply affected, and much concerned for the souls of his heathen father and sister, came to me, and wept aloud. To my question, "What is the matter with you?" he replied, "See, even the heat of the sun, though coming from such a distance, is quite insufferable; much more the sufferings of those eternal flames you have been speaking of to-day. I have a father at Okeodan, who might be advised to come and live either at Otta or thereabout, beside my sister, who is at Otta, as you saw when you went there last time. If these glad tidings were to be made known to them, they might be led to believe. You said that nothing but unbelief will condemn a soul. Oh, how shall my relatives and countrymen hear these glad tidings!" He was of the Otta tribe or dialect, and was sold here when young; but his redemption was procured some time ago, by the assistance of the Rev. Samuel Crowther. I endeavoured to comfort him, and advised him to pray much for them, that the Lord may send His word to them by and by.

Mr. King also mentions the death of a married female convert, Sarah Oguntolla, the daughter of a pious father. He reports of her—

As regards her attendance on the means of grace she was very regular. Unless through illness, her place, both at Sabbath-school as a teacher, and at divine service, was never, to my knowledge, once seen vacant since my residing in this Station. I am informed by her father and other friends, who were present with her two days before her death, that, though unable to speak, yet was she found now and then on her knees in the attitude of prayer, committing herself to God. It is the belief of all that she has joined the celestial throng above. The fortitude and Christian resignation with which the father patiently submitted to this heavy affliction was quite instructive to all the heathen around.

Several instances are given in which the converts have contributed liberally for the rescue of their Christian friends or relatives from slavery. Mr. Townsend reports—

June 29, 1852—Two of the communicants of Aké church came home to-day from Adu. They found there in slavery a woman who had been a candidate in the Igbein church, but had been secretly sold away by her master, being a home-born slave. They at once paid the sum asked for her, and brought her home to me, trusting that the members of the church at Igbein would refund the money paid, in which, doubtless, they will not be disappointed. We are thankful to witness this fruit and evidence of true religion.

A similar instance occurs in Mr. King's journal, April 8, 1852—

The sum, being made up, was carried to the seller, and Mary Ann Kuforijì, our sister, was set at liberty, and appeared among her friends this evening in His house, uniting with us in prayer and praise to Him who came to proclaim liberty, and to make us free from sin, hell, and the grave. What a striking demonstration that Christianity possesses and inculcates sublimer doctrines than Mahommedanism or paganism, viz. love to God and to one another! And thus, step by step, our people are training to the habit and practice of a self-supporting system.

Disappointments.

It would be a great error, however, to suppose, amidst all we have to be thankful for, that no disappointments occur amongst the converts at Abbeokuta, and that they all are, as our Missionaries would desire them to be, genuine and consistent. This was not the case even in apostolic times, nor is it so either in Abbeokuta, or in any of our Mission fields. The gospel net cast into the sea gathers "of every kind." The Missionaries, after mentioning one or two such cases, add—

These remind us that our church here is not exempt from the same evil which, more or less, tries the faith of the servants of God in other Missions—great disappointment in those of whom we have thought well at first. This will be the case, inasmuch as it is the same evil spirit which is going to and fro in the earth, to entice unstable souls to relapse into their former habits and customs. These cases have excited much sympathy and prayer among all our converts here: they pray for the return of their backsliding brethren, when at the same time they are paying due attention to St. Paul's warning—"Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." 1 Cor. x. 12.

Mr. Samuel Crowther, jun., is engaged in the practice of medicine amongst his countrymen, and is availing himself of the influence which he acquires over them, to bring them to the knowledge of "the truth as it is in Jesus." The following paragraph occurs in his father's journal for Sept. 1852—

Many things have conspired about this time to work favourably to the prosperity of this Mission, one of which is Samuel's knowledge of physic. Our Christian converts, who have long since separated themselves from the practices of their heathen countrymen, especially from the priests, who are also doctors, were very glad to have one thus qualified in the Mission, who could render them bodily assistance in time of sickness; but the heathen would not leave the Christians to enjoy this privilege alone. At first they sought to have access to him through the medium of their friends who were Christians; but when it was known that no difference was particularly made between Christians and heathen in the sale of medicines, the prices being fixed, and the hours to serve them daily being appointed, they gladly availed themselves of the opportunity; so that, in the course of three weeks, the number of patients increased to fifty daily.

Out-stations and Extension of the Mission.

Osielle.

The Out-station of Osielle has been under the charge of a native teacher, being occasionally visited by a Missionary.

Mr. Townsend reports, Dec. 20, 1852—

The work has made considerable progress at Osielle. Several of the heathen have cast away their idols under much opposition, and have embraced Christianity. The candidates for baptism are thirty.

Otta.

Otta is a town between Abbeokuta and Lagos, which has suffered greatly from the intestine wars. But, after the reduction of Lagos, the people pleaded urgently for Christian instruction. They have been visited on several occasions by the Missionaries; and a native teacher, Mr. Morgan, has resided amongst them. Mr. Gollmer writes—

I have good news from Mr. Morgan, of Otta. He says it is inexpressible how anxious the people are to learn. He begs for primers, a handbell, and a sandglass.

Ibadan.

A brief account was given in our last Report of Mr. Hinderer's visit to Ibadan. A few particulars, since received, are here added. He writes—

As far as human eye can discern, this large town is ripe for the reception of the message of the gospel. The poor and working-class, and the aged, are crying and sighing for peace. Again and again have I been spoken to by my numerous visitors in the following strain and terms—God bless you, and help you! You speak always the same word of peace: that is what we want, but our head men are for war. You must come and help us: they will not hear or regard us, but they will hear and regard you, white man.' The warriors and chiefs, on the other hand, are constantly talking of the honour of having a white man among them. When I used to question their sincerity about it, they would answer, 'What think you—we do not want white men among us, to teach us? When we get something fine, when we see something great, when we hear of something very clever, do we say it comes from black man's country, or it comes from Gabas?'—the East. 'No: we say it must come from white man's country. How, then, can you think again we do not want white men to sit down among us to teach us?'

Poor people! shall we neglect them, and delay to enter in by the door of usefulness here opened to us? Nay, there is no time for delay. Mahommedan influence is at work here; and, if we hasten not, may in a little time become sufficiently strong to shut the door against us. It has already made no inconsiderable progress at Ibadan. There is less public display of fetishism, owing perhaps to the numerous Mahommedans. Mahommedan charms are very fashionable, and a rich man and a wicked man, whether heathen or Mahommedan, may be known by the number of Mahommedan charms about his body or in his house.

July 16, 1851—"Words have wings," is a native proverb. Traders from Kano, pretty well in the centre of the Hausa country, paid me a visit to-day, and stated, that, when still in Kano, they heard that Ibadan had received a white man. About a week ago I had a visit from the messengers of the chief of Ede, a town about half the size of Ibadan or Abbeokuta, not quite two days' journey N.E. from here. I treated them with a few kola, and ten strings of cowries for country beer: they, however, made no use of either, but carried them to their chief, as a token that they had seen the white man who had come as far as Ibadan. The chief, upon hearing and seeing this, called some of his elders, and asked them, "Did not our fathers always tell us white men would come from the sea to make the country cold?" meaning, to establish peace in the country. He then produced the kolas and cowries, and said, "Here, look, and see if these are not the first tokens that now our fathers' word will come to pass." This same chief, Temi by name, is said to be very rich, and one of the few on this route of the country who are discountenancing all kidnapping.

The Rev. H. Townsend has advanced into the interior in a northerly direction, the chiefs of Abbeokuta freely permitting him, on one condition—that his own personal services should be reserved for Abbeokuta, and that he should consider that town as permanently his Station. Other white men might settle in the interior, and to this they had no objection.

Mr. Townsend accordingly visited, in August last, a large town called Ijaye, about two days' journey north-east from Abbeokuta, and containing about 40,000 inhabitants. It is situated in that part of the Egba province called Bagura, and is one of the old towns. Its former inhabitants, the Baguras, or rather the Egba Yuras, were driven out by the Yorubas, and now live in Abbeokuta; and the town is in possession of Yorubas, who, amidst the disturbances to which the country has been subjected, had suffered a similar expulsion from their own towns.

The chief, Ikumi, professes to be a great enemy to thieves, and to kidnapping; and, as Mr. Townsend informs us, often punishes with death such as offend after one or two warnings. He is also a great farmer, and encourages every one to engage in the same pursuit. Mr. Townsend, of an evening, has observed with pleasure the people returning from their farms, chiefly men and boys, carrying their loads of farm-produce, or leading along their sheep and goats. "Among them," he says, "may be seen elderly men on horseback, men of property, I suppose."

Mr. Townsend has also been informed that there are two large rivers, larger than the Ogun, not much above two days' journey to the north-east of Ijaye, which flow into the Niger, one called the Obba, the other Eson. This is to us very interesting information, as, should any of these affluents prove navigable, we are in much closer vicinity to the Niger, and the countries bordering on it, than was first thought, when our Missionaries were providentially introduced into the heart of Yoruba.

Mr. Townsend thus describes his interviews with Ikumi—

He asked me for what I had come to his town. I told him, to see him. He began to talk about white men's propensity to walking about. I told him, then, that white men did not walk about without an object; that I, for instance, came to him as the messenger of God, to deliver to him and his people His message; and that, as I was now come, it rested with himself whether the message should be received or not. He said he wished his people to be taught; and I promised, on my part, that they should be taught, he being willing to receive us as religious teachers.

At another interview, Mr. Townsend mentioned his wish to commence building a residence for a Christian teacher, or Missionary. The chief at once expressed his consent. Mr. Townsend asked, therefore, that a site might be assigned to him. Ikumi replied, "What it will please you to take it will please me to give." An eligible spot was selected by Mr. Townsend, and a building erected. Mr. Townsend remarks—

At our first arrival Ikumi had several chiefs from a town called Gbàgbà, near to Šaki, and we were called to be shown to these persons. He asked them if they had ever seen white persons before. They replied, "No, never." He told them that we had come to make the country good, and that, seeing us, who could doubt but that the world would become good. Taking up some of the words of the chief, they got up and danced, and sang—"Whoever says this is not sufficient, must go to another world: this is sufficient for us for ever." Such must go to another world, they mean, before they can see what would satisfy them, who do not consider this that they now see enough. I am told also that Are has sent for several chiefs of towns under his power to come, and see the, to them, great fact, that a white person is now in Ijaye. He made a great point of telling these people that we had taken ground for a house, and had commenced clearing it already.*

The following incident exhibits the wisdom of a bold and faithful witness for the truth—

The annual "custom" of the chief of Ijaye took place late in October, during which the various gods of the country are worshipped and consulted. At this custom the whole of the people of the town are expected to attend, as well as representatives and messengers from places under tribute, and from places in alliance. Knowing that the chief would wish to display his white guests, and feeling that our presence would be an implied consent to a system of heathenism, I thought it wise, as being the first European placed in this situation there, to refuse any participation therein, knowing that, should I do it once, it would form an unpleasant and unwise precedent. I doubted whether the chief would take it well, as he is one who bears a denial ill; but, having considered the matter with prayer, I resolved at all cost not to attend. Before the custom, I sent to him about it, and afterwards went myself and stated that God had forbidden idolatry of all kinds, and therefore he must not expect me to be present at his custom. He seemed to appreciate my motives, and said he could not expect me to do so, as it was contrary to God's law.† The custom lasted several days: a large number of persons from other towns attended, and many expressed surprise that the white people did not attend; but those of the town who knew informed them of the real cause, and hence the multitude became acquainted with our views of the evil of idolatry, I think more effectually than if we had attended and taught them by words.

Mr. Charles Phillips was left behind in this town, as native catechist, on Mr. Townsend's departure for Abbeokuta on the 1st of last December, and we introduce one extract from his journal subsequent to that date.

* Mr. Townsend's narrative of his sojourn at Ijaye is given at length in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for Feb. 1853, pp. 41—45.

† This is the same Ikumi mentioned in the "Church Missionary Gleaner" for May 1850, in connexion with James Gerber's history.

Dec. 18, 1852—This day, about four o'clock P. M., we went to Are's place for the purpose of reading to him the letters of the Rev. H. Townsend and Mr. T. King. We met him with some of the principal men of his town, conversing together. After a few minutes, I embraced the favourable opportunity of introducing myself into their conversation. Are, with his inferior chiefs, listened to me with prayerful attention. Such listening to the word of God I never once witnessed from any of the chiefs I used to visit. Among the words I spoke to them was the explanation of the Ten Commandments, which I read and explained to them fully. After I stopped, Are himself was engaged to interpret the same words to those who came afterwards.

No contradiction whatever is here to be met from any of the people, in teaching the word of God either in public or private. The town possesses only one head. All other chiefs willingly submit to the one head, Are, or king's chief warrior.

Ketu.

Mr. Crowther has visited another important town, two days' journey to the west, called Ketu, with 20,000 inhabitants. Here he found an African king, opposed to slavery, and not permitting a slave-market to be held within his kingdom. The king told Mr. Crowther that he had longed to hear the word which he had brought to his countrymen—that he was willing to receive and protect forty Missionaries, if they should come to him. At this place, a large caravan of traders from a tribe upon the banks of the Niger was present, some of whose countrymen had been liberated in Sierra Leone. They listened eagerly to the words of Mr. Crowther, who held up the Bible in his hand as the gift from above, which revealed the true knowledge of God and the way of peace. Before the caravan left, to return to their country, thirty of them stood before Mr. Crowther a second time, and begged him to repeat his words, that not one of them might be lost in reporting them to their king and countrymen.*

Thus the Yoruba Mission now occupies a wide circle of large and important towns—east, west, and north—connected immediately with the banks of the Niger, inhabited by a commercial people, all speaking the Yoruba language or its dialects—into which language the Holy Scriptures are being now translated.

The Ibos.

In connexion with this extension of the Mission in the Yoruba country, the Committee have to mention another remarkable movement, on behalf of a large tribe inhabiting the west bank of the Niger, called the Ibos. As soon as the Bishop of Sierra Leone arrived in his diocese, he received a petition, signed by 100 liberated Africans of the Ibo tribe, stating that they had long pondered over the efforts made on behalf of the Yorubans, and they could no longer refrain from an earnest petition that Missionaries might also be sent to their country. To such a petition it was impossible to turn a deaf ear, and therefore the Rev. E. Jones and a native catechist of the tribe have been appointed to visit the Ibo country, to make inquiries respecting the establishment of a Mission amongst their countrymen.

Yoruba Translations.

In the course of the last year a new edition of Mr. Crowther's Yoruba Grammar and of his Vocabulary, greatly enlarged, have been carried through the press. This work will facilitate the acquisition of the language by future Missionaries, and assist in new translations. A valuable preface was added to the Vocabulary by the Bishop of Sierra Leone, upon the genius and structure of the language, and its philological position among the languages of Africa.

The translations of Scripture and of the Prayer-book already printed are in much request among the Yorubans. "Our people," Mr. Crowther writes, in a late communication, "are a reading people: they sit for hours together at home, and at their resting-times in their farms, to read their book, and thus become teachers to others in their farms or at home." A translation of the book of Genesis has been sent home, and is now passing through the press at the expense of the British and Foreign Bible Society; and also a translation of St. Matthew's gospel, by Mr. Thomas King.

Mr. Crowther thus concludes his journal for the year 1852—

I have completed a translation of the book of Genesis. Those who are capable of judging will find, in many instances, that the Yoruba language is in some degree Hebraical. The marginal renderings have been followed in many places, which render it easy to translate. The usages and customs alluded to in Genesis are very similar to the usage and custom of this country. I have derived valuable help from Wilson's Bible Student's Guide, presented to me last year by Miss Rigden; and also from Gesenius' Manual and Hebrew Lexicon by Gibbs. I hope these first attempts to put the Yoruba nation in possession of translations of portions of the Old Testament may be accompanied by the blessed influences of God's Holy Spirit.

I am glad also to mention that a translation of St. Matthew's gospel, by Mr. Thomas King, will be received at the same time. I have carefully read and revised it through with him, so as to prepare it for the press with Genesis. I am glad for this help, and for other advantages derived thereby by consultation and discussion upon different subjects in the course of our reading.*

EAST-AFRICA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1844)

Mission Establishment:

3 Ordained European Missionaries.

Second visit of Dr. Krapf to Usambára.

THE chief event of the year in this Mission has been a second visit by Dr. Krapf to the king of Usambára, to ascertain whether he was as well disposed to receive Missionaries into his kingdom as on the former visit, in 1848. This journey was undertaken in the middle of February 1852, and occupied two months. Dr. Krapf was accompanied by the convert Abbegonja. He sailed in a native boat along the coast to the river Pangani, where are situated several villages belonging to the king of Usambára. Here he met with his former guide Minjie Minjie, whom he engaged to accompany him on this occasion to Fuga, the capital of the kingdom. The king's vizier, or mdóe, being in the neighbourhood of Pangani with a party of soldiers, undertook to conduct Dr. Krapf safely to Fuga. The departure being put off for a few days, the Missionary visited Zanzibar. He thus describes his feelings during the night before he landed to commence his journey—

Feb. 21, 1852—I awoke about two o'clock in the morning, and was unable to sleep again, as my mind was agitated by a multitude of uneasy feelings concerning the Usambára Mission. Should I take upon myself the long series of troubles which I well knew would be consequent upon my landing and meeting with the king's officers? Is the time come for the salvation of these benighted regions? Do I follow after the leadings of Providence, or precede them? Is it worth the trouble to approach these heathen, who, as previous experience has shown at all places, evince a desire merely for temporal goods, without regarding the blessings of the soul? These, and many other thoughts, harassed my mind, which was overcast with a gloom inexpressible. With these thoughts I struggled till dawn, when I felt a little of the sweet presence of the Lord, and was put in mind of the words, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which is lost." I then arose, and recommended myself, and the work which was before me, to the grace of God, very urgently entreating of Him to bring my undertaking to nought if it were contrary to His sovereign will. Abbegonja joined me in prayer, and was, at this critical moment, a strengthening to my soul, as his very person gave me an impression of what may become of the million of Wasambára heathen when once the Spirit from on high shall work upon their hearts. This babe in Christ appeared to me like a pledge of the grace of God being ready to manifest itself in this region.

Dr. Krapf found the inhabitants near the coast in a very degraded moral condition, owing to the prevalence of intoxication, and various evils attending on the slave-trade. His journey was through difficult mountain paths and over numerous ravines, beset with many perils, and very fatiguing, occupying a fortnight. He gives the following graphic account of his trials—

March 7, 1852—From day to day I become more tired of my exhausting journey, and often, in a fit of impatience and dissatisfaction, I say to myself, Why do you undertake such a wretched journey, which nobody has schemed but yourself? My companions, too, were highly dissatisfied at the constant winding, and going up and down. Now we creep along an abyss, then again we lay hold of the shrubs and bushes in climbing the dreadfully steep road. In going up we feel the pain in the sinews of the ankles, whilst in descending the knees and thighs are affected. Halting at short distances is impracticable, as we must direct our course according to the distance of the villages, where we can find food and lodging for the night; none of my followers being willing to sleep in the forest, or to encamp at any other place but a village. Travelling in Usambára is far different from travelling in Jagga or Ukambani, where the traveller carries his food and water on the road, and encamps when night overtakes him. A traveller encamping abroad in Usambára would be considered as a highwayman. Besides, the coldness of the night, and other circumstances, would militate against his doing so. For instance, in going up a mountain the traveller would frequently not find one single plain spot where he could stretch his legs: he would be obliged, as it were, to sleep on the roof or ridge of the mountain.

Nevertheless, Dr. Krapf enjoyed in this journey, as in former ones, many tokens of the Divine presence, and his soul was often fired with true Missionary zeal. The following is a description of his feelings upon reaching a high elevation—

The mountain top on which the village of Utinde is built is about fifty yards in breadth. At Utinde we had the loftiest view of nearly all the dominions of Kmeri. I cannot remember having ever enjoyed a more majestic view in Africa. The highest point of Utinde is a solid rock, which stands up like a perpendicular wall, and forms a natural fortress, which would be impregnable. Thence I looked down into the Kerénge valley from a height of at least 5000 feet. No African enemy is able to conquer this mountain, if properly guarded. I never could go near the brink of this tremendous rock without getting a giddy head. However, the natives, and their black cattle, sheep, and goats, are well accustomed to running along the fearful edge of the mountain, where a false step must cause certain destruction. Truly the works of God's creation are astounding and overwhelming! At Utinde I could well observe that the mountains of Usambára surpass those of Bondei in height. The mountain of Bumburri, where the crown-prince Sébuke, or Shebuke, resides, appeared to be the highest. The Usambára mountains terminate toward the great Kikuafi wilderness in the high range of Msíhi, which is governed by a dynasty independent of Kmeri. The ruler of Msíhi has it in his power to shut up the Kerénge valley, which opens into the above-mentioned wilderness. The people of Msíhi have their water and plantations on the top of their mountains, which is, in fact, the case everywhere in this alpine country. How beautiful do the wooded mountains of Bondei appear when viewed from the granite block of Utinde! Not so the mountains of Usambára, which look bare and treeless. How pretty appears the low Kerénge valley, intersected by the river Ngérea, which runs to the Pangani! What a blessed country will this be when once the gospel, and civilization consequent upon it, shall have made their triumphant entrance into these regions of spiritual darkness and death! There will be room for thousands and thousands of new inhabitants. O that the world would know what is really conducive to its temporal and everlasting peace! I went up to the granite block of Utinde, and recommended this remarkable country to the mercy of Him, who has promised to give all nations for an inheritance to the Lamb slaughtered on Golgotha for the sins of the whole world; and I felt great consolation afterwards in speaking with Abbegonja on the many promises given in the Bible for the spread of the gospel over all the globe. These consolations alone compensated me for my most fatiguing journey; for no secular inducement would be strong enough to encourage me to undergo such fatigues, which allow the traveller no regard to his bodily frame, for he must either stand his ground or abandon the journey. When my weary legs would not carry me any further, I often said to my body, Thou must go on, or fall to pieces.

Dr. Krapf thus contrasts the simplicity of the mountaineers with the dissolute moral character of the coast tribes—

The poor people of Hingo had nothing to offer but a little Turkish corn and bananas. How simply and quietly do these natives live upon their cold and lofty mountains, which they dislike to leave often. I am sure a traveller, not knowing by experience the essence of Christianity, would call these people harmless, innocent, and good, for you see them quiet, not noisy nor quarrelling. They appear attached to each other. You see no idols, and scarcely any thing which reminds you of their being pagans. They are not given up to intoxication, strifes, or bloody feuds. They rear cattle, and work in their plantations, to obtain the necessities of life, and care little for the tumultuary bustle of the world. But, viewed in the light of the word of God, what is this simplicity and innocence but estrangement from the living God, whose knowledge in Christ alone can render man truly happy, quiet, and harmless? A superficial observation might make us believe that these lonely mountaineers, residing in their fastnesses, would be more receptive of the gospel than other tribes around them; but I, for my part, am not too sanguine in this respect, for I know the total aversion of the human heart to spiritual matters. When once the gospel shall be carried to these apparently simple and innocent people, their real character will be laid open, and it will be seen that Satan leads man captive on the mountains as well as in the valleys. Still, compared with the noisy, quarrelsome, and tipsy Wanika and Wakamba, they have decidedly the precedence. Fear and worshipping of evil spirits will form a strong barricade against the proclamation of the gospel. Their seclusion from the world, the grandeur of physical phenomena—for instance, of wind and rain—have no doubt impressed upon their mind a deep fear of inferior beings. Still, the Sun of Righteousness will, and must, ultimately triumph over the nipping fog of superstition; and the glorious time will certainly appear, when the bells will resound from mountain to mountain, into the dales and ravines, to assemble these mountaineers for singing the praises of Jehovah, with a heart renewed and sanctified by their merciful Redeemer. Then there will be no mistake about the important position and destination of this wonderful alpine country, the physical conditions and hidden treasures of which demand a fitter describer than myself.

Two short extracts from the journal will further exhibit the spirit by which a true Missionary is animated and sustained.

I read, with Abbegonja, several chapters of the gospel of St. Luke, and we prayed together, and spoke to many natives on the "one thing needful." At this and other opportunities I observed, that dear Abbegonja will not of his own accord speak to the people about spiritual matters. It is not timidity, nor consciousness of inability, but indeed want of zeal, and, consequently, want of internal life and communion with God in general. Still, we must not expect too much from a babe in Christ; but, at the same time, also not cover and hide his defects. A convert who is too slack in professing what he believes to be the truth, must certainly grow suspicious to his spiritual guide, who must therefore feel grieved. . . .

We halted near the brook, and roasted a large quantity of unripe bananas, of which we consumed a part on the spot, keeping the remainder for our journey. It was well indeed that we obtained at this place a large stock of provisions, as without it we should have been miserably off on the following days. This was another of the innumerable proofs I have had of the providence of God, who cares for His creatures in the most minute circumstances. I have always found that God cared for me at a time when it was necessary, though I did not think of it at the moment, but found out afterwards how timely and appropriate His gracious foresight had been. Of a truth He is a gracious God, who knows all our wants, present and future, and who cares for His people in the most special manner, which David, in Psalm xxiii., has so well expressed. To a worldling this remark may seem puerile, but to him who is sensible of God's kindness in his daily occurrences it is a grateful and sweet consolation to know, The Lord cares for me: He "is my shepherd; I shall not want."

Kmeri, the king of Usambára, received Dr. Krapf in a very friendly manner, expressed his pleasure at his return, and renewed his promise that he would protect and encourage the establishment of a Mission Station near the coast; but he showed no inclination to listen to the truth, and in this respect the Missionary left him with a heavy heart. The results of this journey are thus summed up by Dr. Krapf at the conclusion of his journal—

March 30—Having arrived at my former dwelling, I laid down my travelling-staff with humble and hearty thanks to God, who has preserved my life from destruction, blessed me in body and in mind, and prospered my journey, which, as a matter of course, was connected with great troubles and fatigues. My journey has shown that the king of this country is ready to receive the messengers of the gospel; that he will allow them to select any place they like for commencing a Mission. It has shown also that there are many large villages in this country where a travelling Missionary may walk about and address a multitude of people, as soon as he is master of the language. The natives are accustomed to order, and obedience to the powers which are above them. The people are generally quiet, and not without intelligence and desire of improvement. The fearful habit of intoxication, beggary, and lawlessness, which characterises republican tribes, does not exist among them. It is safe to travel in any part of the country, though, of course, temporary disturbances on the frontiers, or at places occupied by the Wasegúa, or exposed to the inroads of the Masai, may be expected. But, on the whole, there is peace and order in the country. The inferior governors are attached to the king, whose children they generally are. The good disposition of the king towards the Missionary will, under the blessing and protection of God, rid him from many embarrassments to which he is exposed in other countries, provided that he behave himself toward the king with due respect and submission, not interfering with the political affairs of the country, and sending, from time to time, a substantial token of respect, by which to acknowledge the kind offices he receives from the king and his governors, who may provide him with food, or assist him with baggage-bearers on his movements in the country. For all such help and friendly service the Missionary must feel grateful, and not give place to the idea, that, because he is a Missionary engaged in a spiritual calling, he has not to thank, or to look up to, the ruler of the country. Such would not be wisdom, but imprudence, which would soon have to deplore its unwise conduct. Whilst the Missionary must not allow himself to crave eagerly the favour and friendship of the great and mighty ones of this world, yet his duty is, always to show a mind grateful for received favours, and to give honour to whom honour is due. And while he does expect little from the mighty ones regarding the salvation of their own souls, and effectual assistance in the spread of the gospel—for not many wise and mighty men are called—yet he must never shun to approach them with the voice of the gospel, for a testimony unto them on the day of revelation. Our Saviour Himself had very little to do with the rulers of the country, for He knew that the gospel would not suit their worldly taste. He looked for the poor, the sick, and the sinners: He sought that which was lost. Hence I would not advise a Missionary to be constantly about the king of Usambára, in the hope or intention of converting first his soul to Christ, and, through him, the souls of his subjects. No, he must keep aloof as much as possible from the king and his court, and address the common people chiefly, unless he be called by the king to be about him and teach him, if he be really desirous of instruction. Beware of the Popish and Jesuitical principle which is directed towards the head of the country, to gain him over to your party by every means. An evangelical Missionary marches up to the hearts and consciences of everybody as he meets him, being persuaded that, as soon as Christ is planted in one, or a few souls, though these be the poorest and most insignificant persons of the country, he has gained more than if he had been able to induce the king to establish Christianity by the force of edicts and military power.

With regard to the means of conveyance, my journey has shown that people will not be wanting, who will carry the baggage of the foreigner to a long distance for a quarter or half a dollar. Relative to the supplies which a Missionary will want in this country, he will receive them direct from Zanzibar, which is nearer to Bondei and Usambára, than to Rabbai and Mombas. In this respect the Missionary in Usambára will have a great advantage over his fellow-labourers in the north.

Furthermore, my journey has shown that there is no country of East Africa better situated than Usambára, whence the Missionary has so much space for extending his operations. He may proceed to Páre, to Jagga, to Unguenu and Ngũ, to the Masai and Wakuafi country, or to Uniamési. There is a road to all these quarters. Hence I cannot but think that the Committee will still insist upon a Mission Station being occupied in Usambára, with a view of extending the Missions to the interior; first, one Station in Usambára, a second in Ngũ, a third on the frontier of Uniamési.

As to the climate, no part of East Africa promises to be more congenial to the constitution of an European, though a trial must be made first in this respect ; for it appears that no European can alight upon the coast of East Africa without paying tribute to some kind of fever, in whatever country he may stay. Whether this is to be attributed to the stranger usually arriving at the time when the rainy season sets in, and consequently the whole nature undergoes a great change and crisis, or whether it may be ascribed to the sudden passage from the European to the African climate, I cannot tell. At all events, it should be tried by new comers not to go to East Africa by the overland steam communication, but to proceed around the Cape of Good Hope, so as to arrive on this coast not too hastily, as it were. The arrival should take place between August and January. I say, a fair trial of this matter should be made. After all, the best preservative against sickness is a living faith, and reliance on the omnipotency of the living God. A Missionary coming to this quarter must be internally prepared to say, "Never mind the fever-period: I will be ready to go through it if the Lord thinks it good and fit for the exercise of my faith, love, patience, and self-denial, as well as for the initiation into my Missionary work. I know that I require a purification before I enter upon the holy work of winning souls to Christ. Let it be sickness, if health be not the means to qualify myself for my vocation. I have often offered myself to the Lord's service when I was at home: now that He has accepted me, and signs His acceptance by trying me on the sick bed, I will not shrink back from my office. Let the Lord kill me—He can make me alive! Let Him bring me to the grave—He can bring me up! (1 Sam. ii. 6.) I know I shall be immortal, and nothing can hurt me, until my day-work is performed on earth." This faith and Christian courage is, I say, the best preservative against fever in East Africa. It is useless to tell a new comer, you must not do this and that: you must not arrive at such a time, or must go by this or that opportunity. This pendency will only embarrass him, and perhaps predispose him for the evil he wishes to avoid. It is therefore better to leave home with a mind prepared to drink the cup of suffering, which will, by a fatherly hand, be presented to him who wishes to rescue immortal souls in East Africa. Let him rejoice in his sufferings for Africa, and "fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in His flesh for His body's sake, which is the church." (Coloss. i. 24.)

Dr. Krapf gives the following more detailed description of the locality assigned by king Kmeri for the first Mission Station, and the dialects which a Missionary will have to acquire—

The whole level region, stretching from the river's mouth to the nearest range of the mountains of Bondei, may be about thirty or forty English miles in extent. These netherlands are exceedingly fertile, though the greater part of them is left in a state of wilderness, owing to the idleness of the inhabitants, and partly to the frequent inroads which the Wasegúa, crossing the river, have formerly made upon the Washinsi residing in these plains. The mount nearest to the coast, and the northern bank of the Pangani river, is called Tongue. The region surrounding the mount is particularly praised by the natives on account of its fertility. I was told, that ten or twelve years back numerous villages and plantations were in existence at the foot of Tongue; but that the inhabitants were forced by the Wasegúa to retreat to the northern region, where they settled themselves at the foot of the mounts Mringa and Pambire, where I met with them. At that time the American and European trade commenced to operate upon the market of Zanzibar, and to pour into it a multitude of fire-arms, which the Wasegúa residing opposite to Zanzibar began to purchase, and by this means to strengthen their warlike propensities, to the detriment of the neighbouring tribes, which of course were compelled to retreat at the first shock, when they were still destitute of superior weapons. The deserted region of Tongue has since become the habitation of elephants and buffaloes. But the former inhabitants have not lost sight of their original home; and there is a general wish among them that the time might come when they would be permitted to return to the lovely and flourishing region around Tongue. The mount is covered with a forest of fine trees, and water is said to be found even on the top of it.

This is the mount to which Minjie Minjie first directed my attention, when I spoke with him about a proper place for the location of a Mission Station in this part of East Africa. I could not, indeed, but admit the appropriateness of the place, when I considered, first, that the mount can be approached in small craft by the Pangani river; and, secondly, that this quarter presents a road to any country which the Missionaries hereafter may wish to visit, or in which they may be induced to form permanent Mission Stations. . . .

A Missionary will require a few months of intense study before he can master the Kishinsi, which is the principal language of the inhabitants of Bondei, or the country situated between the sea-coast, the Pangani river in the south, the Kerénge valley in the west, and the Kidigo wilderness in the east. The Kishinsi dialect bears the nearest affinity to the Kisegúa language, spoken south of the Pangani. The language of Usambára Proper is somewhat different from the Kishinsi, and bears next upon the dialect of Páre and Ngū. The Missionary who shall reside in this part of Africa will have a great philological work before him, but one which will afford him great pleasure and interest. It will be necessary to study the Kishinsi, Kisambára, and Kisegúa, not only because he will have to converse with Washinsi, Wasambára, and Wasegúa heathen, but because one dialect contains the original meaning of a word, which may have been received into another dialect without its signification being known at present. Thus, for instance, "wasímu" signifies "spirits," especially "evil spirits," in Kisambára. This term has been received into the Kisuáheli, in which the original meaning is lost. The Suáheli says, "yuna wasímu,"* "he is mad," a term, the original meaning of which I never could catch from the Suáheli. But now I fully understand it, since I know that in Kisambára it means "spirits."*

The Rev. J. Rebmann returned from his visit to Caïro about the time of Dr. Krapf's arrival at Rabbai Mpia. For the rest of the year the three Missionaries remained at that Station, engaged in the ordinary duties of the Mission. †

DURING the last year, the Committee have had the advantage of a personal conference with the Anglican Bishop of Jerusalem upon the prospects of this Mission, and upon the measures to be adopted in consequence of the extraordinary movements now taking place among the various Christian communities, and the Mahommedans, of the Turkish empire.

The experience of another year has confirmed the Committee in the wisdom of the course hitherto pursued by their Missionaries in making an open protest against the errors of the Oriental churches, and in receiving under Christian instruction all who desire to hear and embrace the truth of the gospel. Events render it each year more difficult for such inquirers to continue in communion with their own church. They have now political liberty to enrol themselves on the civil register of the local Pashas as Protestants; and having done so, they claim the assistance and protection of the Protestant churches, and there appears no just ground on which that claim can be refused.

The Committee have great satisfaction in adding, that the American Episcopal church, at the late Anniversary of their Board of Foreign Missions, announced their entire adherence to these views, after eighteen years' perseverance in Missionary operations at Constantinople upon the opposite principle of co-operation with the heads of the Oriental churches.

General View.

It appears from the journals of Messrs. Sandreczki and Klein, as well as from numerous other testimonies, that the movement in the minds of men is of a mixed character, and arising from a variety of motives. Amongst other elements, there exists, no doubt, that specific one which the Missionary has to do with—a consciousness of spiritual need, and a desire for instruction; and to cherish this as opportunity presents itself, and to be instrumental in increasing it, is the prayer and aim of our Missionaries. It is not, however, easy to discriminate it from other motives and feelings; and, where it is genuine, it exists in great feebleness, and is much hindered in its manifestation by difficulties and hinderances of various kinds. The position of our Missionaries, therefore, is one of much difficulty, requiring, on their part, the wisdom of the serpent combined with the harmlessness of the dove.

Mr. Sandreczki resides at Jerusalem, and acts as Secretary of the Mission, superintending, also, the secular concerns of the Mission, such as Missionary buildings and Schools, holding intercourse with numerous inquirers, and taking occasional tours for the purpose of collecting Missionary information.

Visit to Nablous and Nazareth.

The following particulars are taken from the account of Mr. Sandreczki's visit to Nablous and Nazareth in the summer of 1852—

• June 15—We reached about noon the southern extremity of the large and rich valley, to the west of which extend the ranges of Ebal and Gerizim. We stopped there for a couple of hours during the heat of mid-day, in the shade of olive-trees. At the entrance of the valley, between Gerizim and Ebal, we passed by Jacob's well and Joseph's tomb, and soon afterwards arrived at Nablous, the ancient Sychar.

The next morning I went to see the Bishop's school. I found about twenty children there, in two classes: among the boys of the lower class there were two or three girls. I examined the more advanced in reading, and put questions as to what they had read from the gospel, and exhorted them to become true followers of Christ. There were also five or six Samaritan boys, who come to learn to read Arabic; and Amran, the chief priest of the Samaritans, to whom I had brought a letter, arrived whilst I was examining the children.

Afterwards I visited the Greek school, where I found benches and the usual apparatus of a Lancasterian school. The teacher was a young deacon.

June 18—From Nain to the hills of Galilee we had but a short ride; and after an equally short ascent, which presented one of the finest prospects over the plain to Mount Carmel west and Tabor east, we reached Nazareth about four P.M.

We found our tents pitched in a grove of olives, and but a few minutes afterwards I had the pleasure to shake hands with my beloved brother and fellow-labourer, whom I introduced to my fellow-travellers, and retained in my tent for the evening and night. "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" We had much to talk upon, to consider, to pray for; and we were comforted by the thought, that we were united by faith, and by the concordance of our views and endeavours. To-day began the month of Ramadhan.

June 19—Early in the morning I visited, with Mr. Klein, the school of the children of our Protestants here. The word of God is taught by the Missionary; and the teacher, who is continually controlled by him, cannot swerve from the way pointed out to him. We examined the more advanced boys: some of them have made considerable progress in reading. The teacher himself is a sincere Protestant.

Disturbances had been called forth here in February by the Roman-Catholic zealots, but these are now terminated. The Mutsellim, or Governor, was dismissed by the Pasha, and another has taken his place, with strict orders to protect the Protestants. He is on good-visiting—terms with Mr. Klein. Some of the ringleaders were, or are still, imprisoned, and nobody thinks of renewing the quarrel.

June 20: Lord's-day—Mr. Klein, knowing of my coming, had deferred the baptism of the first child that was to be received into Christ's fold from among the Protestants.

About ten o'clock we all went to the place appointed for divine service, a very large room, which was crowded with men, women, and children, of Mr. Klein's congregation, as well as of the Roman Catholics. The whole service was performed in Arabic; and the solemnity of the act made a favourable impression upon the minds of even those who had only come out of curiosity, as I heard afterwards.

Bishop Gobat's return from Europe.

Mr. Sandreczki thus describes the arrival of Bishop Gobat at Jerusalem, after his return from a visit to Europe—

Dec. 22, 1852—About one P.M. Mr. Klein and I started to meet the Bishop. Near Abru Ghosh, about ten miles distant, we had the gratification to salute our beloved chief pastor and his family. At nearly every step further onward other members of his flock were now swelling the procession, ladies and gentlemen, Europeans and natives, all on horseback. About five o'clock we came in sight of Jerusalem, when all the Abyssinians here present, rushing in a body to the bishop, and stopping his horse, kissed his hand with all the eagerness of love and respect. The sight was touching in the extreme, and many an eye was filled with tears. A little further on all our native Protestants rushed on in the same manner, and, after they had kissed the bishop's hand, they accompanied him, two of them placing their hands behind on the back of his horse, as grooms do in this country. After the bishop had arrived at his residence, the boys and girls of the diocesan school received him with a hymn composed for the occasion by Miss Hovenden. The bishop looked healthier and stronger than when he left Jerusalem, and Mrs. Gobat too. They were accompanied by two schoolmistresses.

May our merciful Lord bless His faithful servant, and may we all unite in faith and love to assist him in his pious endeavours, and cheer his heart under the weight of his many and heavy cares and duties! Amen.

Khaleel Bateeka, the Kojah Bash of the Jaffa Protestants, arrived here with the Bishop, having asked leave to accompany him.

Dec. 25—The morning service of this holy day was solemnized by the baptism of two infants of our native Protestants, and the holy communion was administered to more than seventy members of the English congregation, among whom there were eighteen individuals of the native Protestants of Jerusalem, Nazareth, and Jaffa. We are increasing in number: would to God in godliness and sanctity too!

It must be added, that, at this celebration of the communion on Mount Zion, the elements were delivered by the bishop in three different languages—English, German, and Arabic—to the respective communicants who understood only those languages.

Nazareth.

The Rev. F. A. Klein gives the following report of the work in which he is engaged—

July 30, 1852—There is a movement here and there, as at the time of the Reformation: and, as at that time, much of a merely political and worldly kind is mixed up with genuine love of truth.

The Protestants here may be divided into three classes—
 1. Positive Protestants, with real religious life; only very few.
 2. Negative Protestants, convinced of the errors of the Latin and Greek churches, without, however, having received into their hearts the positive elements of the evangelical Church.
 3. Political Protestants, who merely come in order to be protected from the tyranny and system of oppression of the Greek and Latin churches and clergy. But these latter two give at least testimony to the Protestants, that they love and contend for the cause of truth and equity, and in so far even the latter class only serves to promote the cause of evangelical truth in the country. It is remarkable to see, here and in the villages hereabout, Mahommedans professing to be Protestants—of course, as yet, in a mere political point of view; but I rejoice to see this beginning. At present, many of the Mahommedans begin to see that Protestants love the cause of truth and equity, and they learn to respect and love them, which is a beginning of better days.

Sept. 17—People everywhere tell me they are afraid the English will not remain here and keep up the work. "If we join you now, and you leave us, we shall be worse off than before—without instructor, a prey to our former clergy. We will wait until you have some establishment, to show us that you will stay here."

We want men, we want money. This must be the burden of all our reports, until the Society shall provide both. May the Lord, who is opening doors here, open hearts in Europe, that we may not see them shut through our laziness and want of zeal!

Oct. 5—The congregation here has increased: a little more spiritual life is to be observed too. Arabs want, more than others, "line upon line, precept upon precept." We must have Stations, firm and well provided, at Jerusalem, Nablous, and Nazareth. Every day I am more convinced of this.*

Views of the Bishop.

The Bishop, in his last communication, written after his arrival in Jerusalem, reports that the desire on the part of the Greek and Armenian Christians to join the Church of England is daily increasing. He writes—

We have neither the right nor the power of preventing them from declaring themselves Protestants; but when they have once declared themselves as such, we have no right, before God, of repulsing them. On the contrary, it is then our duty before God and men to do all we can for their spiritual and eternal welfare. Thus, during the course of last year, a goodly number of families and individuals have joined our church, although only 13 or 14 are communicants with us. But all meet every Lord's-day, and two or three times during the week, to hear the word of God simply read and expounded, and to pray together, with the help of the Arabic version of our edifying Liturgy, which they all—Latins and Greeks—like very much. Indeed they like it so much, and its dissemination in this country has had such an effect—chiefly on those who had previously been led to read and study the Bible—that I do not hesitate to attribute the chief cause of the formation of several Protestant communities in this country, from the Greek and Latin Churches, to the well-timed efforts of the Christian-Knowledge Society, which, during the last two years, has circulated, though not through my hands, a great number of copies of their Arabic version of the Liturgy of our church. You know that, from the beginning, my single object was to teach the children, and induce the adult people of this country, seriously to read the word of God with humble prayer, leaving it as much as I could to the Spirit of God to direct their further steps according to the light of the word. But since the Christian-Knowledge Society has stepped in with the Prayer-book, the form of Christianity which the people want has been given; and nothing could prevent them from leaving the Greek and Latin churches, and forming themselves into Protestant communities of the church of England, and thus placing themselves under my care.

Nablous—I believe that the good work is progressing here, though but slowly, for want of a minister. Aoodie Azam, the schoolmaster Yacoob, and a few other Protestant natives, meet on the Lord's-day, and in the week, to read the word of God, and to pray with the help of our Liturgy; but they are in need of one practically to expound the Scriptures, and to apply them to their hearts and consciences. In a short time there will probably be a Protestant community at Nablous, consisting of from 150 to 200 souls, including the children. They press me very hard, begging me to appoint a minister over them, as there is now one at Nazareth. And it is indeed very desirable that there should be a zealous Missionary, at least for Nablous and Jaffa.

Nazareth—The work is being carried on so quietly, and, as far as I know, so prosperously, that I have but little to say on the subject. The congregation of Nazareth consists now of between 180 and 200 souls, and is being consolidated under the fostering care of the Rev. F. A. Klein, of the Church Missionary Society. He has made immense progress in Arabic; and what seems to me to be a sure sign that the blessing of God rests upon his labours, is the fact, that the members of his congregation, who were formerly turbulent and dissatisfied, seem all to be sincerely attached to him, and acknowledge that he is a great blessing to them. You know that by far the greater number of them were formerly Papists. The school there, too, is on a better footing than I could place it, at this distance, previous to Mr. Klein settling there. As a sign that the state of the Protestant church of Nazareth tells upon the surrounding population, is the fact, that in a neighbouring village—Yafa—a good number of people have left the Greek church, with a priest at their head, and constituted themselves into a Protestant community. The priest has been appointed schoolmaster of their children for the present.

Report for the Year 1852.

The Rev. F. A. Hildner reports, in his annual review of his labours at the close of the year 1852—

The Mission schools, now confined to girls only, have continued, during the past year, to enjoy the uninterrupted protection of the local and general government, and favour from all classes of people.

At the public examinations, select chapters of the Old and New Testaments were read in the hearing of a great many people; and it is a standing practice, that among the portions of Scripture committed to memory by the girls, and recited at the examinations, there is always one class or another that repeats loudly the Ten Commandments according to the modern translation of the Bible. It would nearly seem that prejudices no longer exist against such proceedings; but still we may, ere long, have to encounter a new conflict. We will trust in God, as we will also not forget His past loving-kindness.

The number of girls in December was 284.

In the distribution and sale of Bibles and books I have met with no obstacle whatever: only want of time and means has precluded me from doing as much as I wished to do. Still, something more has been effected in this branch than last year. Of the whole Bible, 160 copies have been disposed of; of parts of Scripture, 196; of other books and tracts, 1158.

Mr. Hildner holds divine service each Sunday in English and in German. He writes—

In the more social circles, and worship at my house, I find myself surrounded by a few individuals with whom I read the Scriptures, and with whom I can heartily unite in prayer. Some of them appear to be influenced by the Spirit and grace of God, and they keep close to me, though they have to suffer for it from their friends and neighbours.

American Testimony to the Schools.

It is satisfactory to find incidental testimonies to the fidelity of our Missionary, and the efficiency of these schools, in the publications of kindred Societies. The following notice occurs in the Missionary Magazine published in America by the American Baptist Missionary Union, in a letter from the Rev. R. F. Buel, Missionary at the Piræus—

In the schools of the Rev. F. A. Hildner at Syra I was delighted at the discipline maintained, at the thoroughness of the teaching, and at the prominence given to Bible instruction. Mr. Hildner belongs to the English Church Missionary Society, has been here a quarter of a century, and has successfully resisted every endeavour of the Greek clergy to control or influence the religious teaching in his large and popular establishment.*

SMYRNA.

Mission Establishment :

1 Ordained European Missionary.

Report for the year 1852.

The Rev. J. T. Wolters, and the Greek catechist, Mr. Dalesio, reside in the city of Smyrna. In his Annual Report Mr. Wolters writes—

Sometimes we feel encouraged by some little inquiry that seems to spring up here and there; but soon the ray of light that cheered our hearts for a moment is overclouded, and we are called upon, in our long “night of toil,” to wait and to ask, “Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?” There are a few among the Greeks who have, I trust, been brought from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to the service of the living God, and this through the labours of the Church Missionary Society. If the sainted John Hartley could witness the fruit of his labour of love, in the steady walk and Christian conduct of some who heard the blessed Gospel from his lips, how would he rejoice, and praise the Lord!

As in former years, I have continued the German service every fortnight. I have taken regular part, also, in the English services, assisting the British Chaplain; and, since August last, I have been acting for him during his absence. I have continued the Greek service every other Sunday at my house. It has been attended by several of the English community, and by three native Protestants, besides our own families. I am sorry to say that no other Greeks attend at present. Some, who used to come a year ago, have gone to other places; and others, unwilling to be in earnest about their souls' salvation, and to bear the reproach of Christ, stay away. Three native Protestants appear to be sincere. The eldest of them is a copper-smith. He was received into the communion of the Church of England more than eight years ago, and some of his children have been baptized by me.

For conversational preaching opportunities have been found, though not so frequent as we desired. Mr. Dalesio has availed himself of these opportunities with his usual zeal and ability.

We have carried on the circulation of the Scriptures, and other books and tracts, to some extent. Much more might be done in this important branch of our labours, had we the means of opening a book-shop and employing a colporteur. The book-shop might also afford many opportunities of conversational preaching. I have always made it a rule not to give away books indiscriminately, but only when and where there is a hope that they will be read. Many, and especially the educated and learned, disdain our books; and so does the bigoted boaster of his orthodox and apostolical church. But there are others who receive and appreciate them.

Missionary Tour.

In May last Messrs. Wolters and Dalesio proceeded on a Missionary tour in the interior, visiting Thyatira, Philadelphia, &c. While there was much to deplore, in the apathy of the Turks and the superstition of the nominal Christians, a few incidents occurred of a more cheering character. On one occasion they were received with hospitality at the country-house of a Greek lady, whose household was assembled for reading the word of God and family prayer. She had been once a pupil in the Missionary schools under the direction of the Rev. J. A. Jetter. "It is cheering to reap," writes Mr. Wolters, "even now, here and there a fruit of those schools." We give a few extracts from Mr. Wolters' journal.

May 10, 1852—We had some interesting talk with an old Turkish effendi at Cassaba, a learned man, who loves, as he says, the Protestants, because they follow the gospel. This old Turk reads the Scriptures, and our other books, with much attention. Our friend often has very interesting conversations with him. May the Holy Spirit enlighten him to know and believe "the truth as it is in Jesus."

May 12—We arrived at Thyatira at noon: There are a few individuals here who read the Scriptures, and have even taken the decided step of declaring themselves Protestants. One of them, whose acquaintance I had previously made at Smyrna, on hearing of our arrival in the khân, came immediately to see us. This man seems to be really in earnest about the truth, and I trust the Lord has begun a good work in him.

Our Greek Protestant friend told us of the little awakening at this place, and how much they had to suffer for the name of Christ. "Even now," he said, "the two gates of the khân, in which you are, are watched by the Greeks, to see who goes out and in." Had it not been for the firmân, given by the Sultan to his Protestant subjects, a severe persecution would probably have been the consequence of this awakening. But now the Greeks cannot take up open arms against the Protestants without transgressing the law of the Sultan. All they can do now is to annoy them secretly. To do this they find of course many occasions.

The heat of the day being over, our friend took us out on a walk to a garden, where we found another Protestant Greek. He is a gardener, and a poor man, who, from the beginning of his awakening, has remained faithful and consistent in his conduct. This man made a good impression on me. The meek, humble, and cheerful expression of his countenance seemed to bespeak the influence of the gospel on his heart.

In the evening, Joannes, a Protestant Armenian, visited us. He has been in Georgia (Tiflis) and Persia (Tebris), where he paid a visit to one of our German Missionary brethren, the Rev. C. F. Haas. It was at that time that his attention was first directed to the gospel. But a deeper impression he received not long since. He, too, seems to be in earnest. There being no other Protestant Armenians here with whom he can associate, he has joined the few Protestant Greeks, and meets with them for the purpose of reading the word of God.

I have already referred to the annoyances to which these Protestant brethren—I think there are four or five—have been exposed, on account of their having embraced Protestantism. For a long time nobody would salute them in the streets. Lately, the Sultan's firmân was read at the konak (the Governor's office), and since that time they have been a little more at ease. Some even begin to salute them again. I trust a light has been kindled here, which shall shine forth in the spiritual darkness of this place. May the Lord open the hearts of many to attend to the things concerning their everlasting salvation, as he once opened the heart of "Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city Thyatira." Acts xvi. 14.

May 13—Two of our Protestant friends, Georgios the Greek, and Joannes the Armenian, called on us early this morning, and united with us in prayer.

We not only provided the few Protestants here with books and tracts, but left with Georgios a small supply for sale and distribution.

Joannes and Georgios united again with us in prayer this evening.

May 14—We arose at four o'clock this morning, and our friends were there already to take leave. We united once more in prayer, commending the brethren "to God, and to the word of His grace, which is able to build them up, and to give them an inheritance among all them which are sanctified."*

talists under training as native teachers. It is conducted in all respects upon the principles which have ever characterized this Society; and the important assistance which it may render to our operations are well described in the following extract from the last report of the College—

All our Missionary Societies are declaring the want of well-qualified native Missionary Agents for their several fields of labour; and the Malta College being, from its central position between Europe, Asia, and Africa, as well as its Missionary character, admirably suited to supply this want, has a strong claim on the support of every friend of the Missionary cause.

The Bishop of Jerusalem visited the college at the close of last year, on returning from Europe to the East. The following are extracts from a letter written to a friend in England, dated Jerusalem, December 29, 1852—

As you are perfectly acquainted with the statistics of the college I will say nothing on the subject, beyond expressing the pleasure I felt, on my arrival, at beholding about eighty well-behaved boys and youths, of various countries, nations, and complexions—Abyssinians and Egyptians, Syrians and Persians—and having formerly belonged to almost as many religious parties. Moslems and Jews, Copts and Greeks, Nestorians and Papists, &c., now living in the atmosphere and under the continual influence of the pure word of God, of which—as I had the best opportunity to observe—a goodly number both of boys and youths have more or less experienced the power during their stay in the college. I could not refrain from tears of gratitude when I saw them all devoutly kneeling, whilst an Italian, who but a few years ago was a blind Papist, or one who was formerly a blaspheming Jew, &c., was offering up a prayer to God, in the name of Jesus Christ, full of life and unction, for the outpouring of the Spirit of God upon Israel, Italy, Turkey, &c., each putting a peculiar emphasis upon the country or the people with whom, by nature and former habits, he was more particularly connected. I felt the more thankful when I remembered, that, but for the Malta college, by far the greater number, especially of boys, would most likely have grown up, if not altogether without instruction, yet without the word of God; that is, without God, without Christ, and without hope in the world.

The adults are divided into European and Eastern students, the former intending to enter the ministry, and of whom I will only say that they promise to become a very useful class of persons to evangelize these countries. The department of Eastern youths, to be educated as clergymen, evangelists, schoolmasters, &c., is still in its infancy; but by degrees it must not only become the most important department of the Malta College, but perhaps the most important branch of all Missionary operations.

The developement of this branch depends chiefly henceforth upon the support which the college shall receive from the Christian public.

The sons of Protestants, and of some wealthy Greeks and Armenians, pay for their education, but the Eastern students must be supported by the public; and if I could only convince the public how well the Malta College deserves their sympathy, and how much we need their help in training men of God for this country, now open to the gospel, I shall have attained my object in writing this letter.

The Missionary Force.

THERE have been in this Mission many alterations. The Rev. C. W. Isenberg, we regret to state, has been compelled, from ill health, to return, with his family, to Europe. And the Rev. C. C. Schreiber—having been removed, in the first instance, from Karachí to Nasik—has been compelled to take the same course. The Mission has been joined by one new Missionary, the Rev. A. Matchett, appointed to Sindé.

In the locations of the Missionaries remaining in the field, various alterations have taken place. The Rev. E. Rogers has been removed from Bombay to Karachí, to be associated with Mr. Matchett in that new Mission; the Rev. J. S. S. Robertson has been removed from Nasik to Bombay; the Rev. C. C. Mengé from Junir to Nasik; and the Rev. Daji Pandurang from Nasik to Junir.

The native flock, numbering 56 individuals, of whom 22 are communicants, is in charge of Mr. Robertson, who conducts the native services at Trinity Chapel. Their spiritual state is low, and the diversity of languages spoken by them interferes much with their effective instruction. The divinity class, which has accompanied Mr. Robertson to Bombay, and continues to benefit by his experience and teaching, consists of four students, of whom he is enabled to report favourably.

At the last review of the Bombay Mission, this Institution was under the joint charge of the Rev. E. Rogers and the Rev. W. S. Price. The health of Mr. Rogers being found unequal to the necessary duties, he was transferred to the Sinde Mission, and Mr. Price remains in sole charge of the Institution—one of the native catechists, Sorabji Carsetji, being placed at his disposal to assist him, and the head monitor, with the same object in view, having been advanced to the position of assistant teacher.

A considerable increase has taken place in the number of the pupils. At the end of 1851 there were in the English school 156 pupils; and in the Marathi, 157: total, 313. At the close of last year the pupils in the English school were 230 in number; and in the Marathi school, 175: total, 405. If suitable accommodation were afforded, in all probability the increase would be still greater. Besides this, Mr. Price has been cheered by the baptism of one educated young man, Balaram Gunput, who was received into the visible church on September the 16th. This event, and his subsequent application to the Supreme Court for the recovery of his wife, caused much excitement amongst the native community at Bombay.

The Bishop of Bombay, in a letter dated April 13, 1852, thus writes—

The Money Institution is a sphere of large promise to any active and able man. May the Spirit descend on our Universities at home! I would I could have had some of our Christian academicians with me yesterday in three idol temples! It was horrid indeed: their hearts would have been moved within them.

An orphan-school has been connected with the Money Institution, of which Mr. Price writes—

Most of the children formerly under the care of Mrs. Robertson, and constituting the orphan-school of Nasik, were in May last transferred to Mrs. Price. Since that time we have had several additions, chiefly of destitute heathen or Roman-Catholic children, who have been snatched from destruction, and committed to our care by one or other of the magistrates. Some, from various causes, have been removed. The number at present is 14—9 girls and 5 boys. They are daily instructed, through the medium of their own language, in reading, writing, arithmetic, and geography. It is not intended to teach them English at all, except in some special case, where circumstances may indicate its desirableness.

The Vernacular Schools.

The undesirableness of employing heathen schoolmasters in the Missionary schools has been increasingly felt. It has been decided not to establish any new schools for which a Christian teacher cannot be found, at least for the communication of religious instruction. For this reason also the divinity class has been transferred from Nasik to Bombay, that the entire Christian instruction communicated in the schools might be placed in the hands of the students. There are ten of these schools under the charge of Mr. Robertson, in which the religious instruction is given by the catechists, Messrs. James Wilson, Appaji Bapuji, and Dadabhoy Dossabhoy. The average attendance of pupils is 630.

There are eight girls'-schools, under the charge of Miss White, containing 362 pupils, with an average attendance of 340. Of these schools the Bombay report thus speaks—

Miss White, the superintendant of our native female-schools in Bombay, has continued her valuable, but quiet and unobtrusive labours, during the past year. Both the attendance and progress of the children have been satisfactory, and furnish ground for hope that the seed sown will, in due time, bring forth an abundant harvest.

To this we add the following notice of a new Marathi school commenced in Bombay under the care of Mrs. Jerrom, widow of the late Rev. T. Jerrom, superintendant of the Money Institution—

Mrs. Jerrom, who, on the lamented demise of her husband within three months of her marriage with him, diligently gave herself to the study of Marathi, that she might become qualified for usefulness in the Missionary field, has been retained in connexion with the Church Missionary Society, with a view to labouring among the native females of this island. Disregarding the considerations of personal comfort and convenience, she has set herself down in the midst of the native population, and has gathered around her a school of 40 boys and 27 girls, whom she assembles daily under her own roof, and gives up her time and strength entirely to them. We trust that the influence of her instruction and example will soon bring forth fruit to the glory of God. The catechist, Mr. James Wilson, has a weekly meeting in Mrs. Jerrom's school-room, in which he finds much encouragement.

NASIK.

This Station is in charge of the Rev. C. C. Mengé, assisted by the probationary catechist Godaji. During the year 1852 three adult females were baptized. There is one English school containing 20 boys, four Marathi boys'-schools with 272 pupils, and one Hindustani school with 16 pupils.

Mr. Mengé gives an interesting account of

May 2, 1852: Lord's-day—I had Marathi service as usual, and after the second lesson baptized three women, inmates of the Poor Asylum.

One of these women is afflicted with black leprosy. Last cold season, when we had pitched our tent at Manchur, in the Junir districts, she came and begged alms of us. My wife spoke to her about the love of Jesus to sinners; and as we found her attentive, and willing further to be instructed in the Christian religion, we entreated her to give up her sinful course of life, and to come to Junir, where she would be taken care of, and receive daily instruction in the blessed truths of the gospel. She joyfully accepted the offer, and brought with her another woman, who was in the habit of preparing food for her, she herself having lost the use of her hands. Sukkhoo, the leprous woman, evinced a heart prepared to receive the gospel. As the Lord opened the heart of Lydia, so this poor woman was deeply affected when she heard of the sufferings and death of Christ. Tears of joy, mingled with sorrow, were often seen trickling down her cheeks when she heard of the inexpressible love of God towards her. We soon found that the grace of God was working in her heart, and she herself began to ask to be received by baptism into the church of Christ.

Conversation with a Hindu gentleman.

May 4—I had a visit from the Sirdar Bhao Sahib Pēteh, and conversed with him about the Christian religion, at the same time urging upon him to give up idolatry, and worship God through Jesus Christ. His answer was, that he did not worship the image itself, but the Deity which it was intended to represent; and that, in fact, both Christians and Hindus worship the one great God. I showed him the immense difference between the Hindu and Christian religions, and entreated him to look unto Jesus, who was indeed “God manifest in the flesh.” The ancestors of this Sirdar built three temples in honour of the idol Krishna, which were supported by the late Peshwa, and for the maintenance of which he now receives 300 rupees per month.

JUNIR.

The Rev. Daji Pandurang, native Missionary, is in charge of this Station. The native flock consists of six persons, of whom four are communicants. One adult, a Mahar, named Luximon, has been baptized during the past year. There are in connexion with the Mission three schools—two boys’-schools, containing 75 pupils, and one girls’-school, containing 7.

General State of the Work.

The following extract from the Bombay Report presents a succinct view of this Station—

This Mission may be strictly said to be in its infancy. It is with it, as yet, not only “the day of small things,” but of the smallest things. But even this is not despised by the Lord of Hosts. Let us take heed that we are like-minded with Him. Let us strengthen the hands of our dear native brother by earnest prayer and supplication on his behalf. We hope much from his energy, zeal, and devotedness.

Daji reports—

“In addition to public preaching in the town and villages, during the past year, I have daily assembled, at nine in the morning, the teachers, children of the school in the Mission compound, and the servants of the establishment, for reading and expounding the word of God to them. On every Lord’s-day morning, at eight o’clock, all the schools have been collected in the Mission compound, and a lecture has been given by me on the claims of the Christian religion. Afterwards, a Bible-class has been held with the two senior classes and the schoolmasters. In addition to this, I have held two other Bible-classes, the one on Tuesday and the other on Friday afternoon. Essays have been written, by those who attended this class, on some religious subject proposed to them before hand.”

Daji’s experience leads him to prefer itinerating as much as practicable, in which we are glad to encourage him. Last cold season he made a tour of considerable extent in Candeish, and was much gratified by the attention with which his message was heard. He had the opportunity of baptizing four persons—one adult and three children. He has recently returned from a tour in the neighbourhood of Aurungabad, whither he had gone to examine eight or ten candidates for baptism, under the instruction of the Scripture-reader, Ramji; but he did not find them sufficiently prepared.

MALLIGAUM.

This Station is under the charge of the Rev. James Bunter, the native Missionary. The following are extracts from the #### Report of the Bombay Corresponding Committee.

Mr. Bunter has steadily carried on his quiet and valuable labours at this Station. His time is principally occupied in the pastoral charge of the native congregation; but he is also diligent in embracing opportunities of making known the gospel to the heathen.

The number of the Christian congregation is 33, exclusive of Mr. Bunter’s own family: of these, 4 only are communicants. At Dhulia, a branch Station under Mr. Bunter, are 9 Christians, of whom two are communicants. During the past year he has had the privilege of baptizing 10 persons—5 adults and 5 children. At Dhulia a Romanist has renounced the errors of Popery, and applied for admission into the Protestant church.

During the past year Mr. Bunter has often preached in the town of Malligaum, and in the neighbouring villages. He has generally been received with respect, and heard with attention; but on one occasion the hostility of the Brahmins broke through restraint, and caused him to be driven out of the town.

Mr Bunter reports that he has sold a large number of tracts in the neighbourhood, which is a matter for much thankfulness.

Mrs. Bunter conducts a school for Christian children in the Mission compound, consisting of 8 girls and 6 boys. There are also two schools for natives—one English, and the other vernacular.

Our native brother possesses a great advantage in the counsel, support, and encouragement of Mr. Laing, to which excellent friend of the Society we take this opportunity of expressing our grateful acknowledgment.

KARACHÍ.

General View of the Sinda Mission.

The Sinda Mission was commenced at the close of 1850, when the Rev. C. C. Schreiber and Mrs. Schreiber proceeded to Karachí. In March 1851 Mrs. Schreiber was removed by death—not before she had let her light shine in that dark place to the glory of God. Mr. Schreiber having been transferred to Nasik in April 1852, the Rev. A. Matchett and the Rev. E. Rogers arrived on the 1st of May at Karachí, to prosecute the work. They have both been diligent in the study of the Hindustaní and Sindhí languages, in which they have made good progress. A Marathí service is held by Mr. Rogers each Sunday morning in the Mission house, for the benefit of the Marathí-speaking people of the bazaar and camp, and an Hindustaní service each Lord's-day evening.

There are twenty native Christians at Karachí who attend divine service. Of these, two were baptized at Karachí by the assistant-chaplain, the Rev. W. Carr. None of them are Sindhís. There are amongst them three communicants.

The free-school at Karachí, established some years ago by Captain Preedy and other zealous friends, has been transferred to the Society; and Mr. Seal, the native convert under whose charge it has been, has been received as a catechist of the Society.

Baptism of a young Mussulman.

Even in this very early stage of the Mission the labourers have been cheered by a few converts, as the fruit of their instructions. The case of one of the converts who has been admitted to baptism presents many features of special interest and encouragement.

A young Mussulman, named Abdullah, resigned an official appointment between four and five years ago in order to attend Mr. Seal's school, and study the evidences of the Christian religion. He was a talented young man, but too proud of his reasoning faculties. He studied, with great assiduity, at the same time both the Bible and the Korán—to find fault with the one, and to defend the other. He wrote a great deal against Christianity, in the shape of a pamphlet, which he afterwards destroyed, having seen the fallacy of his own arguments. At the commencement of last year, hearing the Mahomedans repeatedly assert that the miracles of Mahommed could be proved true to any man's satisfaction, and charge him also with unfairness and a want of examination of those evidences, he framed a set of questions, and sent copies of them to the molwís of Bombay, Agra, and Amballa. The Rev. C. T. Hoernle, through whose hands the questions were sent to Agra, gives this account of them—

Abdullah has evidently studied the Nizam-ul-Haqq [the Rev. C. G. Pfander's controversial work] with great care and attention. His questions comprise the chief topics discussed in that book: they are short, but striking, and bring the controversy to certain tangible points. Whilst they are puzzling the Moslems, the introductory remarks of Abdullah's papers are interesting to the Christians. The following is a translation—"I was born a Mahomedan, and, at my twenty-fourth year, am still of the same religion; but I now perceive, by the exercise of my intellect, that the Mahomedan religion is false, and the Christian true, because there is no proof whatever of the inspiration of Mahommed: therefore I am urged, by the fear of future punishment, to ask the sages of Islam, if the religion be really true, to prove it to me; and it is their bounden duty either to prove or to forsake it. With this view I have prepared a few questions for my own peace of mind, and entreat a fair and reasonable answer, such as shall aid me in searching the truth. May the Almighty direct me to Himself, and let Him not be displeased with me!"

Abdullah thus described his own state of mind in a letter to Mr. Hoernle, Feb. 12, 1852—

I am very unhappy at present: the thoughts of giving up parents, relatives, &c., is on the one hand revolting, while on the other hand I feel a dread of giving up all thoughts of religion. I cannot defend Mahomedanism: I cannot falsify Christianity. But if the miracles of Mahommed can be proved to be true, I would be thrown into an abyss, without hope of ever getting out of it. May God have mercy upon my soul, and lead me in the right way! I shall be happy to have your remarks upon the replies given to my queries by any molwí. The sooner I am favoured with the replies the better, for, I repeat, I am very miserable.

No replies were given. But light gradually shone into his mind. He fully embraced the truth, and was baptized by our Missionaries.

The Beni Israel.

The following notice of a visit from two of these people is given in Mr. Matchett's journal—

June 26, 1852—To-day two Beni Israelites called upon us. Their names were Shalom and Moses. They understood Marathí, but very little of Hebrew, except how to read the Hebrew character fluently. We pointed them to one or two Psalms in the Hebrew Bible. One of them read a verse in the Hebrew, and then the other read the same verse in the Marathí Bible, and so on. This put me in remembrance of Nehemiah viii. 8. Their manner of reading resembled the intonation in our cathedrals at home. They freely acknowledged, that before Christian Missionaries visited India they had sunk into idolatry, and that they were indebted to them for their deliverance from it.*

The Expected Fall of Hinduism.

Striking evidence is frequently afforded, in every part of India, that the most learned and observant Hindus are sensible of the approaching fall of Hinduism, and trace it to the labours of the Missionaries. One of the native professors of the Government college at Bombay has published a clever book in defence of Hinduism, in which he makes these notable admissions—

In 1814 all Hindustan became subject to the English; and since that time the ministers of the Christian religion have, by their instructions, turned the minds of many from Hinduism to Christianity. This work of conversion is still going on, and doubtless thousands of Hindus will forsake their own religion, and become Christians.

The ancient and noble edifice of Hinduism is now on all sides stoutly assailed by the adherents of a hostile faith; and we are filled with dismay at finding that there is also treason within. No wonder that the venerable structure is already nodding to its fall. I, by means of this little book, seek to prop up the building; but when its size and its ruinous state are considered, what hope is there that such a feeble prop can prevent its falling? But, as in the case of one who is labouring under a complication of diseases, and who evidently must soon die, we continue even until death to administer medicines, even so do I minister to the decaying system of Hinduism. Hinduism is sick unto death; I am fully persuaded that it must perish; still, while life remains, let us minister to it as we best can. I have written this book, hoping that it may prove a useful medicine. And if it be so fated, then possibly the patient may even yet recover.†

Introductory Remarks of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee.

THE Corresponding Committee make the following general remarks upon the aspect of the Society's Missions in this Presidency at the close of the year 1852—

As steadiness was a distinctive feature of our last year's experience, it may be said that the year, of which we now report, has been distinguished in Indian Missionary work generally, as well as in our own department of it, by progress: progress not to vaunt of, nor to rest in, but on account of which "to thank God and take courage."

It has also been a year of unexampled pecuniary prosperity, and our thanks to the great and gracious Giver of that prosperity must be of the humblest character. We can claim no credit for it, not even that of activity and earnestness in solicitation. Of these there has been little need, for most of our funds have flowed in upon us unasked; and with humble gratitude we receive them as from the Lord, for of Him alone cometh true prosperity. The amount received by this Committee, in subscriptions, donations, and collections, obtained in this country, during the year ending September 30, 1852, including the Punjab Mission fund, was Company's rupees 29,001, a total which exceeds by several thousand rupees the collections even of our Jubilee year. At almost every Mission station there are also separate contributions to local objects, which bring up the total contributed in North India to the operations of the Church Missionary Society to the very considerable total of about 80,000 rupees.

CALCUTTA.

Progress of the Mission.

The arrangements of this Station have undergone but little change during the year. In most of its departments there are some gratifying appearances of progress, as far, at least, as the work of the Lord among unbelievers is concerned. The increased attendance at the preaching chapels; the numerous applications for the Holy Scriptures; the enlargement of the previously large boys'-school-room on the Amherst Street Mission premises, rendered necessary by the increasing number of boys in attendance; and the erection of a large new school-house for vernacular instruction at the eastern suburb of Calcutta—all are evidences of progress in the work.

The plan of sending native Christian readers to the houses of the Christian community, to read the Holy Scriptures to the native servants, has been carried on during the year. Nearly 100 families are visited weekly, and the Scriptures are read weekly to nearly 900 native servants in the abodes of their employers. A Chinese Christian reader is also employed, to visit the Chinese inhabitants and to read the Scriptures to them.

The Rev. J. Long and Mrs. Long continue to visit Thakerpuker each week, spending the Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, at the Mission bungalow, in order to carry out the principle of native agency under European superintendence, "which," writes Mr. Long, "I have found to work well here: avoiding the evil of making a Missionary a mere pastor, and the natives under him mere pupils; while, on the other hand, regular periodical visits keep every thing right."

Mr. De Rozario reports an accession of three converts during the year at Agurparah, and the declaration of three or four pupils in favour of Christianity. The case of one of these converts is peculiarly interesting, as showing how Christianity in a heathen land leads to the disruption of domestic ties. Mr. De Rozario gives the following account of the case—

The third convert is the wife of our head teacher, a respectable female, of the Kayst caste, who had been kept away from her husband for about nine years, in consequence of his conversion and baptism in 1842. But he has now the satisfaction of seeing her an humble and sincere believer under his own care. During the nine long years of their separation he made several attempts to obtain her, but he was not allowed even an interview before last year, after her father's death, and that by lawful authority, in the presence of her friends. He spoke to her very feelingly, seriously, and determinately, and asked her if she was willing to join him. She asked for time to consider on the subject, and in a few days made up her mind to follow him. After this, she was as anxious to learn every thing of Christianity as her husband was to teach her. And, although she came with most of her Hindu prejudices, they have all vanished now, and Christian truths and Christian principles have taken their places. She applied herself diligently to learn to read the Bible in her own language; and a year after her return to her husband she expressed a desire to be baptized, and was accordingly received into Christ's church by baptism in August last. I must only say, in conclusion, that her case is not a mere nominal profession for her husband's sake. Her state of mind and feelings, her views of things, as I hear from her husband; her general conduct, and her deportment at church; her desire to read the Bible and other Christian books, &c., all tend to work a conviction that she is now a really converted character.

Number of baptisms.

The whole number of baptisms which have taken place in the Calcutta Mission during the year is twenty-five, of whom seven were adults, and the remainder children, ten being the children of native Christians, and eight native orphans adopted by the Mission.

Education.

The schools have kept up to the average of last year, The Amherst-street English school has been under the superintendence of the Rev. S. Bost. The industrial system in Mr. Long's school at Thakerpuker continues to answer well.

In January 1852 the Rev. R. Clark, proceeding to the Punjab, visited the Agurpara school, and took part in an examination of the pupils: he gives the following account of it—

On arriving there, we found assembled in a good, large, well-built schoolroom, 300 boys almost all heathen, and all speaking English. I examined one of the classes, and was agreeably surprised with their progress: many of the boys could beat University men in their knowledge of Scripture, though the one are Christians and the other heathen. They were examined in English, Indian, Roman, and Grecian history, Old and New Testaments, Evidences of Christianity, geometry, natural philosophy, algebra and arithmetic, physical geography, &c. The upper boys, many of them married, were from 17 to 19 years old. The thing which struck me the most was this—that grown-up, educated persons could know so much of the evidences of Scripture and of Christianity, and could give such a good account of them; could themselves expose the fallacy of heathenism; could explain the folly of idolatry; could rationally and clearly declare all the principal and fundamental doctrines of Christianity, and even allow that their own personal and individual condemnation would hereafter be greater if, after hearing of and knowing the doctrines of the gospel, they did not embrace them—all which they most plainly and unequivocally did in my hearing; and yet, after all, remain heathen. I saw, and carried away with me, two of the themes of the older boys, giving an account of Hinduism, Mahomedanism, and Christianity, and comparing them with each other; and these heathen boys characterise their own religion as “absurd and unreasonable,” and declare the depravity of all men, their necessity of a Saviour from sin, and plainly write about salvation by faith in the Redeemer; and yet, while they know it all as well as a man can know it, they still treat it with the same indifference as any other subject about which they are taught, and remain as much heathen as before. As Mr. Sandys, one of the Missionaries, said, “There is nothing wanted there, but the Spirit of God to breathe upon the 'dry bones;' and indeed, if this be a fair example of Missionary schools, it seems to me that the friends to Missions in England have much more need to exert themselves in prayer to God for the outpouring of that Spirit, than even to exert themselves to obtain money to extend Missionary operations.

Mr. Long makes the following important remarks respecting the native press in Calcutta—

I have felt it a call of duty, during the last two years, to devote considerable time in Calcutta to subjects connected with Bengali literature in its bearings on the objects of Missions, and in the formation of an indigenous literature for native Christians. Calcutta issues from native presses, annually, not fewer than 30,000 volumes in Bengali: amongst these are more than twelve newspapers and periodicals. Some forty native presses furnish a supply of intellectual food, much of which is any thing but favourable to Christianity. I have a good deal of intercourse with the parties at the head of those presses. Calcutta is, in this respect, a very important sphere, and I have given to it as much time as I could spare. I have devoted the hours before breakfast, and the afternoon, in Calcutta, to subjects of this kind, and I trust not without some encouraging results: in fact, it is at the present time so peculiarly important a sphere, that, to enter into it efficiently, it would require one's whole time. The vernacular library established here has been much resorted to during the year.

BURDWAN.

Death of the Rev. J. J. Weitbrecht—Consequent arrangements.

The heavy loss sustained by this Mission in the removal, by death, on March 1, 1852, of the Rev. J. J. Weitbrecht, was mentioned in the last Report.

Seldom has a Missionary been called away amidst more general, we might almost say universal, regret and respect; seldom has one been enabled to labour on for so long a period as one-and-twenty years in India, with such general acceptance of his labours amongst both natives and Europeans; or to maintain more undeviatingly the Christian path in an evil world, and to act up to the apostolic direction, "not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."*

The Rev. B. Geidt, who was for some years the co-adjutor of Mr. Weitbrecht, has carried on the Mission; Mrs. Weitbrecht continuing in charge of the orphan girls'-school, until the cold weather enabled her to return to Europe. The Rev. A. P. Neele and Mrs. Neele, newly arrived from England, have been assigned to Burdwan, to assist Mr. Geidt, and take charge, amongst other things, of the orphan girls'-school.

General View—Missionary Tours.

Mr. Geidt reports generally of the Mission—

The work of this Mission is chiefly carried on in the Bengali language. Our congregation, amounting to about 182 souls, infants included, have regularly enjoyed the means of grace during the past year. Three times the word of life has been preached in the church every week; prayer-meetings have been held in my house; inquirers and converts instructed; and some private lessons given to the men engaged in preaching and teaching.

Mr. Geidt has also, as far as he was able, itinerated in the district around Burdwan. He reports—

It is pleasing to observe the kindness of the people who have seen us on previous tours. Old people come and surround us with a smile, and children ask us for books. The opposition to the gospel appears really to diminish with every year. Many enjoy even a visit from us, seem to be cheered by our conversation, like our preaching, and books are eagerly desired, and often paid for. If the neighbourhood be populous, I remain two, three, or four days in one spot: if not, I move my tent onward. I firmly believe India will be turned to the Lord, for idolatry is sinking, and Brahminism is on the wane.

A Brahmin Convert—Death of a Pious Catechist.

Mr. Geidt has been encouraged by the conversion of a young Brahmin, who had received his first impressions from a native teacher in a distant town, and came to Burdwan for further instruction in the Christian faith. His intelligence and zeal were such, that he was soon admitted into the church of Christ by baptism, and firmly resisted the entreaties of his father and other relatives who would have dissuaded him from this step.*

Mr. Geidt also records the death of a native catechist, after fifteen years of faithful labour, who endured long-continued sufferings with true Christian resignation, and met death without fear. He concludes the account in these words—“To be permitted to see here and there such a fruit of our labour and toil is cheering and encouraging, especially as we have to endure so many trials and disappointments with others.”

Education.

There are at the Station schools for Christian and orphan children in the Mission compound; also six vernacular schools around Burdwan, and a small English school. Thus about 500 heathen children receive a plain education, and become well acquainted with the historical parts of the Old and New Testaments.

Mr. Geidt thus alludes to the disappointments to which this department of labour will ever be liable—

As long as the boys are at school, they will go on well; but when they have to earn their own livelihood, then we experience much trouble. They mostly desire to become readers or teachers, and but few like a calling dependent on manual labour. We have had much distress on this account during the last eight years; for many of the boys, who have been baptized, instructed, fed, and clothed here, have absconded at an age from fourteen to eighteen years. This is one reason why our number of Christians is still small.

Mrs. Weitbrecht, at the conclusion of her energetic and efficient labours for many years in the orphan and Christian girls' and infant-schools, drew up a report, giving a brief sketch of their origin in the famine of 1834, in which she states—

The average number of girls residing in the orphan-school has been about 30. Above 150 have been received in all since the commencement of the institution. Some 50 girls have married, and become heads of families, and many of them teachers in distant places. Upwards of 30 have died while receiving their education, some of them very happily. The remainder were in the school but a little while, and then died, or left from various causes. Several adult females have been baptized in connexion with the school; and most of the European and East-Indian families in Burdwan are supplied with ayahs and sempstresses from the women who were brought up in it. It has been one of the most pleasing and encouraging branches of our work in this Mission, and has often sustained our spirits when all besides has been dark and trying to faith. May the good Lord continue to bless it, and make it much more effectual as a means of usefulness than ever it has yet been!

KRISHNAGURH.

The only changes in this Mission during the last year have been the departure from India of the Rev. J. Meyer, after a long and severe illness, and the arrival, at the close of the year, of the Rev. C. H. Blumhardt, in restored health, after a three years' residence in Europe.

General View of the Mission.

The Committee refer to the remarks which were made in the last Report, in order to caution their friends in England against supposing that the native converts have advanced in Christian attainments beyond the feeble stages of an infant church. Another year's experience has confirmed the truth of those remarks, and has more fully shown the working of this state of things upon the minds of the Missionaries, by convincing them that the European pastorate over native congregations will never prove a satisfactory relation, and that the chief attention of the Missionaries must be directed to the extension of the Mission to the surrounding heathen. When the labours of the Missionaries have been blessed with a more extensive awakening among the heathen, and not till then, we may expect a sufficient supply of the moral matériel out of which native pastors and schoolmasters may be provided.

The whole number of native Christians in the Krishnagurh district is now stated to be 4769. A reference to former Reports will show, that, during the last ten years, the number has been nearly stationary, though the members of the church have undoubtedly become more established and enlightened. The Committee are enabled to confirm this view by the testimony of one well qualified to form a correct judgment on all Missionary questions.

In the course of last autumn the Bishop of Victoria visited Calcutta and Krishnagurh, and upon the eve of his departure he thus publicly expressed his views of the Mission—

I shall leave this city with thankful feelings, and full conviction that a great work has commenced—that Hinduism is passing away, and that Christianity will soon take firm possession of the land. I have visited the Christian villages to the south of Calcutta, and also Krishnagurh and Burdwan; and have felt greatly cheered by witnessing the zeal and devotion of the Missionaries, and by seeing the native catechists and teachers, the schools, catechetical classes, &c. The people evinced a fair knowledge of Scripture, and the children sometimes surprised me with the extent of their religious knowledge. When I parted from these simple people, receiving and returning their good wishes, one of the native assistants, asking my prayers on behalf of the whole body, added, "Should you hereafter hear any bad tidings of us Christians—of any falling away from the faith—don't be led to think that God is not among us. The statuary, having very rude materials, is long in fashioning the object into perfection. It requires many a hard blow, and many a nice and skilful touch; and whenever a tool gets blunt he repairs and re-sharpens it, while if one breaks he throws it away and gets another. But he does not desist from his work until it is completed."

A few extracts from the reports of the Missionaries will place their work before the mind of the reader. The Rev. F. Schurr, of Kapasdanga, writes—vineyard of the Lord ; for he no sooner begins to rejoice over sinners who he has reason to believe are fairly in the way of salvation, than all his hopes are crushed again, and he has anew to labour, pray, and instruct, "hoping against hope." It is only through the sustaining power of almighty grace that he has still courage to carry on this "fight of faith," for which the Lord be praised!

Yet in a subsequent part of his report this dark picture is somewhat relieved—

It is most gratifying and encouraging to observe the great intellectual superiority of boys and girls educated in our Christian schools over their untutored parents and heathen neighbours: it is still discernible even after the young people have been living for several years among the latter. Superstitions still prevalent amongst their parents are uprooted, and a correct knowledge of divine truth is imprinted on their minds: only the life-giving Spirit is required to engraft the word, and render it effectual to the salvation of their souls. The moral character of several married from the schools is decidedly superior to that of others, and it is seen evidently that the gospel is quietly working its way. We had cherished higher expectations, probably, than their former condition warranted us to expect, many of the children being brought from the jungles, and their parents being not only ignorant of vital Christianity, but even of the very elements of education.

The Rev. C. W. Lipp, who superintends the Ruttunpore and Joginda Stations, after the notice of the Christian schools, which contain 85 boys and 70 girls, states, that three Christian women, married before their conversion, have learned to read from their husbands, and that three or four men have also been taught by their wives, who had been pupils in the schools. A man of rather advanced age, who has lost his wife, desires to marry a school-girl now, in order that she may teach him to read.

Mr. Lipp also mentions that he has five elders, who assist in settling temporal matters for the Christians; that his loan fund is slowly increasing, and has been useful in helping to a settlement several poor families; and that a bazar has been commenced half a mile from the Mission Premises.

The eighty-one houses of the Christian village are divided, nine to each, among nine Readers, who are bound to see to the orderly conduct and religious instruction of every individual inhabitant of them. Most of the native Christians in the outlying villages Mr. Lipp complains of as quite indifferent to sacred ordinances.

The Rev. C. Bomwetsch labours assiduously to train up a class of efficient native teachers. He writes—

The training-school for evangelists and teachers, containing at present only twenty-one scholars, takes up almost the whole of my time. To give even merely a sketch of its machinery, within this space, would be a vain attempt. Some of the boys are very promising. They have continued coming to me several times during the week, at night, for prayer and conversation; are steadily pursuing their studies with increased interest and zeal; and their inquiring spirit in Scripture studies, and the earnestness that they sometimes show forth, when privately asking me for an explanation of an obscure passage, often pleases me and cheers me, when heavily pressed down by thoughts of the future, that often force themselves on my mind; for some of the boys do not as yet, and perhaps will never, show any sign of a new life, and some, who formerly did, show it no more. Although some of these are good students, it cannot satisfy my mind; for of what use is it to send a dead man amongst the dead, however clever he may be? I am looking out, and praying, for champions, to go forth into the field with vigour, carrying the seed of the gospel into the midst of their brethren under self-denials. Without such an efficient native agency we shall never see Bengal turning from their idols to the living God. If these boys should not turn out what they are meant for, I shall be like a withered tree, without leaves and fruit. Excited feelings prevent my expressing a single thought on this subject.

After a few days more, I shall go out with the boys again on an itinerating tour, when morning and evening we go about preaching, &c., and during the day I give them some lessons in tent. This year I will make a trial, sending the elder boys in small parties alone into the surrounding villages, whilst alternately only some will keep with me. For several reasons it is necessary thus to try them, and practically to break them in to the work of evangelizing. Thus did Paul with Timothy, and our evangelist, Mark, taught him, and teaches us, a lesson, and St. Paul was obliged to teach him one in return—Acts xv. 38—which, as appears from his after life, Mark never forgot.

The readers also have commenced going in turn abroad, for a month or a fortnight, to preach the gospel in the more distant parts. This is a great comfort to me, having been looking out for this event for a long time; especially as they, of their own accord, are doing so: yea, indeed, I must say that some of them have long been impatient to do so, as I could not allow them to go abroad sooner, because it was necessary to train them a little for the important task.

Extension of the Mission among the heathen.

Each of the Missionaries speaks with interest of the exertions they have made to spread the knowledge of the truth among the heathen. The Rev. S. Hasell reports—

I know that the cry is loudly raised, "Come and live among us." The time is, I hope, fast passing away, when Missionaries will consider a large house essential to their work. A school-house, with a room in it for the Missionary's accommodation, would allow of the capabilities of a place being tried, and the gospel might be spread over an immense tract of country: at the same time, the Missionary's home might be the Station. From Nuddea on the west, for example, to Dowlutgunge on the east, is thirty miles or thereabouts, and the road forms the northern boundary of an irregular figure of four sides, enclosed by the six places I have mentioned.

On the Station itself much also can be done. The college students, as the educated class, together with the writers and omlahs of the country, &c., and the crowds in the bazaars, are a large field for two kinds of direct Missionary labour. The former will not listen in the bazaar, and may be reached by lectures, a course of which I announced six months ago, but domestic troubles prevented me from carrying my intention into effect: the latter are always to be reached, without let or hinderance, in the public preaching of the gospel. I deeply regret that this branch of work, too, I have much neglected from the same sad cause; but I hope and resolve, for the next year, the Lord graciously helping me, to devote a considerable portion of my time and strength to these two important branches of labour. There is also another good opening for labour in the number of lads from the college, who constantly come either to ask for Bibles, or to make some inquiries respecting the truths of Christianity. During the year I have thus given away a considerable number of both English and Bengali Scriptures, and, from repeated conversations, I am satisfied that many have read them with care and attention. I have heard, on good authority, that Scott's Commentary is one of the books of the college library most commonly in use. This is at least a good indication. One of the Teachers, a Hindu, told me, that whenever a difficulty arises bearing upon Christianity, he always refers to Scott, and reads the commentary to his class.

The Rev. F. Schurr gives an account of a Missionary tour made by himself and Mr. Hasell, in the early part of the year, in the southern part of the Nuddea district. He writes—

We were much encouraged by the kind reception of our message among all classes, with a few exceptions. It is evident that the spread of the word of God is at least exciting inquiry, although at present no conversions are perceptible: prejudices are weakening, and thousands acknowledge the superiority of the gospel: liberty of conscience is also gaining ground, as the untutored even dare to express their opinions in the presence of their spiritual guides. A great change is preparing: we only require more labourers.

In addition to the usual preaching in the neighbouring villages, my native assistants have made several prolonged tours in the northern part of Nuddea, Pubna, and Jessore districts.

During each successive tour my mind has been deeply impressed with the absolute necessity of obtaining exclusively travelling Missionaries, for accomplishing the mighty work of proclaiming the gospel throughout Bengal.

But the present mode of travelling being inadequate to the demand, I would venture to suggest, that in each populous town a small bungalow be erected for the accommodation of the travelling Missionary, only expending two or three hundred rupees to render it habitable for an European. Near each of these bungalows a trustworthy native assistant should reside, for constant preaching of the gospel, and imparting religious instruction in schools. The bungalow would remain in his charge during the Missionary's absence. Five or six of these bungalows might be supplied at distances of twenty or thirty miles, to enable the Missionary to make a circuit of hundreds of miles. The intermediate villages would be visited from each of these central sojourning places. This plan would secure regular and periodical preaching, without which the result of our labours will continue very unsatisfactory. I, for one, am quite ready to resign my pastoral charge, to engage in this evangelizing sphere.

The attention of the Missionaries has been fixed on Nuddea, the nursing-place of the Brahminism of Bengal, as a place requiring and deserving the application of more systematic and energetic Missionary labour than it has yet enjoyed; seeing that it is the seat of no fewer than sixty toles, or colleges, of Brahmins, fifteen of which are considered of high standing, and the residence of 800 Brahmin families, in addition, of course, to a great many others of other castes. There are also belonging to the Boistoms, or worshippers of Vishnu, several establishments resembling monasteries, and containing a considerable number of members and disciples, who, like the Brahmins, are constantly going forth and disseminating their principles over the country.

The Rev. H. C. Krückeberg writes—

The English school in Nuddea, closed during my absence in Europe, has been re-opened, to continue open, I trust, and be rendered a chief instrument, in that Jerusalem of Bengal, to bring a large portion of the most talented, though most perverted, youth of the country under Christian tuition. The school numbers only nineteen pupils as yet, and will never be much, except under European agency. In the meanwhile it is conducted by Koilaschunder Mookerjee, assisted by another native Christian, who does his work to my satisfaction. Since Koilas has been in Nuddea the Bengali school there has also much improved. It now numbers sixty lads.

BHAGULPUR.

The Rev. E. Dræse still continues to labour alone at this promising Station. The Committee have been unable to associate a brother Missionary with him, as they have earnestly wished to do, in consequence of the paucity of labourers. He continues to meet with much success among the hill tribes. He writes, in his Annual Report for 1852—of these, thirty-five were adults, eight children belonging to several of these adult converts, and the remaining six children of several members of our congregation.

The Christian congregation at Bhagulpur now numbers ninety-three souls. During the past year forty-nine were added by baptism:

With regard to the conduct of the congregation I have but little to say. No peculiar features are exhibited: my people are neither better nor worse than other congregations known to me. All have begun a new life. But whilst some visibly advance, both in knowledge and piety, the progress of others is not so perceptible. The misconduct of two rendered their exclusion necessary; and though the measure had the desired effect with one—who, being thereby awakened to a sense of his guilt, and promising to mend his ways, was re-admitted after six months' probation—the other is still persisting in the paths of wickedness. My congregation is to me a cause of much anxiety, but also pure and holy joy. It is my flock and my garden. It has most of my thought and care.

Spreading the knowledge of the gospel among those of riper years has been carried on very much like last year. The Hill people at Bhagulpur have been chiefly attended to: the Hindu and Mahomedan part of the population has been sadly neglected. This is an evil not to be remedied under present circumstances. The growing congregation of new converts, most of whom are but children in the newly-adopted faith, requires even increasing attention and care. Without another Missionary stationed at this place, the Hindu and Mahomedan part of the population cannot but be extremely inefficiently attended to. I am not as some. I do not say, Where one Missionary is, there let a hundred be: I say only, Where one is, there let, by way necessity, a second be stationed also, and, by way of superabundant favour on the part of the Society, also a third.

As yet our Mission Stations are but watch-posts; the Missionaries the watchmen, trying to awaken the people for the coming morn, as also to keep awake and prepare the blessed few who have risen to life.

Mr. Drøse has three schools under his care, namely, boys' and girls' vernacular-schools, and a school of orphan girls and the children of converts, containing, in all, between 80 and 90 children. He remarks, respecting the Christian children—

They sing off native, English, and German tunes, with equal readiness: they prefer, however, singing native tunes; and as some of these are very melodious, and well adapted for divine worship, their introduction into our native churches would render our services much more attractive to the native mind. The children have committed to memory a number of hymns, chiefly such as have been composed in the native metres. They also now know by heart a considerable portion of a Christian catechism, a number of Bible passages, and portions of our liturgy.*

* A full account of the Rajmahal hills and their inhabitants, in connexion with our Bhagulpur Mission, was given in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for August 1852, pp. 171—183.

BENARES.

Several changes have taken place in this Station. The Rev. C. Reuther has been transferred to Juanpur. Mr. Acheson has suffered much through ill health, and was compelled, at the close of the year, to return home. The Rev. Clement F. Cobb, M.A., has joined the Mission.

This is under the pastoral charge of the Rev. C. B. Leupolt. It continues, notwithstanding some changes in the way of departures and accessions, to number in all 314 individuals, twenty-three of whom reside at the agricultural settlement at Ghurwa. Six adults were baptized during the year: a Mahommedan, with his wife and children, and two Brahmins, with the mother of one of them, were amongst the baptized. The Mahommedan was brought in by a convert of last year.

The people support themselves by labour: none but widows, and those who have been long ill, receive, or seek for, gratuitous assistance. A few, and only a few, cases of misconduct have occurred during the year. Mr. Leupolt writes—

In a spiritual point of view, nothing striking has occurred. The people have gone on quietly, and, with few exceptions, have conducted themselves with propriety. Various little incidents which I have observed indicate an improvement. In several houses they have prayer-meetings among themselves: a small number frequently work together in the evening, whilst one person reads to them from the Bible, or some other book. One respectable aged widow has taken charge, of her own accord, of young widows, and of those married women whose husbands are absent for a time, and has acted a mother's part toward them. Still, we deeply feel the want of more spiritual life among our people.

Education.

Jay Narain's college has, notwithstanding severe trials, prospered. The awful fall of its principal teacher was noticed in the last Report. The Missionaries had their misgivings that his unnatural deeds and unheard of cruelty, might injure their cause; but their fears were soon dispelled, for the collection made for this Mission, three days after the sad occurrence, at St. Mary's Church, Benares, and the numerous sympathising letters they received from their friends residing at other Stations, showed that the European community, at least, had not lost their confidence in the school. It was soon proved, also, that neither had the people in the city lost their confidence in the Missionaries; for on no occasion, and at no time, have they ever charged the cruelty of the criminals upon them, or upon the religion of Jesus: on the contrary, the people acknowledge that the conduct of the Missionaries throughout this affair has been just, upright, and true, and that there certainly was no respect of persons with the English. Thus the Lord exercised, in this case also, His gracious prerogative of bringing good out of evil.

The difficulties of the college have called forth the kind aid of several valuable friends. Mr. Leupolt, in particular, has, during the last year, added to his other labours the serious task of acting superintendant of the school. The Rev. Julian Robinson, chaplain of the Station, has, for more than a year, lent his efficient assistance in the mathematical department; and E. A. Reade, Esq., the commissioner, has taken a most active part in the Committee and other business arrangements, and in bringing the claims of the school before the public.

The number of pupils is now 491, and they so completely fill the present building, that, to admit of the number being still further augmented, it is in contemplation either to enlarge the present structure, or to erect another more spacious. For this object, the School Committee are now appealing to their friends for assistance. Mr. Reade kindly undertook to conduct the preliminary inquiries and arrangements.

The Rev. Clement F. Cobb arrived at the close of the year, and has been appointed Principal, or senior Missionary in charge of Jay Narain's institution; and we trust that, under him, and with the aid of Mr. W. Wilkinson, who has now had some years' experience in this department, and, for some time at least, of Mr. Stern also, the college will again lift up its head. Many indeed, and great, are the changes it has passed through. Mr. Cobb is the fifth Principal it has had during a space of eight or nine years, and its other teachers also have been changed in like manner.

Mr. William Wilkinson makes some important remarks upon the want of educational works in the native languages—

We have at present actually to manufacture our materials as we require them. There has not been a fit version of Euclid to use in Urdu intelligible to the boys. This I have attempted to remedy in the first place, as I had the means nearest at hand in the beautifully correct old Arabic version, and its translation in Persian. With respect to algebra we are more fortunate. Our vernacular-schools have not had the simplest necessary steps taken to make them generally effective. To all intents and purposes they are no better off now for the simple rudiments of knowledge, than they were in the days when the indefatigable Miss Bird worked for their improvement.

Hardly another hand has attempted the simple, plain, practically useful course that she proposed to herself, to bring out a series of good elementary school-books in good and plain Urdu, containing the ground-work that might be enlarged on afterwards. Beyond her beginning we have hardly proceeded at all—not from want of inquiry on the part of the reading men among the natives for works of this sort: I have had endless inquiries often from native gentlemen. Such works as have been available have been seized upon and made use of by native authors.

The preaching department of Missionary work has, as usual amongst the Benares brethren, received much attention. Messrs. Smith, Reuther, Leupolt, and Fuchs, with Mr. Broadway, the Catechist, have taken an active part in this most important branch of labour, which is carried on during the whole year, more or less, in the streets and preaching-chapels of Benares, and during the cold season in various quarters of the country. Mr. Smith makes the following report—

While I have much to thank God for, I have not much to report regarding my work of the past year. I have gone on as usual, endeavouring to be “faithful.”

I have not been privileged to admit any adults into the church by baptism this year, excepting one—a promising young man—who had been brought in through the instrumentality of a Christian lady in the hills. But there are two or three preparing, to whom it may soon be proper to administer the rite. On my return from a visit to Calcutta, at the end of 1851, I commenced itinerating, and, with my native co-adjutors, visited—many of them repeatedly—between 250 and 300 towns and villages, including Ghazipur, Juanpur, and other populous places. We had, as usual, no lack of hearers and disputers, and plenty of opportunities to sow the seed. There are six or seven individuals—whose names and residences I have written down—in different places which we visited, who, to say the least, appear “not far” from the kingdom. We hope not to lose sight of them.

My lectures to the Bible class continue to form an important part of my labours. Our readers and catechists go on satisfactorily, and two or three fresh ones, whom we have added to the list this year, promise well.

Disturbances took place in the city, two or three months ago, but they turned out, through the judicious and energetic measures adopted by those in authority, “rather unto the furtherance of the Gospel.” The bringing home of Nehemiah’s wife has also had a similar effect, showing the people that our converts have real and powerful friends in the body whom they join, who will not, if possible, allow them to be deprived of their rights as men, merely because they have become Christians.

Still, though we are listened to, and have many friends among the natives, and though there is, I believe, an under-current, favourable to Christianity, at work in the minds of many, and the knowledge of it is, I am sure, increasing amongst them, yet the work is inexpressibly difficult, and very discouraging. We must, however, while doing, as far as we know, the best we can, learn submission to the Divine will: at least I see no other way.

Mr. Broadway reports—

We have always found large numbers of people willing to hear the word of God, and lately I have often been much struck, and likewise felt encouraged, at the quiet, patient attention and solemn countenances of the people under the sound of the gospel. Frequently the most sensible and serious questions have been put regarding the scheme of salvation, and some have also stepped forward and asked for a book containing the doctrines laid down to them. These are all very promising symptoms, but I do not mean to say that the work is now carried on without opposition. The gospel has still to contend with vast impediments. Defenders of idolatry and Mahomedanism are still to be found, who enter the assemblies of quiet, good-willed, serious listeners, and endeavour to draw off the seed of truth sown in their hearts. This is the real time of trial, and it makes the heart burn and seek for help against the sons of Belial, who face their Maker, and, by wicked, deceitful insinuations, endeavour to cloud the truth.

Although the work does not appear to have reached even the threshold of the object it has to accomplish, yet still the way is fast paving for it. There can be no doubt that a great conflict is secretly going on between light and darkness.

The Rev. R. Clark gives the following graphic account of preaching to the heathen in Benares, in a letter to his family, dated Jan. 1852—

But let me now tell you something about Missionary work. I drove down last night with Messrs. Leupolt, Reuther, and Ullman to one of their preaching-chapels in the centre of the city, in a narrow street, with a great number of foot passengers, and but few carts or carriages, so we left our conveyances and walked to it. On our arrival we found a catechist standing on the step outside, reading a tract to some people, and explaining it. Reuther took his place next the man, the rest of us in the rear standing or sitting. When the Catechist had finished, Reuther began, where he was, to preach in an animated way, and the people collected. They were constantly coming and going: on an average there were there from 20 to 50 generally listening. Presently a tall thin fellow stepped forward and asked a question: he was answered, but brought forward another, and he was then told to wait till the preaching was finished, when he would be answered. Then another dark, handsome, well-dressed man started up and commenced a long speech, and was answered. When Reuther was tired, Leupolt and Ullman took his place, answered questions, and preached the plain truths of the gospel with earnestness and animation. Some of the hearers were very attentive; others came evidently only to quibble and show their powers of speech and argument. Presently a young beardless youth, with a most impudent face, pushed through the crowd, and stood, with folded arms and naked legs, at his full height directly before the Missionary. He had a smile on his face, and had evidently come for some fun. He tried every moment to put in a word, and to raise a laugh, but no notice was taken of him. The priest already mentioned also came and made his salaam, but this time said nothing. In a short time music was heard, and a marriage procession advanced. First a band; then about a dozen matchlock-men with their long matchlocks, like those in the Exhibition, the men with drawn swords; the friends—thirty, perhaps—of the bridegroom, dressed in all the colours of the rainbow, in their best clothes—loose red, yellow, &c. flowing robes, with turbans &c.; then the bridegroom, quite hidden by ornaments, riding on a white horse—a little bit of a lad, about ten or twelve years old, going to be betrothed to his bride, a girl perhaps of eight or ten. (This procession goes about the city till dark, when they go with torches to the house of the bride, and finish off with a grand feast.) Soon after, a great elephant came by, and its riders stopped for a moment to listen. These are some of the interruptions. This kind of preaching is carried on at different places every day, both morning and night. To-day, being Monday, the Missionaries go all together: on other days each goes separately, with a Catechist.

JUANPUR.

Appointment of a Missionary.

After an interval of four years, since the departure of the Rev. R. Hawes, this Mission has now again the benefit of the presence of a Missionary, the Rev. C. Reuther having joined the Station in June last. He has, however, as stated in his report, been in poor health since his arrival; and he says that "the past year has been with him a year of suffering rather than of active work." He has been allowed a few months' leave of absence, to recruit his health.

The usual means of instruction are employed for the benefit of a small native-Christian flock, which numbers about thirty members, and for the instruction of the surrounding heathen, who number about a million.

Education.

The chief work at this Station has been the schools, of which there are five—three being in the town and two in the Outstations of Zufferabad and Azimgurh; the whole number of children under instruction being about 450.

GORRUCKPUR.

At this very interesting and laborious Station the Rev. J. P. Mengé still continues the only Missionary. We sincerely hope that help may soon be provided for him. The Committee have more than once sent him aid, but by one interposing obstacle or another their intentions have been hitherto frustrated. Mean time, it calls for no small thankfulness to the Lord that the faithful labourer is maintained in tolerable health, and "good courage" and spirits, in the midst of his varied and heavy labours.*

Preaching to the Heathen.

Under this head Mr. Mengé reports—

Last cold season I itinerated for six weeks in an easterly direction from Gorruckpur. I visited sixty-eight villages, and one mela, where I remained a fortnight, and preached eighty-seven times. The reception I met with was very gratifying, and in several places milk, sugar-cane, and fish, were hospitably offered to me. Indeed, the longer I am here, the more necessary I consider it to itinerate. But I leave it to the Committee to judge what permanent impression can be made on a district, which contains about two millions and a half of inhabitants, by one Missionary of the Cross.

On my return from the district I commenced preaching in two new places, so that now I preach every day in the week in various parts of the town. In consequence of preaching so often, I am also becoming more known, and am visited by numbers of persons, but more especially by zemindars and pundits, who have business in town from various parts of the district. For weeks in succession I have had more than forty visits a week in the house, so that I have little time for any thing else than making known the gospel to Hindus and Mahomedans. As regards conversions, I regret to say that several, who promised to become obedient to Christ, for a time listened to the gospel, and then left me again: a few others I dismissed, as they did not appear to be sincere; and a few are on trial.

Mr. Mengé also visits weekly the Christian settlement at Basharatpur, where there are now from twenty to thirty families residing. He writes—

As I give the best of my time to preaching to, and conversing with, Hindus and Mahomedans, I can now only go out once a week to the farm—on Sundays, when I conduct divine service in church. Of course several of the native Christians come almost daily to me in Gorruckpur, on account of sickness, advice, or other reasons; but I found it my best plan to leave as much as possible of the concerns of the farm in the hands of Mr. D'Ravera, who is an elderly, patient, pious man. He has daily prayers with the labourers, and looks after each of them, as much as this is possible. With very few exceptions now, all can read, and the Sunday services, as well as daily prayers, are well attended. May God in mercy send daily more of His blessing upon all the native Christians connected with this Mission, that they may all become burning and shining lights in this benighted part of the world, and reflect the image of their divine Saviour in all they do. The secular concerns of the farm are prospering. The surplus, after having paid 312 rupees into the collector's ka-chárá, amounted to 238 rupees 8 annas. This sum, together with the arrears for the last few years I collected, I lay out in clearing jungle. I hope to clear about 100 bigahs this year, more than sixty of which have already been cleared.

There are four schools in connexion with this Station, including an English school established by H. C. Tucker, Esq., and made over to the Society. The number of children under education amounts to 265.

AGRA.

Character of this field of labour.

This Mission, in its main features, resembles that at Benares. In both there is a native congregation, with orphan Christian schools for boys and girls; in both there is a college—though the Agra one is quite new—for the education of intelligent young natives of the better classes; in both there is a large native city and population, and a considerable European community; and in both preaching operations are systematically carried on by the Missionaries.

Agra, however, is chiefly a Mussulman, as Benares is a Hindu city, and this makes a vast difference in the apparent readiness of the people to give heed to the gospel, and renders Agra at present a much less hopeful and cheering place of Missionary labour than even Benares itself, with its shrines and idols innumerable. The bigoted intolerance and obduracy of the Mussulmans have broken out with new violence here of late. Trying, however, as is this fierce and bitter opposition to the brethren actually exposed to it, to us it appears to augur rather favourably for the Missionary cause: it shows that the claims of Christian truth are felt to be strong and formidable by those who love falsehood and live by it. It is only the ancient device of Demetrius and the craftsmen of Ephesus, and will assuredly meet with the same result.

Native Congregations.

These are two in number, one being at what is called the Kuttra, in the heart of the native city, where Bishop Corrie's chapel is, and near the site of the Society's new college. The Rev. C. T. Hoernle has had personal charge of it during the year. It numbers, in all, 132 individuals, of whom 42 are communicants. The account given of the congregation by Mr. Hoernle is similar to that of most of our native-Christian congregations, viz. weakness in faith, backwardness in spirituality, with, at the same time, hopeful appearances, and a few individual instances of true Christian piety and consistency. It is not dissimilar, indeed, to what might be said of most European congregations, especially when the majority are of a low, uncultivated class. Mr. Hoernle states—

A few have given me much satisfaction, and cause for thankfulness to the Lord, by their faithful and exemplary conduct. I had often been cheered by their devotion to the Lord's cause, whilst their prayers at the meetings on Wednesday evenings gave witness to the new life and spirit working in them.

It is intended to replace Bishop Corrie's chapel, which is now of obscure appearance and ancient date, by a new church at the Kuttra. When completed, the church, with the college adjoining, will form a fine object, and bear a worthy testimony to Christian zeal for the best interests of the natives.

The other native congregation is at Secundra, where are the orphan-schools, the printing-press, &c. It amounts to 390 in all, so that both congregations together contain 522 members, young and old. There are 122 communicants in the Secundra church community. The Rev. F. E. Schneider—who, with the Rev. F. A. Kreiss' help in the Lord's-day services, has had pastoral charge of this congregation—does not say much in his report respecting its general character, but states that the attendance at the Wednesday-evening prayer-meetings in the church has much improved, the church being almost always nearly filled.

The extensive and flourishing printing establishment connected with the orphan-schools not only affords abundant employment to the converts, but, after the payment of all expenses, has yielded a large profit for the Mission.

Mr. Hoernle states that he has had some inquirers under instruction, but that only two of them had been admitted to baptism; and he adds that 2017 tracts and 2887 portions of Scripture were distributed in the city during the year: some of them were paid for, which is a sure pledge of their being used.

Runkutta.

The little branch Mission here, under the care of two native labourers, Jeremy and Alexander, who continue to hold this outpost, is going on satisfactorily. The school is still small, but the labourers have been encouraged in their excursions amongst the people for the diffusion of the knowledge of Christ's salvation. They say opposition has remarkably declined. Many of the people say, "Who can hinder the truth? Your books are true, and those who oppose you will certainly be confounded. Our idols are nothing: they cannot help us; and you do well to continue your preaching stedfastly."

Education.

The new college had advanced so far towards completion, that it was thought it would be opened in the early part of the present year. The building is spoken of in very favourable terms by several persons who have seen it, as a fine structure, and one admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is designed.

The labours of the Rev. Messrs. French and Stuart have been unremitting, not only in the school, but in the study of the vernacular languages and other duties. It is to be regretted that they have had so much under-work to do, which, had there been suitable agents at command, should have been handed over to lay assistants; but it will have the indirect benefit of familiarizing them with the character of the native mind from its earlier stages, and thus of qualifying them to guide it better when more advanced. We believe Dr. Duff, who may be said to have introduced into India the present system of superior English Missionary schools, has been heard to attribute his success in training native minds to his having been obliged to begin with them at the very beginning, and lead them up, step by step, to the highest intellectual efforts.

The number of pupils has been latterly about 200, which the principal did not wish to exceed. His own design, and that of Mr. Stuart, is to concentrate their own efforts, almost entirely, on a comparatively small, selected number of youths, giving to others only a general superintendence.

The other schools of the Station are the same as in former Reports: they are ten in number, and the scholars amount to 522.

Preaching to the Heathen.

Mr. Kreiss has attended one or two great melas,* and has preached frequently besides in the neighbourhood of Agra. Of the results of these labours he says—

Though I have not to report of conversions, still we met with much encouragement: the people not only attentively listened to the glad tidings we brought them, but also seemed to see more clearly on whose side truth is to be found. Only very lately I was told by a Hindu, that he had forsaken his idols and commenced worshipping the true God. When I told him that this was certainly necessary, and a good beginning, but not sufficient in order to obtain salvation—that he must side with Christ, and, by his walk and conversation, confess himself his disciple—he replied, “So it is; but you must have patience with us: this will come by and bye, I doubt not; for since you have come to preach in our villages there are several houses in which no idol will be found, and several who have abandoned idol-worship have also given up visiting melas, as an unnecessary and useless practice.” Another encouraging fact is this, that in a few villages, where I constantly met with violent opposition, the people have much changed, at least in their outward behaviour: they are kind and civil, and quietly listen to our preaching. Meeting with such encouragement, I have always spent the most happy part of the day in the midst of these poor villagers, preaching to them “the unsearchable riches of Christ.” I only wish and pray that the word of life may more and more evince its awakening and enlightening power amongst them.

Mr. Hoernle mentions the violent spirit of opposition to the truth which has lately arisen, chiefly amongst the Mussulmans, so much as to render preaching to them openly, in the streets of the city, a service of much self-denial and some danger. He states, that at Furruckabad the Mussulmans endeavoured to stop the preaching of the gospel by presenting a petition to the magistrate against it, whilst at Agra they attempted to secure the same object by personal violence. In both, however, they have been equally unsuccessful. He reports also—

During the last cold season, I have made, in company with two catechists, three Missionary tours—one to the mela at Goberdhan, another to that of Baldeo, and a third to Muttra, Aligurh, Hudras, Morsamete, north and north-west of Agra. At the first place we found a great number of people assembled, and preached the gospel among them for three successive days, and distributed Scriptures and tracts to such as were desirous to have and able to read them. Their number was not great; but several of them received the books with evident joy, and an earnest desire for truth. Others listened attentively to our preaching, and their remarks showed that they were thinking about what was told them. There was scarcely any opposition.

Mr. Schneider also mentions his having taken a six weeks' excursion, partly for his health and partly for preaching. At the Gurhmuktesur mela he met the Rev. R. M. Lamb, of Mirut, and his assistants, and they preached to multitudes of hearers: one day, in particular, they hired a boat, and preached from it to the crowds standing on the bank of the Ganges till the preachers were all completely exhausted.

MIRUT.

This Mission has been strengthened by the addition of the Rev. M. J. Wilkinson. For some time he had the whole work of the Mission, during Mr. Lamb's absence in the Hills.

The Christian flock is increasing, 15 adults having been baptized last year. It now numbers 150 individuals. The ordinances are regularly administered amongst them, and the Christian village is extending its limits. Several houses are being built for Christian widows, and some also to afford a place of refuge for inquirers previous to their baptism. "The chief cause of gratitude," writes Mr. Lamb, "is, that the encouragement to Missionary effort is yearly increasing, while the opposition is gradually decreasing. The gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ is indeed God's truth."

Education.

Mr. Wilkinson's chief department is the English school in the city, very extensive and suitable premises having been handed over to the Mission by the chaplain of the Station, with the sanction of the lieutenant-governor, the school formerly held in the same having failed for want of funds. On its being transferred to Mr. Lamb it sank still lower, in consequence of his firmness in removing teachers in whom he could place no confidence: these used their influence to create an alarm that the Missionary would force the people to become Christians. Mr. Wilkinson, on taking charge of the school in April, found only fourteen insubordinate boys in attendance. At the close of the year the pupils amounted to about fifty, and were increasing.

Preaching to the heathen, and extension of the Mission.

Mr. Lamb is watchful and active to take advantage of opportunities of Missionary itineracy, and preaching and distributing tracts and Scriptures at melas and other large gatherings of Hindus. He has had most gratifying fruit from such labour in inquirers and converts. The following instance is given in the Report of the Mirut Mission for the past year—

There are some very pleasing instances of good being done by preaching in the melas and bazars. At Gurhmuktesur mela, last November, while engaged in preaching, a fine old man, of good caste, stopped to listen, and, being forcibly struck with what he heard, asked Paul, the head catechist, if he really believed all that he was speaking about; to which Paul replied, "What object could I have in speaking what I thought was not true? what good would it do me to teach lies?" and added, that he not only believed what he preached, but he received joy, peace, and happiness in believing, &c. So the old man said, "I will go with you, and talk the subject over." He came to the tent, and stayed three or four hours, and entered warmly into the argument. He came again the next day, and the third, spending nearly whole days, and said he would accompany us to Mírut, if he might be allowed; upon which Mr. Lamb suggested that it would be better for him to come after, both in order to try his sincerity and to avoid the danger of being robbed through any stranger following the tent. The second day after reaching Mírut, Chetan Das—for that was the old man's name—made his appearance, true to his word; and after staying a fortnight, and receiving daily instructions, he resolved to embrace Christianity, but requested to be allowed to go home and fetch his wife, as he was quite certain she would be as happy to hear the gospel as he was, and that she would embrace Christianity. He went, and, after a week, returned, with his wife and goods upon a hackery, having a countenance beaming with pleasure and delight. After both had been duly instructed, and showed evident signs of faith and sincerity, they were baptized on the 4th of April.

Mr. Lamb is following up his plan of forming branch Missions. He commenced one at Mussourie during the year, in addition to that previously formed at Bareilly. A number of the residents afforded their aid: indeed, it is on the condition of these branch Missions being maintained entirely by local funds that the Society accepts their affiliation with it, and encourages the Missionary to afford them his superintendence. Some simple buildings have been erected, and a school commenced. The whole is, however, still in the most initial state; but the appearances presented are very pleasing and encouraging, and designs are entertained, as we understand, in other Missions, of attempting the formation of similar offsets from the main Station of a district.

JUBBULPUR.

Appointment of a Labourer.

The Committee have been anxious to fulfil their pledge of commencing Missionary operations in this central Station of British India. They are happy, therefore, to announce that they have now engaged the services of Mr. Rebsch, who has already spent twelve years in India, and is well acquainted with the language, and who will be able to superintend the schools, and some other departments of the Mission, until a Missionary shall be appointed.

Visit of the Rev. F. A. Kreiss.

In the month of November last the Rev. F. A. Kreiss visited Jubbulpur from Agra. His report testifies to the promise which the field presents; and at the same time bears honourable testimony to the exertions made by Christian friends on the spot. Such instances, and they are not a few, in which the laity of India take an active part in advancing the kingdom of Christ amongst the heathen, afford a bright hope that "the set time" of the Lord for favouring that long-benighted land is arrived. Mr. Kreiss writes—

The population of the whole district amounts to half a million; that of the town to about 30,000: it is, however, on the increase. People come from distant parts of the country, even as far as from Jypur, to settle here, on account of the cheapness of living and the ready sale of their manufactures and the produce of the soil. The greater part of the population consists of Hindus. Mussulmans are not very numerous, forming about the sixteenth part of it.

There were, and are, some pious gentlemen at this Station, deeply interested in the spiritual welfare of the benighted people around them, and anxious to "prepare the way of the Lord" to their darkened and perverted hearts. Their zeal has been admirable, and called them to exertions, which unmistakeably prove how near and dear to their hearts is that cause in which they have so readily and faithfully engaged. Respecting this point I must remark—

1. That they have collected a fund of 3500 rupees, the interest of which is expended for Missionary purposes. Besides these means, they receive also 61 rupees monthly subscriptions, and there is much hope that this sum will be increased as soon as, by proper agency, the work shall be carried on more effectually.

2. They have built a Mission-house for the reception of a labourer, whom the Lord may please to send here to make known to the poor deluded heathen "the unsearchable riches of Christ." The bungalow is a substantial building, and has a pleasant appearance.

3. You likewise find here a very nice and spacious schoolhouse, with 120 scholars, almost all Hindus. They are instructed in English, Hindí, and Urdu.

4. The kind exertions of our friends did not stop here. They were also anxious to communicate the knowledge of Christ to grown-up people by the distribution of tracts, by instructions, advice, and admonition; and, I am happy to say, their endeavours have been crowned with no little success. Many have learned to see the folly of idolatry, and there are about five individuals, of whom it is hoped that they believe in Christ, and will not be ashamed to confess Him when, by His grace, they shall be more firmly established in their faith.

KOTGURH.

Labours of the Rev. J. N. Merk.

The Rev. J. N. Merk removed from Bengal to this Station upon the Rev. J. D. Prochnow's visit to Europe. His first employment was, to acquire a new language, as well as to learn the way of proceeding in the hills, very different from that of the plains. After having been accustomed to crowded schoolrooms in Bengal, he here found no more than twelve or sixteen boys in a school. Mrs. Merk has superintended the girls'-school of fifteen children.

The chief importance of this Station is its advanced position towards Thibet, Tartary, and the high district of the Punjab. It is proposed, that, upon Mr. Prochnow's return, Mr. Merk should remove to Kangra.*

Preaching to the Heathen.

Mr. Merk has commenced his work as a preacher to the Hindus. He says—

In May last I visited the mela at Rampur, a central place in these hills. The May mela is generally not so much frequented as that in November; but I had nevertheless, every day, in the streets of the bazaar, a large number of attentive hearers, amounting usually to several hundreds, who listened, I might almost say, in a reverent manner, and never thought of contradicting, still less of scoffing. Many may have heard there for the first time the name of Jesus.

After the mela I visited some parts of the Busahir country, and preached, or rather spoke, every day, to the inhabitants of small villages. I used to have the men called together, telling the headman that I had some good news for them. When they were out in the fields, they regularly assembled, the women and children soon joining them, and all sat quietly down before me and listened to my preaching. Nowhere did I meet with opposition; on the contrary, the people assented to what I said, and seemed to feel the truth of the word of God: they readily acknowledged the foolishness, and even the sinfulness, of their idolatry and corrupt lives.

In June I made another excursion in this district, and met generally with a kind reception. These poor mountaineers wonder that an European should think of climbing from hamlet to hamlet for no other purpose than that of speaking to them about God and their salvation. Their kindness and attention are felt as a sort of reward for the fatigue and difficulties unavoidable for travellers in these hills.

THE PUNJAB.

The Rev. Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Clark have printed their first Annual Report of the Punjab Mission. Amritsar was selected, after due consideration, and counsel from friends on the spot, as the first Station; and experience has fully justified the choice.

Principles of the Mission.

The Missionaries state the following principles as having influenced them in the commencement of a new Mission—

* Some information respecting Kangra is given (with an engraving of Kot Kangra) in the "Church Missionary Intelligencer" for November 1852, pp. 248—253.

1. That the sooner the native element is introduced into a Mission the sooner will its operations be felt, and, humanly speaking, be, through God's mercy, productive.

2. That Missionaries should not defer, as some have suggested, all public efforts to a time when they are comparatively well versed in the languages; but do whatever they can with ordinary wisdom and prudence as soon as it is possible.

3. It is the duty of Missionaries to engage, in behalf of the cause of Christ among the heathen, the earnest efforts of Christian residents, especially in providing the necessary pecuniary support from local and approximate stations; and they should not themselves expend their time and energies in any matter which may more properly and efficiently be attended to by others in their behalf.

Following up these principles, Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Clark, in the first instance, succeeded in obtaining the aid of three native-Christian helpers of some promise, all of whom are married, and thus form the nucleus of a native-Christian community.

Two of these men are Sikhs, and both are named David. The first was baptized in Benares in September 1850, by the Rev. W. Smith, who had been regularly instructing and proving him for five months before. He had been impressed with the truth of Christianity, by the perusal of a portion of the Scriptures in the Punjabi language, which he received from a stranger, a native, who was distributing them. He was then a soldier in the Company's service, which he entered after the conquest of his country, in defence of which he had at first fought. After some months, at his own repeated request, he obtained an honourable discharge from his commanding officer, on purpose to proceed to Benares, and learn the way of salvation. After his baptism, he married an interesting and promising girl from the Benares orphan-school, and was for some time employed confidentially by the Missionaries at that Station. They willingly, however, relinquished him, at the request of Mr. Fitzpatrick, whom he accompanied to the Punjab, and by whom he has been employed as a subordinate teacher in the Amritsar school.

The other David has been more lately received from the Propagation Society's Mission at Cawnpur. He also is a native of the Punjab, and a person of the highest Christian character and usefulness as a catechist. He was baptized by the Rev. W. H. Perkins, now in Europe for his health, who, hearing that the Amritsar brethren desired his assistance as that of a man admirably suited to the necessities of the work, most freely and generously consented to the transfer, as did the Rev. J. T. Schleicher also, in case of the young man himself desiring it. With him the final decision rested, and, after some deliberation, he determined to go and preach the gospel to his own countrymen. The whole transaction is highly creditable to the Christian and catholic spirit of the parties concerned.

The other native Christian, named George, was convinced by reading one of Mr. Pfander's works, and was baptized by the Rev. J. M. Jamieson, American Missionary at Ambala. He is married, but is not yet engaged in Missionary work.

Acting on the second principle above stated, the Missionaries have been endeavouring to disseminate portions of the Scriptures, as well as books and tracts, in Punjabi, Urdu, and Hindi. These they obtain from the American Missionaries at Ludiana, who have from the first evinced the most friendly and Christian spirit.

They also commenced a school, in a native house in the city, in April.

Besides these efforts, the brethren give instruction daily to their domestic servants, and speak to every native who visits them on the great theme of "the common salvation" and the common Saviour. They have had two professed inquirers. One was a Persian, who seemed to be deeply impressed by the perusal of one of Mr. Pfander's books, which had been given him about a month before on his arrival from Schiraz: he was most anxious to obtain a copy of the Holy Scriptures; and though he somewhat disappointed the ardent expectations of the brethren, yet he took the Bible in Persian, and other Christian books, with him to his own country.

The other is the head master of the Government school, a highly-educated and intellectual Hindu, who, though openly professing himself a Christian, has never been baptized, nor admitted to any Christian community. He became convinced of the truth of Christianity by means of a Scripture class, which the vice-principal of the Delhi Government college used to hold at his private residence. Whilst he exhibits too much of a merely intellectual and controversial tone, the brethren have hopes of this promising young man yet becoming a Christian indeed, and they beg the prayers of Christian friends on his behalf.

In carrying out their third principle, of enlisting the sympathy and active co-operation of friendly Christian residents in looking after the concerns of the Mission, our brethren have been much favoured in finding a body of residents around them, both at Amritsar, and still more at Lahore, thirty-five miles distant, who are well known in India for their Christian zeal, as well as their ability and efficiency. This is one of the circumstances in which this commencing Mission has been most remarkably favoured. The Missionaries have wisely taken advantage of these propitious circumstances, gratefully accepting the aid of several gentlemen of the province, both as members and officers of the local Association, and also in the most valuable capacity of superintendants of necessary buildings for the Mission, viz. the Missionaries' residences, school-house, &c., an office always undesirable for a Missionary, but most specially so for these brethren, who have had no experience in offices of the sort, who are unacquainted with the customs and modes of working of the country, and have yet its language to learn.

A site considered most eligible has been selected for the first Mission-house; and a second Mission-house is in progress of completion.

Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Clark give the residents, who amount to about 120, including about 80 artillery-men, service on the Lord's-day, and hold, besides, a Scripture-reading meeting on a week-day evening. These they find useful, not only to the residents, but also to themselves. It is distinctly understood that these services are altogether voluntary on the part of the Missionaries.

A church, to be called St. Paul's, has been commenced, at about 100 yards' distance from the Mission premises. It is being built by the residents in great part at their own charge, but it is agreed that the Missionaries shall have the use of it for native congregations at all convenient times, until, at least, a chaplain is appointed to the Station.

The contributions of the residents and others to the funds of the Mission have been very liberal indeed, and reflect much credit on their zeal in the great cause of Missions. The whole amount actually received on the spot by the treasurer of the Lahore Association was, at the last account, rs. 16,719,* including one generous anonymous donation of rs. 10,000; and the expenditure on the erection of the Mission-houses, &c., about rs. 11,240: so that seldom indeed has a Mission in India been commenced under more favourable and encouraging circumstances than this first Church-of-England Mission in the Punjab. We trust it may be considered as an intimation from the Lord of His gracious favour towards the undertaking: and His favour neither ceases nor declines.

General Review.

The Missionaries conclude their first report, which is a very full one, with an earnest appeal for additional labourers to strengthen their hands in their new and important sphere. They support their appeal by many, and some of them very strong, considerations; amongst others, the present state of the Punjab.

Looking at the state of the country politically, we think there is a remarkable opening for the ministry of the gospel: as perfect peace and good order reign in the whole extent of the Punjab as in any part of England. We see nothing to deter any prudent, faithful man from travelling about in all parts, or settling in any one place, and preaching the gospel of salvation fully; and, in doing so, holding up to just condemnation all the false systems by which the people are held bound of Satan: much more, we think there is not only a wholesome fear of, but a just respect for, the Englishman. The government of the country have done much to establish this state of things. The governing board are well known for their high principles, and their spirit and example pervade all the officers of government. The rapidity of the improvement in the country is really wonderful: a few years have done the work of an age in the Punjab; and the people, feeling perfect security for life and property, and a strong reliance upon the administration of justice, are freed from all petty apprehension, and, in the full exercise of industrious pursuits, are not only contented, but happy. And, moreover, the general state of European society is good; churches are in course of erection at six Stations; religious Societies have been formed, branches of some of the large Societies of our church at home; so that a remarkable opening is thus evidently presented for Missionary enterprise, and a strong claim forced upon the church at home to view this opening, and the state of things connected with it, as urgent.

Again, mark this in the present religious state of the Sikhs. Broken up nationally, it is the general opinion that they are also broken up religiously. Already many have become Mussulmans, and very many more Hindus. The sect of Akalis, of whom there used to be 4000 in Amritsar, scarcely exists here: it is rare to meet with one. There is, indeed, no provision for a long perpetuation of the system. The only book they have in Punjabí, or Gurmucktí, is the Grant'h. The present gurus are aged men: their death will, it is likely, hasten the dissolution of the system. Bereft of all national and military spirit, it has no sufficient distinctiveness to remain long independent. It will naturally be absorbed in Hinduism or Mahommedanism, if not enlightened and converted to Christianity.

The people are frank, open, and independent, such as one feels naturally inclined to minister to. If converted to the faith of Christ, they will, from those natural qualities, sanctified by the Spirit of God, be eminent for zeal and devotedness. The few specimens we have bear out this, as you will see in the characters of the two we have named; and would be equally evident from a third we know of, who was baptized at Ludiana, and is now in his regiment at Ambala.

Again, the climate favours active exertion. The hot and rainy seasons do not continue more than four months and a half. In the cold season we can travel about in tents for at least five months—many stay out eight—and that cold season is far superior to any period of the year in England.*

Concluding remarks on the North-India Mission.

In the review of this Mission for the last year, the Calcutta Corresponding Committee notice three special features of the work as full of encouragement.

I. An increased Bible circulation.

We may mention the most gratifying fact, that the circulation of Scriptures, chiefly in the Bengali language, by the Calcutta Bible Society, during the year now closing, has reached the large amount of 56,000 copies, being 14,000 more than last year, and beyond that of any year preceding. This does not include the work of the Agra Bible Society, nor, of course, those of the other Presidencies. We believe, also, that the Religious-Tract Society's exertions have been proportionately effective.

A very remarkable desire has manifested itself of late amongst the Jews of Calcutta to possess themselves of the sacred Scriptures in the Hebrew language. The residence of Mr. Sandys has been literally besieged for hours together, (day after day, by Israelites applying for the Hebrew Scriptures, until at length the whole Calcutta stock of Scriptures in that language was exhausted. It is very observable, too, that in almost every instance these Jews desired to obtain the New Testament, as well as the Old, in the sacred language of their fathers. Many of them are strangers from Bagdad, Arabia, and other places, to which they will take with them, on their return, the "incorruptible seed" of the word of life, to prove, we trust, a germ of a new and spiritual life to many a withered branch of the stock of Israel.

II. The increase of educated converts.

Further and gratifying evidences of progress are, we think, afforded by the increase of late of converts to Christianity from the more respectable and cultivated classes of Hindu society, whose position and circumstances, as well as their character, and the trials they have had to encounter in embracing the gospel, place their motives above all cavil and suspicion. At Delhi, at Benares, at Gorruckpur, Burdwan, and Calcutta, such converts have been given to the prayers of the Lord's servants, in several cases without any immediate intervention of direct Missionary agency. This was most strikingly so in the case of a young Brahmini lady of the Tagore family, of superior intellectual gifts and cultivation, who was baptized in the old church, Calcutta, in November last, and who had acquired her knowledge of the gospel solely through means of a converted female relative and the Holy Scriptures themselves, never having seen a Missionary until after she had taken the decisive step of leaving her Hindu relatives, and taking refuge with those who believed in that Saviour whom she had found so necessary and so precious to her soul.*

Facts like these show that an amount of Scripture truth has found entrance, and is at work among the native community of every rank, sufficient to encourage us to hope for far greater results than have as yet appeared, whenever the God of truth and grace shall cause them to spring forth; for, of all classes in the country, the secluded native females of the upper classes were least likely to have been reached by the gospel.†

III. The increase of itinerant Preaching.

Another circumstance that seems to us to denote the existence of some progress, is, that the Missionary brethren, who have for some time been devoted to pastoral or other more local and confined Missionary work, manifest an increasing interest in what may be called the broad-cast publication of the gospel to the people of the land, by means of itinerant preaching from town to town and district to district. Almost all the Missionaries of the Church Missionary Society will take some part in this blessed work during the present favourable season of the year, and they only share this interest with the labourers of other Missionary bodies likewise; so that, during the present cold season, we have no doubt that many millions of people throughout the land will hear the gospel, and amongst them will probably be hundreds of thousands who had never before been told of the salvation that is in Christ Jesus.

And most remarkable and encouraging has been the experience of most of these evangelist Missionaries. They declare that the ears, if not the hearts, of the people have been opened to them in a wonderful manner. In places where, but a very few years ago, the Missionary was passed by unregarded or treated with contempt or rudeness, the greatest readiness has been evinced to hear the gospel, to show kindness to its preachers, and to receive the printed Scriptures; and earnest desires have been repeatedly and urgently expressed, by all classes of people, that the Missionary would continue for some considerable time in the places where he preached, in order that they might learn and understand more of the great truths he had declared to them.‡

Progress of the Missions.

THE statistical returns at the close of 1852 present a satisfactory proof of the progress of these Missions. The whole number of persons under Christian instruction amounts to 32,546, being an increase of 2732 in the year: about two-thirds are baptized. The communicants amount to 4800, the increase within the year having been 620. The number of children under education is 10,285. It is worthy of remark, that the number under Christian instruction is about the same as it stood in 1845, but with this important difference, that the number of baptized was then only one-third of the whole, and the communicants not much above half the present number. This comparison exhibits a solid proof that Christianity is taking root in the soil.

MADRAS.

This Mission has been carried on, as in former years, by three Missionaries. At Midsummer a change was made in the division of labour, by assigning to the native Missionary, the Rev. D. Gnanamuttoo, the whole charge of the Tamil congregation at the Church Mission chapel, and to the Rev. J. B. Rodgers the two smaller congregations in John Pereira's and the Mount Road.

General View of Labours at this Station.

The Rev. J. Bilderbeck, in his report for the half-year ending June 30, 1852, thus describes his own department—

I give myself exclusively to the work of an evangelist among the people about Madras, only making the Tinnevely settlement the main sphere of my labours, and so keeping an eye over the two schools in that place, and am helped by John, a young man lately entered on probation. I hope by this arrangement to have more time left in future for itinerant preaching among the inhabitants of this great city and its environs. But although we have made this division of labour for the more efficient discharge of our several duties, yet we continue as heretofore to meet once every week for mutual conference and prayer, as well as to hear the reports of our assistants, and to manage whatever is necessary for the general good of the Mission.

Among the encouraging events of the year the Missionaries record the opening of a chapel in the Tinnevely settlement on Whitsunday. The occasion was rendered doubly interesting by the baptism of three adults. A weekly service has also been opened at the leper house, where from 40 to 60 of the afflicted inmates, who are all heathen, listen with more than ordinary interest to the preaching of the gospel.

In the course of the year the Missionaries at this Station have baptized 8 adults, and have received 13 converts from Romanism. One of those baptized had come to Madras from Travancore to seek redress in a court of law. He found in the gospel a better portion, and returned home a well instructed and baptized believer. The number of communicants has increased from 182 to 209.

Missionary Tour.

Mr. Bilderbeck made a Missionary tour to Arcot, and also attended two large festivals in the neighbourhood of Madras. On these occasions he had large audiences, and repeated applications for books. He writes—

One thing struck me—that almost every applicant could name the books he wanted, and many could nearly tell the leading contents of such books; evidently showing thereby, not only their thirst for knowledge, but also the interest they take in the publications of our Religious-Tract and Bible Societies.

Commencement of an Endowment Fund for native pastors.

A very satisfactory step in the right direction has been taken by the native Christians at this Station, which the Committee record, in the hope that it may stimulate many other places to like exertions.

At a meeting of a native society for the distribution of some charitable funds, in which a small surplus of 100 rupees remained to be appropriated, it was proposed to make that surplus the commencement of an endowment fund for the support of native pastors, in consequence of the appeal of the Parent Committee upon this subject. On this occasion the resolution was proposed and adopted—

That this meeting acknowledges the reasonableness of the resolution which the Church Missionary Society has formed in reference to the future support of the Christian churches connected with it, and promise, by divine help, to exert themselves to fulfil the obligations which devolve upon them, by striving to provide for the support of their own pastors.

The Tamil report, which was read at this meeting, explained the justice of the call upon them to provide for the supply of their own spiritual wants, in order that the gospel might be sent to other places. The following wise remarks closed the report—

It was under the influence of these considerations that the Church Missionary Society formed their determination, and, like the eagle that stirreth up its nest to make its young to fly, is desirous of rousing these churches to fresh exertions. However, it is far from their intention to put their resolution into effect suddenly, and thus leave their Tamil churches without support. No; but as the eagle, after it has stirred up its nest, spreads its wings under its young and bears them up, so the Society will continue to afford for a short time the help they have hitherto given them. But it fully expects that after a while these churches will provide among themselves for the support of their pastors and others engaged in ministering to their spiritual wants.

One of the native teachers also made a stirring address to his countrymen in these terms, the English being his own translation of the Tamil—

But it may be asked, How are we to undertake so great a work, seeing we are all poor, and placed in very limited circumstances? This consideration might harass us, my friends, if we ventured to accomplish the work in our own strength: the resolution, therefore, very justly says, “that, by the help of God, we shall endeavour to do so and so.” Our help is in the Lord, who, in the dispensation of His providence, works out the mightiest wonders by the weakest instruments. Let nothing, therefore, discourage you at the outset. Even in nature great effects do not always require powerful causes. It requires, it is true, the force of an iron hammer to break a stone; but the same stone may be wasted in course of time, as a Tamil proverb says, “by the continual running of an ant over it.” Let me therefore beseech you, friends, cheerfully to respond to the resolution in your hearts, and to commence the work in the strength of the Lord, whom if we keep before us we are sure to succeed.

The young man who thus addressed the meeting has since been removed by death, after giving much promise of usefulness. He died in peace.*

Female Education.

Miss Giberne, who devoted herself, several years ago, to female education in India, and for some years conducted a female institution in Tinnevely, until she was compelled by ill health to visit Europe, has again resumed her zealous exertions in the cause dear to her heart. She has been appointed to commence a female-school at the Tinnevely settlement, in Madras, which may one day become a model school in that interesting community. At the end of the year she had 18 children, in addition to 5 boarders, whom she has taken into her house.

MASULIPATAM.

No change has taken place in the European Missionaries attached to this Station.

Telugu congregation—Preaching to the heathen— Female class.

The Rev. J. E. Sharkey has charge of the Telugu congregation, which is chiefly composed of the servants in the Missionary families and the children of the school. There has been, as yet, little or no spiritual life apparent amongst these people. Mr. Sharkey also preaches three or four times in the week in the streets of the town. "My receptions," he writes, "have been encouraging. Men and women of all castes have been my auditors." He has lately induced a few of the mothers and female relatives of the girls of one of their schools to attend weekly at a class for religious instruction by Mrs. Sharkey. He notices in his journal, June 17, 1852—

This evening, about eight or nine of the relatives of our female boarders assembled together for religious instruction and worship. A little more than five years has elapsed since the establishment of our girls'-school, and only now have their friends agreed to sit for half an hour in the week, and, in the presence of their children, to hear the word of God, and even to kneel down in prayer to the Lord Jesus. This is a new and pleasing feature of our Mission. May God, of His rich love to poor sinners, continue and bless this weekly meeting!

Tamil congregation.

The Rev. T. Y. Darling has charge of the Tamil congregation, consisting of about 25 adults, of whom 14 are communicants.

Visits to Villages.

The Rev. G. English devotes himself to itinerating in the villages around the city. There appears to be far more attention and feeling among the villagers than among the inhabitants of the town; and there is a prospect of many of them soon placing themselves under Christian instruction and discipline. The following are extracts from the journal of Mr. English—

Feb. 11, 1852—A most interesting man, a cultivator, has just called for a copy of the gospel. He has travelled sixteen miles for this precious gift. I was told that he had no other business to call him here. So remarkable a case of interest in the word I have not seen before. O that it may prove "the power of God to salvation!" More than forty were at family prayers.

Feb. 22—A large number of Brahmins who heard me have just visited me for the word of God. In the evening another party came up from the town for gospels. They manifested much earnestness to know more of the way everlasting.

July 1—This afternoon fifteen respectable weavers from Juggerapet paid me a visit. They had come about four miles, for copies of the sacred Scriptures and to hear more of the truth of our Lord Jesus Christ. They inquired much about the soul, its nature, capabilities, &c. They listened to the plan of salvation with marked attention. I taught them, before they left, a prayer for the grace of the Holy Spirit.

Visit from the Bishop of Madras.

In the early part of last year the Bishop of Madras visited Masulipatam. The event is thus alluded to by Mr. Sharkey—

I have been employed in instructing eight of our adults, who were desirous of renewing the solemn vows and promises which they had made at their baptism. Most of them committed to memory the Church Catechism, and carefully studied the Confirmation Service, both which offices I had previously rendered into Telugu. Our diocesan arrived on the 27th of February, and on the 3d of March, after a short address of affectionate and valuable advice, which I interpreted, confirmed, in addition to those presented by me, two members of the Tamil congregation, instructed and prepared by the Rev. T. Y. Darling. Some of our young people, on returning home, not trusting to their memories, committed the bishop's counsel to writing. On the Sunday following, our brethren, Messrs. English and Nicholson, were admitted to the orders of priest and deacon respectively. Next day, after a very encouraging stay of eleven days, our bishop left us. During his visit he preached three stirring sermons, confirmed and ordained, and visited our native-English school, our female-school, and an excellent private school conducted in the fort by a Committee of respectable individuals. With rejoicing hearts we listened to his bold testimony to the truth; and from his expressions of sympathy and encouragement we felt our hands greatly strengthened. We pray that an abundant blessing may rest on his ministrations here, and that his own soul may be richly watered and comforted in his great and arduous work of chief pastor.

The Bishop thus describes his visit—

I had much cause for gratitude in visiting your Telugu Mission at Masulipatam in March last. Your agents there are simple-hearted, earnest men, with but one object before them, and that is, to exalt Christ, and lead the poor ignorant natives to trust in His mercy, and turn from their idols; and their labours are evidently blessed.

I held a confirmation for the native converts. The number was small—eleven; but I have not often seen a class better prepared, and with more intelligence, solemnity, and devotion, renew their covenant with God, and give themselves to His service. The reason of the smallness of their numbers was, that your Missionaries only wished to present those who understood the solemn transaction, and were likely to adorn their profession by holy and devoted lives.

But I was more than all thankful to witness what was doing in the schools. I have seen nothing in India superior to the English school under Mr. Noble. The modest and clear manner in which the first classes gave their answers to the questions proposed to them, their full and explicit views of man's redemption by Jesus Christ, from the fall of man to the close of the revelation which God has given, impressed all of us who listened to them with the hope, if not conviction, that some of them could not be "far from the kingdom of God." Nor were their attainments in secular knowledge at all less satisfactory. The girls'-school under Mrs. Sharkey is doing its blessed work, and I cannot doubt but your Mission there is advancing the kingdom of our Lord, which is "righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost."

I thought of your late devoted Secretary, Mr. Fox, as I visited the Mission, and the deep and earnest interest with which he had laboured for the poor heathen; and I firmly believe that his prayers and labours are still bringing down a large and abundant blessing upon that district. May the anxious hopes, and fervent prayers, and consecrated services of the present simple-minded and zealous Missionaries be extensively blessed, and answered, and realized!

This school is under the care of the Rev. R. T. Noble and Mr. Nicholson, the Rugby-Fox master. In the early part of last year it was for a short time under the superintendence of Mr. Darling, who thus contrasts its state at the end of March 1852 with that of an earlier date—

I am happy to be able to say that I have perceived in it a great improvement, compared with what it was when I left Bunder in Sept. 1850. Better discipline is certainly maintained. A desire to stand high in the classes, combined with a respect for their teachers, appears to influence the boys. But the improvement I chiefly refer to is the state of feeling which now exists, and which I think is pretty general throughout the school. Formerly, I never examined a class without being pained with the disputatious spirit manifested by one and all of the scholars, and their objections were sometimes really blasphemous. Now, however, that spirit appears to have greatly subsided; and it is, moreover, encouraging to find that there exists a greater desire of inquiry regarding truth.

The anticipation of the Bishop of Madras, that fruit would speedily appear in this school, was soon realized by two interesting cases of conversion among its pupils. Mr. Noble, in a letter dated August 7, 1852, thus refers to these first-fruits of his labours—

You will rejoice to hear that God in mercy has at length given us, what I believe to be, good fruit from our school.

Last Thursday week, a young Brahmin and a young Vellama, each nineteen years old, both very respectable in connexions and character, and both having read nearly five years in our school, ran away from home, expecting never to be allowed to come to school again, and told me they wished to be baptized. One had come in February last, and the other had repeatedly made such striking answers, before the whole school, when questioned by me, and was so very exemplary in character, that, after a few questions, I did not hesitate to receive them. That night they were taken before the collector. The next day the doctor and assistant collector came again to see them at my house, as their relatives had preferred a charge before the collector that I had given them medicine, and that they were mad. That night they broke caste. The next day the assistant collector was sent to see each privately, and about half-past seven the collector's decision reached me—that he could not interfere further than to secure the peace, as evidently the youths were of full age, in their right minds, and voluntary agents. The ferment had been very great indeed, and is so still. We had determined to baptize them early on Sunday morning, but this became known to the natives, and, as my compound is very large and open, I feared a general outbreak. I therefore proposed to our brethren, whether, to keep the peace, we should not baptize them at once. They thought it would be well. I baptized them accordingly, about half-past eight on Saturday night, by immersion.

Some interesting particulars are given by Mr. Nicholson in a letter dated Masulipatam, Aug. 20. When the youths were examined by the magistrate, he put to them the question, "Why do you wish to become Christians? Their reply was, "Because we can find no peace in Hinduism." The young men passed through their ordeal in a sweet spirit, and yet with much boldness. They repeatedly told their friends, that, though leaving them on account of idolatry, they loved them, if possible, more than ever. Mr. Nicholson adds—

One little fact concerning Rutnum [the Brahmin convert] I must mention, as it shows, I think, that an under current has been really working for good, when we thought all dark. Some time previous to our young friend joining us he appears to have been in the habit of reading portions of Scripture in Telugu to his friends. On one occasion some persons came from a distant village. He read and explained a portion to them, which so interested them that they actually subscribed amongst themselves, and bought a new upper cloth, which they presented to Rutnum for reading them things they had never before heard of. We have reason to hope that the sister of Rutnum, a widow, derived real benefit from these and similar conversations. She knew of his secret intention to become a Christian, and purposed coming with him, but was suddenly seized with an illness which terminated fatally in a few hours. Rutnum's conviction is, that she believed in Jesus only for salvation.*

TINNEVELLY.

The Committee are enabled to give an encouraging report of the progress of the Mission in the province of Tinnevelly. The statistics show that a steady increase is going on in the number of baptized Christians and communicants, whilst a very striking change is also taking place among the surrounding heathen. A few extracts may be selected from the journals of the Missionaries to illustrate this statement.

The Rev. P. P. Schaffter writes respecting one of the villages in his district, April 26, 1852—

Were I to judge from present appearances, I should say that a complete resurrection is taken place in Alangkullam, the large village near Nallur, which I have often mentioned in my reports. I never before saw the people so earnest in coming to church: on Sunday the large church is full—nay, more than full. The people, even many of those who are not members of the congregation, have lately discontinued to work on Sunday: and some, of whom I expected nothing good, have brought their little offerings for our Mission Society. I watch this movement with much interest. God grant that the fire may not end in smoke; but among this great number, who now hear the word with great attention and seriousness, it is nothing out of the way to hope that a few, at least, will be benefited.

The Rev. Septimus Hobbs reports, Aug. 12, 1852—

The movement to which I have alluded in one or two recent letters has resulted in the addition, for the present at least, of 80 families, consisting of 263 souls, to the number of inquirers. All these have, nominally at least, cast away their idols. None of their names are as yet entered in the list. They are not in one place, but widely scattered, living in twenty-three different villages. This does not include the mountaineers. There are about 150 of them, which would make the number of new inquirers exceed 400 if I could add them; but I yesterday received very unfavourable accounts of their disposition towards the truth. I do not, however, intend to relax my efforts amongst them.

The Rev. J. Thomas, in his report of the year 1852, speaks in encouraging terms of the state of the native congregations under his care, numbering above 5000 souls; and bears this testimony to the native catechists—

The number of persons employed under this general designation amounts to twenty-eight. In January last, one of them, quite a young man, died of cholera. One has been dismissed for immoral conduct, but with all the others I have had reason to be satisfied. Their desire for knowledge continues unabated, and our stated Friday meetings for instruction are attended with as much interest as ever. Their views of the gospel, and the clearness with which those views are set before the people, are to me a source of the greatest satisfaction. I do not dictate their sermons to them, but they compose their own; and at the end of every month, when they meet here for three or four days, each man brings skeletons, more or less full, of discourses delivered, which I examine; and it is by this means, as well as by occasionally hearing them preach, that I speak so decidedly of their qualifications for the work in which they are engaged.

Mr. Thomas also describes the salutary effect produced upon the Christians by the fearful ravages of the cholera at the close of the year.

Every congregation throughout the district has been more or less sifted and tried, through the awful prevalence of cholera, during the latter part of the year. At Pragasapuram it raged for two months, and upwards of thirty persons, out of a population of six hundred and fifty, were carried off. Among these there were several persons concerning whom we have every reason to think most favourably, while some of the most unpromising characters were also swept away.

Among those of the former class was a young man, son of the late mukkunthen, or headman of the village, who died, after a short illness, in his twenty-fifth year, leaving a widow and one child. He had given us, for some years past, every reason to conclude that he was a pious young man. I knew him from the time he was a school-boy, prepared him for confirmation, and admitted him to the Lord's table, at which he was a constant attendant, and he maintained an unblameable life and conversation to the end. The first time I visited Pragasapuram after his death, I went to see his widow, and it was truly affecting to see so young a woman, with an only child, in circumstances of such deep affliction. She held in her hand a bundle of cadjan leaves, which she showed me, and said, "These are the notes of sermons which my dear husband wrote; and he was in the habit of writing down and preserving the notes of all the sermons which he heard; and he had often talked of offering himself for admission to the Preparandi institution, but my relatives prevented him, on account of his little property, which they wished him to manage and improve." He was comfortable as to his worldly circumstances.

Another person, an old man from Meignanapuram, who had gone to Pragasapuram to see his daughter while labouring under an attack of cholera, was seized there; and, while the daughter recovered, he died; not, however, without being prepared for the solemn event. He was a devout man, a very exemplary attendant at church, and a regular communicant. I knew him intimately for fifteen years, during the whole of which time he maintained a consistent Christian course. I well remember, when I first came to visit this district, that his house, now removed, was very near our old church; and while putting up there before my bungalow was built, late at night I used to hear his voice for hours, engaged in prayer. He was remarkable among our people as a man of prayer, and he persevered to the last; for I have heard, that, from the instant he was seized with the fatal disease, he knelt down and continued in prayer, until he became too weak to kneel any longer.

The Rev. J. T. Tucker states, in his journal—

Feb. 22, 1852: Lord's-day—Kasavangundu. I conducted an early service at seven o'clock, and preached to an attentive congregation on John xiv. 1—5. It is indeed gratifying to meet, in this wilderness of heathenism, a few Christians who devoutly worship the living and true God. Only five years ago all the people were idolaters and devil-worshippers; but now, out of a population of 250 souls, 70 persons are disciples of Christ. The following instance will give some idea of the zeal of the heathen. In a conversation I had with Abraham, the headman, he said, that, when a heathen, he visited, with his wife, twelve times in one year the temple at Trichendur, with the view to obtain the idol's favour, and that his wife might bear him a child—a distance of 60 or 70 miles. This man and his wife must have travelled, therefore, in one year, more than 600 miles. He is, however, now, by God's great mercy, I believe a converted man, and as zealous for Christ as he was, when a heathen, for the worship of idols.

In a letter dated July 1 he writes—

Since December last a good number of persons in four villages have renounced idolatry, and requested me to receive them under Christian instruction. Two of these new congregations are particularly interesting to myself, inasmuch as they have been, in a great measure, induced to join the Christian religion in consequence of my having preached two or three times among them. I trust they will have grace given them to remain firm in their present profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. None of these have been entered into the statistical return for the last half-year.

In a letter dated Aug. 24th he states—

I am on a tour through the north of the district, and have been visiting some of the new villages, where I find the people going on very satisfactorily: only in one place they are dreadfully persecuted by their heathen neighbours, simply on account of their profession of the Gospel. It is pleasing to see their steadfastness, notwithstanding their trials.

The new converts at Acchampetty are going on nicely. There are about a hundred and thirty souls, the majority of whom have committed to memory the Lord's Prayer, the Creed, and Ten Commandments. I spent a very pleasant day on Wednesday last, preaching the gospel among them.

Our Kattarangkullam friends have just received a severe trial of their faith, and, I think, have shown that they are sincere, at least, in their Christian profession. The Ettyapuram zemindar sent for them, and, with my advice, they went to see him. He then offered to restore them all their lands—fifteen villages—if they would return to heathenism; and I am glad to say they sternly refused the conditions, and returned home. This is really a severe test, because they are almost reduced to beggary, and the restoration of their lands would place them in affluent circumstances. May the Lord preserve them from being puffed up with this victory over the tempter! I have recently visited their village, and given them the best counsel and comfort that I could.

The Rev. John Dewasagayam gives in his journal the following evidences of progress in connexion with the labours of a sister Society, and of friends who have entered into rest.

Jan. 3, 1852 — Having received my portion of 120 copies of the "Friendly Instructor," in which, to our great joy, a brief narrative of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts was published, I distributed it to our people and school children, as usual, and also read a part of it in our evening Missionary meeting. And on the following Sunday, agreeably to the circular of our venerable bishop, we celebrated the day in prayer and thanksgiving on behalf of the old honourable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. I have been long acquainted with the proceedings of the honourable Christian-Knowledge Society, having been instructed in their English school at Tanjore in 1800, and I received my first copy of the English Bible, Prayer, and spelling-book, from their library in the little fort. I preached to day from Matt. ii. 10. We trust the Lord will hear the numerous prayers offered this day, and in the year, and bless the Society more than ever.

In a report at the close of the year he mentions among the recent converts the following case—

Gnanakkannoo, of Shanar caste, appears to be a singular character. He has been living here as Vedakkara about thirteen years, but for a considerable time he has not discovered a sincere desire to be instructed and baptized. His wife and daughter are baptized and communicants. The latter was educated by the late Sir Digby Mackworth, who is now in heaven, and received from him several valuable letters. She is now one of my very useful assistant school-mistresses. I know she very often exhorted her father, and prayed for him with tears. I think she has been lately a little more serious with him, which made him much offended with his family. He resolved to leave the house and go as far as Madura, and work for his bread. On his way he became very ill, and had the happiness to be brought to the care of Mr. Adolphus, the good catechist of the Gospel-Propagation Society at Putheanbullur, where he received his kind attention and instruction. He sent word to his family, that they might come and bring him to Kadatchapuram, as he was prevented from walking. A few days after, he came himself, and began to attend the baptismal class so regularly, that many who saw him, as well as myself, formed a favourable opinion of him.

He also relates an interesting conversation recorded in one of the journals of a female teacher, between herself and her mother. She asked, "Mother, do you pray to God when you go to bed." The mother replied, "Yes, I do pray, 'O Lord, I am a sinner: pardon my sins. O God, show mercy unto me, a poor sinner!'" The daughter again asked, "Have you ever prayed for us?" The reply was, "Yes: 'O Lord, preserve my children, bless them; also bless the benefactors of myself and of my daughters!' These are the only words I know." The daughter replied, "One thing has been left out. Hereafter pray, 'O Lord, bestow Thy Holy Spirit upon me, and grant it to my children. Bless my benefactors, and give them Thy Holy Spirit.'"

In a letter dated Oct. 6, 1852, the same aged native minister writes—

I beg leave to communicate two important subjects, which greatly rejoiced me in the last month. The first of these is the great light of the gospel which now shines at the large idolatrous town of Tinnevely. About sixty families of Kaikalavers filled the church before I came there to perform divine service with my brother, the Rev. P. Simeon, on the 12th ultimo. In the year 1832 I had about 40 families here, but many of them backslided. The ground of this church, near several large pagodas, was bought, with great difficulty, by the late Rev. J. Hough, assisted by the late James Thomas, Esq. One who remembers the former days cannot enter the church without peculiar feelings of gratitude. I saw also in the church several young men in the service of the court, with their families, who are the children of the late Father Swartz' converts, and the principal agent of the zemindar, who lately came under Christian instruction in Mr. Tucker's district. One of the Tanjore young men has been here once, when his late brother was the sheristadar of the court: as he himself expressed, "he swam in all wickedness;" but now he is truly converted, and many look upon him with wonder. I saw in him how the prayers of Father Swartz were answered for his father and family. I saw, also, in Surrandei, the new station of Mr. Bärenbruck in progress, which I knew in 1822 as an infant. In 1835 I had only a few huts here, where a small number of people had been under Christian instruction.

The Rev. Septimus Hobbs gives, in his journal, an account of two converts, who each bore the name of David, in the same village—

Feb. 9—I went in the evening to Kakienur, principally to see poor David, who is ill, but also to hold divine service with the congregation. I went to David's house, to see him before service. It was indeed a picture of poverty. The poor man did not complain; but when I asked him about his food, he answered, "I eat what I can get, but that is very little, for I have not been able to work for many months." I then inquired of him more particularly respecting his spiritual state. He replied, "My trust is in Christ, for life or for death. If He is pleased to restore me to health I will praise His mercy; but if He is pleased to take me to Himself, oh, what is this poor body"—extending his swollen arms—"that I should desire to retain it any longer than He pleases! When I think of my sins I feel that they have been immense; but when I think of my Saviour I feel that I have one thing to grasp hold of. I have nothing else, and I want nothing else: I neither have nor seek any other hope: I hold by this one grasp." When he had once begun to speak of his spiritual hope I did not interrupt him with questions, but left him to express himself as he pleased. After a few words of consolation and counsel, and a short prayer with him, I returned to the church.

Feb. 21—The inspecting schoolmaster told me that old David died yesterday. He was with him a few hours before his death, and tells me that he was full of faith and hope.

Feb. 23—I had a visit this morning from the surviving David of Kakienuur. He asked me to give him a whole Bible, but as I knew that, a short time ago, he could not read very fluently, I hesitated to give him one. I however took a copy of the New Testament, and, opening it promiscuously, gave him a passage to read. I was truly delighted to find that he read it extremely well, and in such a manner as to show that he understood it as he read. I gave him a whole Bible with much pleasure. He truly deserves it, for I may justly call him an "honorary catechist," because he goes about doing good for the sole delight of doing good. As he took the Bible in his hand, he seemed to be astonished into silence at the possession of his treasure. He did not make the ordinary salaam, nor even look at me. His eyes were fixed upon his Bible. I turned, and continued my writing, for I was much pressed for time; but heard him say, still looking intently on his Bible, "More to be desired art thou than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb."

Education.

The various educational establishments at Palamcottah, which are designed for the benefit of the whole Mission, are conducted with increasing efficiency and success.

The English school for heathen boys, under Mr. W. Cruickshanks, was examined at Midsummer by several of the Missionaries, the civil judge, and two officers of the second native infantry, stationed in the citadel, the number of boys being 87. The report of the examiners states—

It is gratifying to observe that Mr. Cruickshanks' exertions, especially in the inculcation of scriptural truth, have been crowned with much success. Most of the boys possess a tolerably clear acquaintance with the leading truths of Christianity, though the number of actual conversions has not hitherto been great. The immediate influence of such instruction in enlightening the understanding, and imparting a higher moral tone to the character of these native youths—who, it should be remembered, are the children of the most respectable portions of the community—cannot be small.

At the examination at the close of the year, the number of scholars was 96. The Rev. T. G. Bärenbrück presided on this occasion, and concludes his report with the following remarks—

The general impression was, that the boys acquitted themselves very well, giving good evidence of their having made satisfactory progress during the half-year.

The most pleasing feature of the examination, however, was the entire absence of any constraint of manner, and the readiness with which very suitable replies were given to the questions put on the several portions of Scripture the classes were examined in. And on addressing a few words to them at the close of the examination, I could not help making the remark, that though it had by many been supposed, and frequently asserted, that youths of the classes of Hindu society to which a majority of them belong, being sons of the most respectable natives of the province, are generally afraid of the Bible, it was, however, sufficiently evident, from what had just been witnessed, that such was far from being the case in the instance before us; and, judging from general experience elsewhere, it might confidently be affirmed to be no longer so throughout India: on the contrary, there was reason to believe that the instruction imparted from the Bible is in some degree even appreciated by the youths of this country.

The Seminary is a boarding-school for the more promising Christian boys of the province. It is under the care of the Rev. W. Clark. The number of scholars is 53. An examination took place at Midsummer, which gave much satisfaction to the Missionaries. The Rev. Septimus Hobbs, who presided at the examination, writes—

I most cordially congratulate Mr. Clark and his assistants on their success, and I think it a legitimate subject of thankfulness to God that this important branch of our operations in Tinnevely is prospering in so solid and satisfactory a manner. It seems that there is now but one great deficiency in the seminary, but that is one which true wisdom would seek immediately to remedy—a deficiency of scholars. We want men—well trained, educated, and devout men—to gather in the harvest in this province of Tinnevely.

The Preparandi establishment, under the care of the Rev. E. Sargent, is designed for training up the more advanced and mature Christian men as catechists or native pastors. The number of students is 60, and many of them are married men. In a letter dated August 24, 1852, Mr. Sargent writes—

Of the teachers associated with me in the work I am happy to say, that they all seem actuated by a sincere desire to devote themselves fully to their duties with faithfulness and cheerfulness. Among the students themselves I have occasion to know that more thoughtfulness about true religion is gaining ground, while in some the work of grace is manifesting itself more and more. Caste distinctions are altogether extinguished.

At a later date, Nov. 16, Mr. Sargent again writes—

On the whole, I feel we have much to encourage us. It would doubtless be a mistake to attach undue importance to the external machinery of an institution, the order and regularity of its various movements, the parade of classes, and such like; but, in subordination to the main object of disciplining the mind, such machinery is highly desirable, as inducing habits of order, cleanliness, and attention, especially in men designed to influence the rising generation, in preventing those bad habits to which the Hindu youths so soon become a prey. In this respect I am happy to add that great improvement has been made since the occupying of the new building, and I trust we shall always endeavour to maintain it.

The wives of the married students attend in Bible class for an hour and a half every other day, with Mrs. Sargent, and they take turns month by month to teach the infant-school which we have established in connexion with the girls' boarding-school. With the exception of three of the women, who had quite to begin with the alphabet, the rest can read very nicely, and those of them who had been in our Missionary boarding-schools are qualified to undertake the duties of schoolmistress wherever their husbands may be appointed.

An examination of the institution was held in the month of October by several of the Missionaries, at which the Rev. Septimus Hobbs presided, and thus states the result—

It would be tedious to detail the examination of every class in every subject. Those which appeared to excite the greatest interest were four—1. The doctrines contained in the first eleven articles—2. The first seventeen chapters of the gospel according to St. Matthew: this may be said to have been the leading subject, as it gave rise to critical, exegetical, and practical questions of great importance, and embracing a very extensive range. It was the general opinion that the replies of the students gave evidence of much diligence and thoughtfulness, and a very creditable amount of success—3. Tamil composition—and, 4. English reading and translation.

With regard to these, and indeed to all the other subjects, the result of the examination was unanimously declared to be very satisfactory.

Extension of the Mission.

The journals of the Missionaries during the past year show that more systematic and direct efforts are being made to reach the heathen population generally, instead of waiting for the gradual coming forward of inquirers. This change is in part the result of an increasing conviction on the minds of the Missionaries, that he who would partake of the spirit of Christ must imitate Him who came "to seek and to save that which was lost;" in part, also, of the very remarkable change everywhere visible in the disposition of the heathen to attend to the things which belong to their peace. A few extracts will illustrate this statement.

The Rev. J. Thomas, in his report at the close of the year 1852, writes—

To the work among the heathen an unusual amount of attention has been paid, during this year, by the catechists, by the native clergy, as well as by myself. Opportunities have been sought to converse with the heathen, they have been visited in their villages, and large quantities of tracts and portions of holy Scripture have been supplied to such as could read. Through the liberality of a lady in North Wales I was able to purchase a large quantity of Scriptures, and they have been distributed with a liberal hand. "Freely ye have received, freely give."

In closing his report Mr. Thomas makes the following striking remark—

I have been more than ever struck of late with the extraordinary amount of knowledge respecting the Christian scheme which the heathen in this province possess: I scarcely meet one who does not know somewhat of Christianity, and, to a certain extent, this fact is encouraging. Every year prejudice and opposition are palpably giving way, and I have no doubt but that the Hindu mind is undergoing a gradual change, and becoming prepared for the full and final abandonment of their stupid and degrading idolatry, and for the hearty reception of God's truth. This is manifest in the amount of knowledge already possessed; in the absence of impudent language and bad temper when spoken to; in the respectful and quiet manner in which they listen to the gospel; and in the eagerness with which they endeavour to obtain Christian books. May Jesus, whose the kingdom is, speedily come; and may multitudes in this and every other land be ready to hail Him with infinite gladness, saying, "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for Him, and He will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for Him, we will be glad and rejoice in His salvation!"

The Rev. J. T. Tucker writes, June 16—

I preached at Manakary to a full congregation, partly composed of heathen. I dwelt especially upon the necessity of spiritual worship and the intercession of Christ. Afterwards, three Brahmins and a respectable Vellalan came to pay their respects, to whom I spoke for upwards of an hour on the superiority of Christianity over all other religions, and particularly pointed out to them the absolute necessity for an all-sufficient sacrifice for sin, otherwise each one must inevitably be judged before God by his works. When in conversation with these Brahmins, some thirty more came to see me, all of whom I requested to sit down in the church, and to them also I preached "the gospel of the grace of God." It is the first time I have had a congregation of Brahmins to preach to in a church. One of them remained for the evening service, and sat down by the catechist the whole time.*

TRAVANCORE.

The dawn of a brighter day, which was spoken of in the last Report, has continued to advance. The Rev. J. Peet writes—"That the Lord has begun to bless us, most of our Missions in Travancore give us abundant evidence at the present moment."†

Cottayam District.

In a letter dated April 14, 1852, the Rev. H. Baker, sen., writes—

To show that we are sharing with the rest of the brethren in the measure of blessing which our gracious God is pleased to shower down upon us, I have the pleasure to inform you, that on Easter Sunday last I had the unspeakable gratification of admitting to baptism twenty-one heathen families, consisting of ninety-three souls. These, in addition to two other families admitted four months ago, and consisting of eight persons, will make up the aggregate number of 101 converts from heathenism within a few months. This number could have been considerably increased had numbers been the object; but some of our catechumens were not sufficiently instructed, some had questions to settle about their little property, and some were kept back by their relatives, who seemed to think they were going to be buried alive. There are now about fifty heathen under instruction, and a very favourable impression has been made on the minds of many in regard to the good work, which I hope will deepen and spread, so as to lead them to an acquaintance with Him whom to know aright is life eternal.

Cottayam College.

The Cottayam college has been re-opened by the Rev. E. Johnson, assisted by Mr. W. Baker. At the close of the year an examination took place, which was conducted by the Rev. J. Peet and the Rev. J. Harding, of which they report—

The number of boys examined was forty. The examination, chiefly of the first and second classes, lasted several hours; and, with the exception of grammar, the boys passed with credit. It was manifest that those in charge had done their duty, and the pupils had benefited by their instructions; and we trust, that, though the college education is not at present of a high order, yet, as it is sound and scriptural, it will prove of lasting benefit to all the youths, and form the groundwork of an education that may fit many of them for usefulness hereafter.

The Rev. J. Harding reports of the Allepie district—

Jan. 26, 1852—I yesterday morning baptized ten people from Kawalum. Before service I examined them all in the church, and found about half the number well prepared: the rest were unable to read, but seemed to know sufficient to warrant my receiving them into the outward privileges of the church. The Rev. J. Peet afterwards preached, and at the close of his sermon affectionately and faithfully addressed both those who had been baptized and the members of the church to which they had been united.

April 20—This morning six persons have called, desiring to be instructed in the faith of the gospel, and saying that twenty-five individuals in their village are willing and anxious to become Christians. They live at a place called Kanady, about a mile and a half from Kawalum, where already twenty-four have been baptized.

May 30—Yesterday morning ten of these people desired to have their topknots taken off, as an evidence of their renunciation of idolatry. This was done, before going to church, by one of the readers. Several others, it is expected, will follow their example. After the second lesson I baptized a young chogan, of Toomboly, aged eighteen, who had been for several months under instruction. Thus one and another, and often many at a time, are added to the members of the church militant. The gospel is not preached in vain. Error is dissipated, obstacles removed, the truth proclaimed and embraced, souls saved, and God glorified.

The Tiruwalla District.

The Rev. J. Hawksworth, in a report dated April 30, 1852, speaks of "a gradual yet steady increase in the congregations." He also thus notices the happy death of one of the members of his church—

We have just lost a pious, humble, and devoted schoolmaster at Mallapalli. Amid much suspicion and obloquy he commenced a school for the slaves in the depth of the jungle, for they dared not meet near to places frequented by their fellow-men. Every increase of sickness, every difficulty or loss, which he subsequently suffered, was ascribed to his audacity in teaching outcasts. Some, instead of pitying his emaciated appearance, or admiring his devotedness, said, "Ah! this is the fruit of your teaching those slaves: you will die." On one occasion, when alluding to this treatment, he said to me, "Sir, I can bear to die, but I cannot bear that those poor slaves should remain ignorant of Christ, who died for them." He persevered in daily visiting the school as long as he had strength to walk to it, and until a successor was found to carry on the work which he had begun. The poor slaves regarded him with great affection, and always spoke of him with great respect. During his last sickness they assured me they were praying for him. I saw him the Sunday before he died. He told me he could see no holiness in himself, but he appeared to realize a sense of the all-sufficiency of his Saviour, and to rest upon him.

Mr. Hawksworth reports the following striking evidence of the progress of Christian truth amongst the population generally—

Hindus of the highest respectability now read our books, and occasionally come to the bungalow and ask, "Have you got any new books." Our little monthly paper has a steady sale, chiefly among the most respectable of the heathen. In preparing this it is necessary to act very wisely. If the paper were exclusively religious, alarm would be taken; and if uninteresting, it would not be read. And on the other hand, if the paper did not contain scriptural truth—if it were not in some degree a Christian Herald, it would be beneath the notice, and foreign to the object, of the Missionary.

The Hill Araans.

The Rev. H. Baker, jun., has continued his zealous labours amongst the interesting hill tribes. In late communications he thus earnestly pleads for additional help to enable him effectually to discharge the duties of the Pallam district, as well as to follow up fresh openings—

I have about 1000 Christians in the plain, and schools besides. In the hills there are 250 Christians here and at Assappian, a mile and a half along. A friend has engaged to build a church for them, and I have applied to the circar (government) for permission; the Brahmin landlord, for a consideration of 38 rupees, having consented.

There are many hundreds of people, Araans, &c., in these hills, begging and praying me to teach them the way to heaven. O that you could see their looks when told of the love of Christ—hope even in the grave,—and how that even the sting of death was the gate of joy! And then we see those kneel in prayer who never thought of a God but as an awful, angry being, ready to torment. I will be travelling Missionary, or circulating one, or any thing you like to style me.

Mr. Baker thus reports a visit to the Araans at the close of the year, Dec. 9, 1852—

I have been living here for the last five weeks, with my wife and children, in order to be nearer my hill people, and get them into regular habits. The Christians here number more than 250, and, according to human sight, none of them would have heard of Christ crucified but for the establishment of this outpost. More than half are Araans, and the rest of almost every caste in Travancore. Last Sunday week I baptized one Nair, one Vellalah, with his wife and child, and three Chogans, with two women and three children. Next Sunday I propose, by God's grace, to baptize twenty-seven Araans. I have also a delightful school and congregation of from fifty to sixty Palayen slaves, who assemble from different parts of the jungle cultivations on Sundays. Some of them seek baptism: all know the rudiments of Christianity by rote. They are taught by a Syrian lad, with one of themselves as assistant. They seem very hopeful at present.

Before I left Pallam I had two visits from the headmen of some Araan hills N.E. of Cottayam, and near Eratapettah, up the Cottayam river. Some of them visited the Christian Araans of Assappian, and, on their return home, sent again last week to me to come and teach them. After such pressing requests I determined to go, though the room to be occupied by my family was but partly boarded, and the walls but grass screens. I was away six days, and found that several villages existed on a high mountain about eight miles from the river side. In fact, the whole range is full of inhabitants.

During my visit I walked between seventy and eighty miles; and from sunrise to eight or nine at night neither I nor those I took with me had much intermission in talking. The Ponambens of eight or ten hills came, with their leading men, to ask what was "our message." Captain Ward was the only European ever before amongst them. The men of four villages wished at once to cut off their top-knots, and asked for baptism forthwith: these were the same people who had sent to me. I said that faith and patience were the life of Christ's people, and that a profession of this nature could not be put on and off like clothing: they had better wait; and, if they held to their determination, in February I hoped to see them again: then, though I could not baptize, I would receive them as probationers. But they said, "You must destroy our devil-places, and teach us to pray to our Father, as you call Him, in heaven, or some beginning must be made." So I gave them two schoolmasters, and went over rocks and ravines to some spots where their genii were supposed to reside. At one place there was a fragment of granite, well oiled, and surrounded by a great number of extinguished torches: this easily broke into fragments. Another stone I found difficult to move, but at last sent it down the hill-side.

There is a complete string of Araan villages the whole way from this to Mundakyam, averaging not more than three miles' distance from each other. From these and other places to the south I am repeatedly getting messages to come, but, under my present engagements, I cannot undertake any thing fresh; but hope in January to make my proposed visit, so as to be able, at least for once, to preach to these poor people of Christ. From what I have seen, I imagine the number of Araans in the three talooks in this neighbourhood to be more than 2000 householders, each one comprising from three to four families in his circle.*

Outbreak of Brahminical persecution.

Concurrently with these successes in the Mission there has been in Travancore, within the last two years, an outbreak of violent persecution on the part of the Brahmins. The native authorities have become the instruments of this persecution; and the British influence, which at every former period has been successfully exerted to promote the moral and religious amelioration of the people, has not hitherto checked the evil. A representation of this state of things has been made in the proper quarters, which it is hoped may remove the scandal.

The Rev. J. Hawksworth writes on this subject, in a report dated April 30, 1852—

The bitter persecution which has been raised against converts in this Mission is such as I have never known before.

The case of the poor slaves is very difficult. I do not know how they would be treated by the circar on their embracing Christianity, for Christianity is so bitterly opposed, especially in this district, that converts—Christian freemen—are not now allowed to enter a court of justice, or walk with their fellow-Christians on the public roads, even where these roads are more than 40 feet wide. Such a state of things is now in Travancore, and perhaps cannot be paralleled in any other country in the world. But the night is darkest just before the day dawns. The cause of humanity and truth shall yet triumph, even here.

COCHIN.

The Rev. H. Harley and the Rev. J. G. Beuttler divide the duties of the Station at Trichoor. They both reside in the town, and visit the surrounding villages. There are continual accessions of fresh members to the church, especially from among the heathen: in some cases the new converts have been happily instrumental in bringing their countrymen to the knowledge of the truth. Mr. Harley writes, Sept. 30, 1852—

At Chellacotta, a small village scarcely a quarter of a mile distant from us, there are at present about fourteen individuals who have joined us, and are regular in attending the services of the Lord's-day. They have been chiefly brought to the knowledge of the truth through the instrumentality of a member of our congregation, and I trust that, in due time, nearly the whole of this small village will totally renounce their idolatrous practices, and know and acknowledge the only true God, and Jesus Christ as their Saviour and Redeemer.

Mr. Beuttler remarks—

The greatest encouragement I have had in my going about is the distribution of the Scriptures, the larger portions of which I never

THE Rev. G. Pettitt, who discharges the duties of Secretary of the Mission, and embraces opportunities of Missionary labour in both Singhalese and Tamil amidst the population of Colombo, thus reviews the general aspect of the Mission—

In Ceylon, although the Mission has not yet surmounted all its difficulties, and although nothing of a very striking character has occurred during the past year, yet it is evident, from the reports of the Mission Stations, that a quiet and gradual progress is perceptible. The labours of the Missionaries have not been interrupted by ill health; there has been a decided increase and improvement in the educational department; systematic and vigorous measures have been adopted for visiting and examining the schools, which again have brought the Missionaries into fuller contact with the people; more has been done both in the way of itinerating among the villages, and also in the way of holding cottage meetings among the Singhalese for religious instruction and prayer—a mode of reaching their minds which seems to promise good results; the press at Cotta has been continually employed; a small monthly periodical in Singhalese, for communicating Missionary information among the native Christians, has issued from it; a girls'-school, under the direction of the Ladies'

COTTA.

Services—Village ministrations.

The Rev. A. D. Gordon thus reports, Sept. 30, 1852, the state of his department of the Mission—

My branch of the Cotta Station contains 10 villages, in which, altogether, 18 services are held in the week, 11 of them on the Sabbath. The number of persons who have been present at these services is 450 adults, 500 children. As a few of these attend both the services held on the Sabbath, the average number of adults may be regarded as 420 ; i.e. about two-thirds of our registered members, and of those who have placed themselves under instruction. It should be remembered at the same time that the irregularity of attendance is confined chiefly to the latter—the candidates for registration.

At the morning service in the Station church the average attendance of adults, including the institution youths, is now 85, being an increase of 20 over the past year ; and at the afternoon service, in another part of the village, there is an increase of 10. This general improvement throughout my district in attendance on public worship I attribute partly to the more frequent presence of an European Missionary among the people, the Rev. Messrs. Fenn and Higgins, and Mr. Clarke, having rendered me essential assistance in this respect.

Of the work in the villages Mr. Gordon reports, in the case of one under his charge—

Talangama—It is specially gratifying to observe the effect which the opening of a church here has had upon the people. The double service on the Sabbath allowing both husband and wife to attend, nearly twice the number that were formerly instructed now come under our ministry ; while the improvement of all in decorum and serious attention in the house of God is clearly manifest. The administration of all the rites of the church in their own village gives it, in the estimation of the people, more of a Christian aspect, and tends to separate it more widely from heathenism.

The Committee desire at all times to place before their friends a faithful report of the work in which they are engaged. They do not therefore shrink from the relation of the dark side of the picture, when instances of disappointment or apostasy occur in the journals of their Missionaries. Two such cases are reported by Mr. Gordon, which exhibit features happily rare in the history of our Missions. The death of an apostate from the faith is thus described—

A person, once in the service of the Church Missionary Society as a schoolmaster and scripture reader, and a communicant, left us many years ago on account of sickness. While an invalid, though his house was only a few yards from the place of worship, he was very irregular in attending it. At length he became bedridden, and, having tried a variety of medicines in vain, he consented to the proposal of his Buddhist doctor that priests should be invited to his house, and Pirit read during the administration of his medicine.

Four priests were accordingly summoned, and an imposing ceremony gone through, but all to no purpose. During this experiment of the virtue of Buddhism he distinctly informed us he had renounced Christianity, and firmly confided in the efficacy of Buddhism. Being in this disappointed, he committed himself to a Tamil medical practitioner, but with a similar result.

From this time to his death, though he retained a clear knowledge of the leading truths of Christianity, he did not wish to see us, nor did he express any desire to be restored to the congregation from which he had been cut off. In this wretched state he died, a melancholy example of the obduracy of a backslider's heart.

The next extract describes the defection of a whole family after many years of Christian profession.

Mawala—The Christian congregation in this village, though not increased by any additions from among the heathen, but rather diminished by the falling away of some who had loved the world more than God, is yet much improved in respect to the regularity of attendance on divine service on the part of the registered members. Fewer instances of secret devil-worship have been detected. The plague, however, of the village is the tarem: the whole neighbourhood is notorious for its drunkenness and violence. Among those who have abandoned the means of grace in this village is a whole family of some influence. The circumstances connected with this event—for it was the work of a few weeks—will give the friends of Missions at home some idea of the disappointment to which the Missionary is subjected. The head of the family is an arachey, a country squire: he was connected with the congregation almost from its foundation under Mr. Lambrick. His sons had grown up in the Mission-school of the village, and one of them had passed through the institution, and is now engaged in connexion with the Society. When proposals were made for erecting the church in the village, they were most forward in professions of interest and promises of aid. The speech of one of them at the meeting held for this purpose was even published by the home Committee in a Number of the "Missionary Record." A few months after this the spell was broken. A younger sister applied for marriage: the publication of the banns was refused, because our rules allowed of this only in the case of registered members. The girl had grown up to womanhood within a hundred yards of the place of worship, but had never attended it, the rank of the parents being inconsistent with the daughter's presence at such a promiscuous assembly. Upon this refusal on the part of the Missionary followed the father's defection from the congregation; then an accusation conducted by one of the sons against the catechist of the village, upon the unsuccessful termination of which resulted the renunciation of the father and the two adult sons of all connexion with the church, the congregation, the Church Missionary Society, and, as they go nowhere else for worship, we may soon add, the Christianity of the village. Yet a few remain steadfast, and much interest is expressed in the chapel now completed. The people, according to their scanty means, are contributing towards the fittings. I trust it will be opened for divine service in a month or two. Here are two very good schools for both sexes, well superintended by an active and experienced catechist.

The Rev. I. Wood has ten village congregations under his superintendence. He reports respecting the services—

Divine service has been performed in each village where there is a congregation every Sunday; and in others, part of the morning service is read either on Wednesdays or Thursdays, and a catechetical lecture delivered. These services have been conducted by myself, Mr. Higgins, Mr. Clarke, Mr. Senanayaka, and the catechists. Besides the services, adult classes are held for candidates for baptism, and for those who wish to become communicants. Mr. Clarke has also commenced evening prayer-meetings in some of the villages, which, for the most part, are well attended.

Little Missionary Associations are also either formed or forming in several parts of my district, which I trust will be the means of much good, both in uniting our people more closely, and in stirring up among them a spirit of zeal for the promotion of Christianity among their countrymen.

Confirmation.

On the 12th of September the Bishop of Colombo held a confirmation at Cotta church, for the district: 136 candidates were presented by the Missionaries, and a large congregation was present at the service.

Cotta Institution.

Mr. Gordon, who has been in charge of the institution since Mr. Haslam's death, reports, Sept. 30, 1852—

Among the elder boys, four are communicants: there is reason to hope favourably of their spiritual state. With but few exceptions, my work of instruction has been easy and pleasant as respects the desire of the pupils to learn.

The usual annual examination of the Institution was held at Cotta on the 14th of July. It was attended by His Excellency the Governor, the Colonial Secretary, and several other influential friends of the So ciety. The examination was conducted in Scripture by the Rev. G. Pettitt; in the Greek Testament by the Rev. C. C. Fenn—the first class reading a passage from the Acts of the Apostles, the second and third from the Gospel by St. John; in the Latin classics by the Hon. C. J. MacCarthy, Esq.—the first class translating one of the Odes of Horace, the second, part of the tenth satire of Juvenal; and in mathematics and natural philosophy by Lieut. Shaw, R. E.

The Rev. C. C. Fenn, M.A. Trinity College, Cambridge, arrived in Ceylon in the beginning of the year, to occupy the post held by the late Mr. Haslam. But it was thought advisable that he should not undertake the duties of the institution until he had acquired a knowledge of the language: this he has now accomplished. He has also visited the Missions in South India and at Calcutta, in order to become fully acquainted with the various educational establishments in those parts, previously to the remodelling of the Cotta institution upon an enlarged system of general education, out of which it is hoped that a more serviceable body of native teachers may be raised, than have yet been obtained.

BADDAGAME.

The Rev. G. Parsons and the native minister, the Rev. A. Goonesekera, have conducted this Mission.

Services—Cottage lectures, &c.

Mr. Parsons reports—

The services in the church have been chiefly three. The Sunday-morning service in Singhalese has exhibited a marked improvement in the number of attendants. This I believe to be partly attributable to Mr. Goonesekera's cottage lectures, and partly to the excitement caused among the people generally about the contemplated removal of the Missionary's residence. Mr. Goonesekera records a pleasing feature. Lately we have passed through the busy season of harvest, at which time every other duty is wont to be laid aside, and the whole family, directly or indirectly, engaged in reaping and housing the grain. But during this period none of our Christians have been missed from their seats in the house of God.

The cottage lectures held within the neighbourhood of Baddagame continue to be a source of hope and encouragement. The number of meetings or classes has been increased, and some of the old ones handed over to the care of a catechist or reader. Lists of attendance have been regularly kept, and these exhibit a tolerably steady attendance. The number at each class is small, but that is owing to the population being scattered, and people not liking to go from one hamlet to another.

Missionary tour along the coast.

The discouraging state of the population around the Mission

Station of Baddagame having suggested to the Missionary at the Station, as well as to the Missionary Committee, the inquiry whether more promising fields of labour would not be found among the populous villages of the sea coast, Mr. Parsons spent three months of the last summer in itinerating through that district, residing at the principal places for two or three weeks. He thus reports the results of this Missionary tour—

In endeavouring to carry out the request of the Committee, I have selected four out of five of the principal towns or large villages on the coast; and I have sojourned in each for a short time, sufficient to acquaint myself with the people and their neighbourhood, and to discover what openings for Mission work presented themselves.

It is my pleasure to report that my visits were generally very cheering to me. Although in no place have I met with sufficient encouragement to recommend a permanent connexion, yet I am exceedingly glad of the opportunity afforded me of sojourning among the people of each little town, because by such visits I am able to do more good, and to become more acquainted with the people, than by a visit merely for a day. And although I did not meet with the success I wished for, yet I was not altogether without encouragement. In the first place, I was greatly refreshed with a sense of God's presence, and delighted to find myself engaged in real Mission-work. I trust, also, I have, by God's help, raised a doubt or a question in the minds of some as to the truth of Buddhistical doctrines. I was at times both pleased and grieved to see both priests and laymen recoil at the truth, and shrink back from the light. They would not do so had not their vain confidence received a wound, however slight; but it grieves one to witness their want of candour at such times. I also gained a little Missionary experience, and was frequently humbled to feel how much I needed more; and, lastly, I had a good opportunity for making progress in the colloquial acquaintance with the languages.

I do therefore strongly recommend that visits of a similar kind be hereafter made, unless some plan rendering them either unnecessary or impracticable be agreed upon.

Education.

Respecting the education of the district, Mr. Parsons reports that the seminary has continued to give him great satisfaction. The other schools are also, he hopes, improving.

Mr. Goonesekera reports favourably of the schools which have been under his care.

KANDY.

The Rev. W. Oakley, assisted by the native minister, the Rev. C. Jayesinha, has continued in charge of this Station. His report and journals show that a very marked improvement has lately taken place in the disposition of the Kandians to hear the gospel, and that the power of Buddhism over their minds is every day becoming weaker. The educated natives have, for the most part, "withdrawn from all public participation in the rites and ceremonies of Buddhism," though still continuing heathen by profession.

Several interesting events illustrative of this change have occurred during the last year. Amongst these may be noticed the baptism of a young Kandian lady of high native rank. She was only the second lady who had embraced Christianity from that class since the Kandian territories were ceded to the British. Mr. Oakley writes—

She was eighteen years of age, and used to come almost daily to the Mission house to receive instruction. She was instructed chiefly by Mrs. Oakley, who found her to be a most willing and interesting pupil. Her mind seemed gradually to open to the truths which were set before her; and, unlike the females in general in India, she was accustomed from the first to ask a great many questions on every subject upon which she was instructed, by which means she made very rapid and satisfactory progress in her knowledge of Christian truth. She was particularly anxious to understand the nature and value of prayer, and often asked Mrs. Oakley to teach her short prayers, which she could repeat whenever she was alone.

She seemed to feel the deepest interest in reading chapters in the New Testament with Mrs. Oakley, and was remarkably quick in perceiving the meaning of many of our Saviour's discourses and parables.

As I was satisfied with her sincerity, and with her knowledge of the chief truths of the Christian religion, I admitted her into the church by baptism, on Sunday, May 9, in the presence of the congregation, after the second lesson at morning service. She gave her replies with great simplicity and earnestness. On her return home from church she found all her friends in tears. When she inquired the cause, they said it was because she had forsaken the religion of her fathers, and gone over to a strange religion. She was not, however, in the least degree discouraged by their expressed regret at her conduct, but the next day, Monday, she came as usual to Mrs. Oakley for instruction.

Shortly after her baptism she was married* to a young Kandian, whose baptism was related in the Report 1849-50, who has remained steadfast to his profession, and is a communicant. He is in government employment at a few miles' distance from Kandy.

In the month of August Mr. Oakley had also the pleasure of admitting two young men to Christian baptism in a village of which mention has frequently been made—Ratmewela. Mr. Oakley writes—

---

* A fuller account of this convert, and of her marriage, will be found in the "Church Missionary Gleaner" for Jan. 1853, pp. 3—5.

August 15, 1852: Sunday—I left home at half past five this morning, with one of my catechists, to spend the day at Ratmewela, to hold divine service in the village, baptize two young men, who have been candidates for baptism and under instruction for about two years, and to converse with as many people as we could collect together. This is the first time that I have spent a Sunday in this village; but as we have now residing there three Christian families, containing seven adults and five children, to whom we have to-day added two more adults, we have thought it right to make an arrangement to hold divine service in the village in future at least once a month.

The two young men who were to be admitted into the church to-day by baptism are now about twenty years of age. They both commenced their education in our Ratmewela school, under the care of Rajapaxagadera Abraham. From him they first heard of the Christian religion, and to his exertions chiefly, under the divine blessing, they are indebted for the knowledge of the Gospel which they now possess. He has been indefatigable in his endeavours to instruct them; and, from the simplicity of their manners, and the intelligence with which they replied to my questions, I am encouraged to hope that their eyes have been opened to see the folly and wickedness of heathenism, and the truth and importance of Christianity, and that they have resolved, by divine assistance, to give up heathenism for ever, and to become the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ.

There were present no fewer than 100 persons, of whom 36 were women and 20 girls: such a sight I had never before witnessed in a Kandian village. It is very seldom that we can persuade the Kandian females to come and listen to our preaching. I have never, I think, seen so many as twelve Kandian women assembled in a schoolroom before.

In the course of my conversation with the people to-day, I observed that there were a number of young women, and several older women, who seemed willing to be instructed in the Christian religion, and I felt greatly at a loss how to provide them with a teacher. They have never learned to read; and, as none but female teachers could have access to them, I proposed that Abraham's eldest daughter, Mary, should undertake the work, and I asked some of the women if they were willing to listen to her. They consented; and Mary having also expressed a willingness to make the attempt, I have appointed her as a "female catechist," at a salary of 5s. per month. This slight remuneration will, I hope, encourage her to persevere in her work. She is a very intelligent girl, about sixteen years of age, and is tolerably well acquainted with the chief truths of the Christian religion: she has been instructed almost entirely by her father. She commenced her labours with only seven, but in the course of the first quarter obtained in all eleven pupils. The last time I visited the village I was much pleased to hear one old woman repeat the Lord's prayer, which Mary had taught her.

JAFFNA DISTRICT.

General view of Chundicully, Nellore, and Copay.

The three Missionaries who have laboured for several years in these Stations have this year furnished the Committee with an united report of the Mission work in this part of Ceylon, taking an extensive view of the field of labour, and of the other Missionary agencies which occupy it. It is satisfactory to observe throughout our Missions, that, as in this case, the labourers frequently refer to the extent of the unconverted population which has to be brought at least within the pale of the visible church of Christ. A few extracts of the report may be given.

The district and peninsula of Jaffna, at the northern extremity of Ceylon, extends about twenty miles from north to south, and thirty-six miles from east to west. It is thickly populated, containing in all 215,000 souls. It is divided into thirty-seven parishes, each containing several villages. In three of these parishes the Missionaries of the Society reside, and superintend schools, &c. In five others, American Missionaries—Independents—occupy a larger extent of the country, having usually from eight to ten Missionaries. The Wesleyan Missionaries occupy three parishes. The Missionary operations of the three Societies thus occupy distinct portions of the country.

The people are a fine, healthy race. We are often struck with the resemblance which exists, physically, with regard to this people and Europeans. They are shrewd, witty, selfish, and, in their circumstances, very independent. The Dutch, when they possessed the island, forced the inhabitants to forsake idolatry, built churches in every parish, and compelled them to attend and receive the rite of baptism. But this system of compulsion not only failed in its object of making them Christians, but it embittered the minds of the people against Christianity altogether; so that, as soon as the bow was unstrung, it sprang back with a reflex action, plainly seen in the diligence with which they re-erected heathen temples, and thronged their courts with willing worshippers. The people had suffered under Christians, and therefore hated them and their religion. Then came British indifference. The extensive churches erected by the Portuguese, and repaired by the Dutch, were allowed to go to decay: little provision was made for the spiritual wants of the people, even had there been some willing to remain Christians. Hence, when Protestant Missionaries first arrived, about 1816, they found the people relapsed into heathenism, and they were themselves regarded with the utmost suspicion.

In actual conversions the progress of this Mission has been very slow compared with other countries. But the indirect and more general effects of Christian instruction have probably been as manifest in this district of Ceylon as in any part of India. Seminaries have been established, and are now crowded, notwithstanding that the boys are required to pay a considerable sum for board, &c. Female education has also been carried to a great extent for many years by the Americans, and latterly by the Missionaries of this Society; and so great a change has taken place in the estimation in which it is held, that whereas formerly the girls were paid for attending school, and had the promise of a dowry of 5*l.* if they continued at school till their marriage, they now pay a small sum towards their education, and esteem it a favour to be admitted. The vernacular schools have decidedly raised the tone of morality amongst the people who remain heathen, whilst they have also diffused a very considerable knowledge of Christian truth.

Education.

During the last year an important measure has been introduced, by the establishment of a seminary at Copay for training up schoolmasters and teachers by a vernacular education. The Chundicully seminary will continue to impart an English education, but not, as hitherto, to pupils supported by the Society—who for the most part went into secular offices as soon as they had acquired English—but to pupils who will pay for their board and education. A systematic arrangement has also been introduced for examining half-yearly all the schools of the Mission, at which seasons the parents and others are invited to attend in the evening, to receive a Christian address from the Missionaries. These meetings are generally attended by considerable numbers, often more than 100 adults. The Rev. R. Bren, after describing the examination of the schools in his district in June and July last, writes—

Thus ended the tour through the Copay district. Out of 436 children on our books, 356 were examined in nine schools, and nine meetings held, in which the gospel was preached to about 800 individuals. I suppose there was never half the interest felt in school examinations or meetings as this year. God grant that it may not be in vain!

Mr. Bren also describes a quarterly Missionary meeting amongst the Christians, which was held about the same time, at which interesting addresses were delivered by the native teachers.

One native catechist spoke of the best means of making the power of the gospel to be felt by the people. He mentioned some things which would not do so; as the pretended miracles of the Romanists, &c. He then described the true means—preaching, schools, tracts and deep piety in Christians: that it was each one's work to make the gospel known, not a Missionary's only.

Another native teacher, who addressed the meeting, remarked, that in the apostles' days there was a fervent, active piety, which we do not see now: each should take a heathen friend or relative, and talk with him and pray for him without ceasing.*

HONG KONG.

THE Rev. E. T. R. Moncrieff having resigned his situation in St. Paul's College, with the concurrence of the bishop and the Committee, and having returned to this country, the tuition is carried on by the tutor, who is maintained by the college funds independently of the Society. The Committee hope to be able to send out another Missionary for this post.

A new building has been erected, which was opened at the close of the year. The number of pupils had fluctuated. The Bishop of Victoria having paid a visit to India, the report of the College has not been yet published.

FUH-CHAU.

The Rev. R. D. Jackson has removed from this Station to Ningpo, so that the Rev. W. Welton is at present alone sustaining the duties of the Mission. It is the earnest desire of the Committee to provide him with one or more associates as soon as it shall be in their power.

Jealousy of the authorities toward foreigners.

In the earlier part of the year, two of Mr. Welton's Chinese teachers were seized, imprisoned, and cruelly punished, for no other crime than their connexion with foreigners.* They were eventually banished from the place. The new emperor appears determined to abridge the privileges granted to foreigners by the late emperor, and to adopt an hostile and exclusive policy. But the rebellion which is rapidly spreading through the whole empire, and threatens the reigning dynasty, cripples the power of the government, and ensures to the Missionaries a liberty of action beyond the intention of the rulers.

Limited opportunities of usefulness.

Mr. Welton has not the opportunity as yet of publicly addressing the people; but numerous patients come to him daily for medical relief,† to whom he gives tracts and portions of the Scriptures; and he has many evidences that such works are read and valued. In some instances the patients come from a considerable distance in the interior, and thus carry back with them a few pages of scriptural truth to localities into which the Missionary cannot penetrate.

Mr. Welton writes, Dec. 15, 1852—

It gives me pleasure to say that we are at the present time in a state of great tranquillity. I was looking forward with some anxiety, when I last addressed you, to the approaching 20th of October, which is the day of celebration of an annual festival which is observed on the hill in the city upon which my residence is situated, when several thousands from the city and country assemble. It was upon the corresponding day and occasion last year that my residence was attacked and outraged. This year I am glad to say that the Chinese mandarins of this district took the precaution, and that spontaneously, of putting forth a proclamation to the people, admonishing them not to molest or injure our property or residences. This has had a most salutary effect, not only in preventing depredations upon my premises and the consulate, but also in securing for us greater regard and respect from the people generally.

NINGPO.

The Rev. W. A. Russell, the Rev. F. F. Gough, and the Rev. R. D. Jackson, conducted the duties of the Mission at this Station, until severe illness obliged Mr. Gough, in the autumn, to return to Europe for the recovery of his health.

First Impressions of the Mission.

Mr. Jackson thus gives his view of the Mission upon his first joining it—

I arrived at Ningpo on the 19th of April, and took up my residence with Mr. Gough. Here I had the happiness, as also at Mr. Russell's house, to find many Chinese attending morning and evening family service—at Mr. Russell's from 12 to 20 in the evening, including servants and teachers; and at Mr. Gough's, from 20 to 25 or 30. Many of these are very regular in attendance; and 8 or 9 are under instruction as candidates for baptism. I also found two day-schools in active operation, containing about 50 or 55 boys in regular attendance, and the numbers are only limited through the want of means and ability to carry out extended operations. The boys are sharp, clever, and intelligent, and in mental capacity are not inferior to any in our own land. The two chapels are also well attended; but the Jing-tih-dong is best attended, in consequence of the favourable position in which it has been erected. During the Sundays I have been present at the chapels, at the one there has been an average attendance of from 100 to 150 adults; at the other, of from 60 to 100; and these congregations have not, during the time of service, been so fluctuating as in general, in China, is the case.

Mr. Russell thus describes the prospects of the Mission—

April 11, 1852—On the whole, the present aspect of things here, to my mind, looks favourable. In attestation of this, I will mention a conversation which took place the other evening, after family prayer, between Yüeh-yi and a neighbour who has been a very regular attendant at all our services latterly. Yüeh-yi was alluding to the difficulties in the way of the progress of Christianity amongst his own people, assuming that elsewhere they could hardly have been so great, and expressing a fear that for a long time they would not be removed. This neighbour interrupted him, and asked him to recall back his thoughts to the state of things here two years ago. "Then," said he, "you are aware how reluctant the Ningpo people were to allow their children to go to foreigners' schools; whereas, at present, if one hundred schools were opened by them in this city alone, they wouldn't have room for all the boys who would be glad to go to them. And why? Because their parents see that their children are far better instructed in them than in their own schools, even in their own character, and, in addition, are taught to read books which all can understand, which is not so with their own, in the alphabetic system. Now," said he, "this is some progress made, and some of the difficulties removed. Again, you remember, some time ago, how hardly all the women spoke against foreigners whenever they saw them passing through the streets: but now you see how very different it is; for instead of speaking harshly of them, on the contrary, they say they are far better behaved than their own people. Here is another step gained, and other difficulties removed;" all of which Yüeh-yi acknowledged.

From my own observation, too, I can see that the people are much more friendly towards us than they used to be; for though hitherto they were externally polite and civil, yet it was easy to perceive there was a lurking animosity against, and distrust of, us within, though not openly manifested. Now I am in the habit of receiving the friendly nod of recognition from many respectable-looking persons in the streets, with whom I am not personally acquainted, and who could have only known me from having seen me at our chapels, or talking with the people in the streets. This is very different from what it used to be; for some time ago even our teachers were ashamed to be seen with us in any public place. At our chapels, too, I can see the number of regular attendants increasing, and the attention of all far more fixed and definite than it used to be. On the whole, I cannot help feeling that the Lord is having His way prepared amongst this people, and that ere long, if spared, we shall be privileged to see His truth telling largely upon them. Should such a movement as I anticipate, by the blessing of God, take place, I should also much fear that with the wheat there would be a large intermixture of tares, for the character of this people is, I believe, rather to follow others from an imitative spirit than from independent conviction.*

Visit from the Bishop.

At the latter end of May, the Bishop of Victoria paid a visit of three weeks to Ningpo, taking up his residence with the Missionaries, and encouraging their labours by uniting with them in their various meetings, and in the examination of their schools. The following are extracts from the bishop's journal—

May 23: Sunday—At one P.M. two of the Chinese, baptized by Mr. Cobbold last year, and a youth whom I baptized at Hong Kong, met in Mr. Gough's house, with two other respectable Chinese, candidates for baptism. Mr. Jackson read the Litany in English; then Mr. Gough interpreted for me an address from John xiv. 1, conveying words of encouragement to our Chinese brethren under their various trials. Mr. Gough then offered up a prayer in Chinese, and I finished by a prayer in English. One of the Chinese present, a tailor, appears a suitable man for a catechist, having a good understanding, and evincing deep sincerity. His name is Baw sze-foo.

In the afternoon I heard Mr. Gough preach to about seventy Chinese—twenty of whom were his own boys, the rest adults—in the Jin-tih tang chapel, near the south gate of the city. We afterwards adjourned into the school-room, where we catechized twenty-one day-pupils for half an hour.

May 30: Sunday—At the Jin-e tang Mr. Gough catechized the thirty day-scholars connected with the school attached, together with other persons more regular in attendance, and constituting a private assemblage, in all exceeding fifty, who afterwards joined in prayer and reading some of the scriptural portions for the day.

In the afternoon Mr. Russell delivered a more exoteric address, in the same chapel, to about 150 persons, including the scholars. It was an interesting sight to behold above 120 adults listening to the gospel message; and the general demeanour was more attentive, and the interruptions from talking less frequent, than on my last visit to Ningpo, a year and a half ago. During the last twenty minutes of the sermon Mr. Russell invited me to address the people from the pulpit, he standing by my side to interpret my words into this dialect. I was glad to find that Tsae sēen-sang, my Roman-Catholic acquaintance, was present, having brought, also, three or four Roman-Catholic friends with him.

June 3—Mr. Gough again visited an old woman who lives near, the mother of his servant A-foh, by whom he was accompanied. The latter showed, by his earnest and affectionate appeals to his mother in the presence of Mr. Gough, that he himself had a spiritual apprehension of evangelical truth. He said to her, "Mother, I know that hitherto you have been limiting your thoughts of Jesus too much to His willingness and power to heal your bodily sickness. But there is a worse evil—the malady of sin. You, dear mother, and the people of Ningpo, cannot attain to this truth as yet: it is too difficult for you. But we, who have the privilege of daily instruction, cannot but understand that Jesus came to save men from the spiritual disease of sin."

In the street to-day I was gratified at perceiving the popular opinion respecting Christianity which prevails here, as being a religion which inculcates views of the strictest morality. A labouring man stopped my companion, and asked if he might come to our house to receive instruction, with the view of entering our religion, as he wished "kae kwo tsung shen"—"to change from his wickedness and to alter to what is virtuous;" a common phrase in Chinese for indicating a thorough reformation of life.

June 6: Sunday—I administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper in the Jin-e tang, to a little company of communicants, including in our number three Chinese women and two Chinese men. The two last were Baw sze-foo and A-ling, who partook for the first time of this sacrament, and evinced a reverent, humble, and devout spirit. They presented me with some scrolls and tablets, containing Chinese sentences and texts, commemorative of this important occasion and event in their lives.

I cannot conclude my notices of this Station without expressing my deep sense of admiration and respect towards our Church Missionary brethren, who have conducted the Mission on principles of self-denial and economy, and in a spirit of devout prayer to God, and of love to the native population, which, I trust, is an earnest of great blessings upon the future progress of this Station. They encourage visits to their houses, they mingle with their Chinese neighbours, they are Missionaries to their own households, they take delight in training the young—they, in short, “give themselves wholly” to the great work for which they expatriated themselves from kindred and home. Their progress in the local dialect has been very considerable. They present the happy spectacle of brethren at unity among themselves, and sustained in all their trials and privations—and these are not few—by an ardent love of souls, a confident trust in the grace of the Almighty, and an assurance of the certain fulfilment of the promise, that the heathen shall be given unto the Son as His inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth as His possession.

During the bishop's stay at Ningpo he visited some of the neighbouring lakes, the shores of which are studded with flourishing villages; but he found the people too much excited by political agitations to listen to the message of the Missionary. He visited a celebrated Buddhist monastery, and records the painful instances of self-torture practised by the deluded devotees, which may well excite the compassion, and call forth the Missionary zeal, of Christians.

One of the priests was an old man, and his case was one of more than ordinary interest. Fifteen years ago he had consumed, by means of a slow match, two joints of the third finger of his left hand, the blue charred bone of which still bore marks of burning. He appeared to have endured this self-inflicted austerity with different objects in view, and somewhat mixed notions. First, he seemed to regard it as a reparation for his sins; secondly, he viewed it as a mortification conducive to future purification.

Later in the day we met another priest who had similarly burnt off a finger as a mark of austerity, and a means of attaining the hope of absorption into Buddhu. On our arrival at the large monastery of Teen-tung these topics formed subjects of lengthened explanation and discussion with the priests, Mr. Russell ably joining with Mr. Gough in the endeavour to lead the priests to consider the superior claims of the gospel.

Another priest, on being told that, instead of bestowing this care upon the external trifles of this kind [straining the water previous to drinking, lest life should be unwittingly destroyed], they should attend to the fountain-head of moral conduct, i.e. the heart, immediately replied by pointing literally to his head—misunderstanding the statement—which he had not neglected, and which, he said, he had burnt in twelve places with a slow match, as a self-imposed torture and austerity. Several priests bore these twelve burnt marks on the crown of their head.*

The following are extracts of a letter from Mr. Russell, dated Ningpo, July 24, 1852—

Our Christian friends at home will be glad to hear, that, on last Sunday, we had the privilege and pleasure of baptizing four more of the inhabitants of this heathen city into the outward fold and family of the Saviour. That they had already been inwardly baptized by the Holy Spirit, regenerated, and made new creatures in Christ Jesus, a long probationary course afforded me as full and entire satisfaction as I can reasonably expect in such cases. They are not, I am aware, full-grown Christians; yet if they are, as I trust they are, even babes in Christ, they shall be safely carried in the Good Shepherd's bosom, brought on from faith to faith and grace to grace, until they arrive at the measure of the stature of His fulness, and finally attain to the goal of everlasting rest, to the praise and glory of Him to whom all is due from first to last.*

Three of the converts were of one family, a father, and two sons of fourteen and eighteen years of age, who had been taught in the Mission-school. At the close of the year another interesting baptism took place, namely, of the grandchild of a native teacher, whose death was recorded in the last Report.

Mr. Russell writes, at the close of the year, Dec. 6, 1852—

Previous to the decease of Leo Sin-sang, my former teacher, who died last year of cholera, and to whom reference has been made in former communications, his grandson, Leo Dao t'oeu, had been recommended by his grandfather to my care—indeed, given to me in the presence of witnesses, so far as he had the right of exercising that power. He at the same time expressed the wish, which I have now no doubt was purely genuine, that the boy should be educated as a Christian, and finally baptized, should the grace of God bring him to a saving knowledge of the truth, which was the old man's dying prayer. This wish has, I believe, been granted, and this prayer answered. Yesterday, in the presence of many witnesses, the boy, I feel persuaded, witnessed an intelligent and genuine profession of Christianity, and received at my hands the outward symbol of water, significant of that inward purification by the Holy Ghost which I trust he had already received by the exercise of genuine repentance and implicit faith on his Saviour. The boy's own father, to my surprise, offered no opposition in the matter; on the contrary, expressed his cordial approbation of the step his son was taking, and came a distance of several miles from the country to be present at the ceremony: this I can only account for on the supposition that the old man, his father, previous to his death, had brought the subject of Christianity more prominently before his family than I was aware of, or even suspected.

We baptized him, at his own request, by the name of Dao-eng, substituting eng for the last syllable of his name, which would mean, giving it a Christian interpretation, "Doctrine of Grace." May he indeed prove himself to be a child of God's gracious doctrine, and manifest his gratitude for the favour shown him by a life of entire devotedness to his gracious benefactor!

Appeal for men.

Mr. Russell's concluding appeal will, the Committee trust, awaken a response in the hearts of many.

Any hope, my dear Sir, of your sending us additional hands? In and about Ningpo is a field for twenty more labourers, full of encouragement. Money I know you have. Is religion at such an ebb that none are to be found with love enough to the Saviour and the souls of men to aspire to the privilege of fighting in the foremost ranks for Jesus, and, if needs be, dying in an aggressive campaign under our great Captain, in the midst of the enemy's stronghold?*

SHANGHAE.

Erection and opening of an educational establishment.

The Rev. John Hobson, who went out as a Missionary of this Society, but was transferred, with the concurrence of the Committee, to the consular chaplaincy, has successfully exerted himself for the erection of a commodious educational establishment, comprising a residence for a married Missionary, school-rooms, dormitories, and lecture-rooms, capable of accommodating 50 boarders and 30 day-scholars. The cost has been 5416 dollars, nearly one-half of which was a sum contributed by the English congregation at Shanghae, as an equivalent to the Society for the expense of Mr. Hobson's passage, outfit, &c., when he was transferred to the chaplaincy; the other half being voluntary contributions from the same congregation. The whole has been made over to the Society, and will remain as an honourable testimony to the Christian liberality of the chaplain, and of the British community in Shanghae.

Mr. Hobson had been educating a few promising native pupils for the last three years: these now form the commencement of the school, and are twenty in number.

The school was opened on Thursday, Dec. 9th, with a public service, comprising a small company of Chinese and many of the English residents. Mr. Hobson attends the school daily, to give the religious instruction, and to open and close the school with prayer.

The Rev. T. M'Clatchie reports of his department of labour—

July 19, 1852—I am thankful to have to inform you, that on Sunday last, at the afternoon service, I baptized two more of my blind class. One is named Sawo. He is a fine-looking man. He was formerly a courier, employed by the Chinese government, and lost his sight in consequence of a cold caught from exposure to severe weather while travelling across the country. The other is a woman named Yang. She is our first female convert here. I trust that she will, through God's grace, imitate the example of those holy women of old, who remained faithful to the Saviour when all others forsook Him. She seemed much impressed during the service. I had a better congregation than usual, and one man came up to the communion-rails, and remained there during the reading of the baptismal service, apparently much surprised at the whole proceeding. The two persons who have just been baptized have been candidates for a long time, and have frequently expressed their desire to be received into the church. I hope and trust that they will be enabled to "walk worthy" of their high calling in Christ Jesus.

And at a later date, Dec. 30, 1852—

I have increased my blind class, which now consists of eighteen members: they are progressing steadily. I wish I could see that the blessed truths, with which they are so familiar, have an effect upon their minds. It is fearful to think that the gospel may be to many of these poor creatures "a savour of death unto death." How painful the thought, that I must be the instrument of such condemnation to many! We may well ask, with our first Missionaries, "Who is sufficient for these things?" I used to think, before I came out as a Missionary, that I had only to deliver my message, and the heathen would instantly receive the blessed tidings with wonder and joy; but, alas! I have long ago learned, that the hearts of the heathen are as much opposed to the truths of the gospel as those of professing Christians at home. My neighbours, who live around my church, will not even attend the services regularly. Many of them declare now that what I teach about the resurrection and the fall of our first parents is all "a lie," and refuse to come to hear these doctrines. I must say, however, that I regard all this as a favourable sign. In the first place, their objections show that they understand what I preach; and in the next, as they do understand, opposition and dislike is better than the mere apathy which is most frequently to be met with. It is very strange that so little effect should result throughout China from preaching. I believe that almost all, if not all, the converts made, have been gathered in by quiet teaching, rather than by public preaching. This is a remarkable fact with regard to China. It may probably be the case with regard to other places also. I make it a rule to spend some part of every day in some temple in the city, conversing with the people. I have never yet known of any individual being led to Christ by means of these conversations or the books distributed; nor do I know of any other Missionary who has been more successful than I have in this respect. The apathy with which our message is received is most distressing. Our books are read, and the doctrines they contain are extolled as excellent; yet here the matter ends. No one thinks of putting into practice what he reads. The general answer to all exhortations is, "The doctrines of Jesus are excellent; but then Jesus is your sage; Confucius is ours;" or, as a Buddhist priest once said to me, "Well, go you and worship Jesus: I worship Buddha."* standing on the banks of the river, and saluting us as we glided by towards the boat-house. I thanked God for my safe return to so dear a people, and took courage. Before service, I went down, as used to be my custom, and spoke to the people as they were sitting on the banks near the church, waiting for the bell, and reading over the Psalms and lessons. I cannot find words that could convey to you the reality of the scene. They are very feeling people, and full of love, and their salutations, many weeping according to their custom, went home to my heart, and I was forced to weep too. After we had been with them some time, they were told to go to church as they used to do. The little children went first, singly, one after another, singing very softly, "We are going to pray." Then the women in the same order, and after them the men, walking into the church, and sitting down in their places, in the greatest order.

On the 10th of December Mr. Dudley and Mr. Lanfear started for Coromandel Harbour. On the 13th Mr. Dudley writes—

We held divine service at night in the new chapel at the Poka. Hoani Kumera was the native teacher here when I was living at Hauraki, and the most truly consistent Christian native I ever knew: he was very anxious that the little church should be built before he died, that when he was gone, as he said, it might still put them in mind of their God and their duty. It is a very beautiful little rush building, lined with reeds, with high-pitched roof, &c. It was quite filled with devout worshippers: more than eighteen of the congregation communicated.

A welcome similar to that above described awaited Mr. Dudley in all the villages that were visited.

Northern District.

WAIMATE AND PAIHIA.

The Rev. R. Burrows remained in charge of the Waimate Station until July 1852, when he was succeeded by the Rev. W. C. Dudley. Mr. Burrows then removed to Paihia, accompanied by twenty-one of his old pupils. It had been thought advisable to remove the Waimate institution to a more central situation in the northern island. But circumstances have led the Committee to pause before the transfer has been actually made.

Timoti Kahawai.

The following interesting account of a Christian native is taken from Mr. Burrows' report for the previous year—

Timoti Kahawai was a native who, very soon after my arrival in New Zealand, attached himself to me, and helped me much in acquiring a knowledge of the native language. He was afterwards appointed by me as teacher to a part of my native charge in the neighbourhood of the Bay of Islands. At his particular request I afterwards consented to his coming to the Waimate. I soon found him a valuable assistant, both as overseer of the secular work of the settlement, and as an itinerant teacher to some of the distant villages. In my absence from the Station he always considered himself in charge of the out-door department of the work, and was looked up to by the pupils of the institution as their director in manual employments.

His death was sudden, and whilst I was from home. He had been working with the pupils during the day, and, I am told by them, was more than ordinarily cheerful. In the evening he complained of a pain in the chest, which Mrs. Burrows considered to be spasms; but as the doctor of Her Majesty's ship "Fantome" had just arrived at the Station, on a short visit, she asked him to see him. He did so, and gave him medicine, saying there was no cause for alarm. He soon became easy, and went to sleep. About three o'clock in the morning Mrs. Burrows was called by one of the domestics, who said that Timoti was dead or dying. When she reached his cottage his spirit had fled. Two native youths were sleeping, one on either side, but such was the peaceful departure of the immortal part from its clayey tenement, that neither of them knew it was gone.

For the last ten years his Christian conduct had been such as to gain him the respect of all who knew him, both natives and Europeans, an evidence of which was given by about 200 attending his funeral, and by the deep feeling that was shown on the occasion.

We have indeed sustained a loss, but I can confidently affirm that our loss is his infinite gain. His serious deportment at church, and especially at the Lord's table, was an evidence that he was no formal worshipper. His knowledge of the Scriptures was extensive, and his Christian experience deep and abiding.

KAIKOHE.

The Rev. R. Davis has furnished a report of his Station for the year 1852, in which he describes his past labours in these terms—"We have been enabled to hold our ground, and perhaps to make a little progress." He notices the arrival of the bishop on the 11th of May, and his holding a confirmation at Kaikohe after spending a day in examining and instructing the candidates, and afterwards conveying Mr. Davis on board his vessel, the "Border Maid," to St. John's College, where he received priests' orders.

Maraia—Pirihira Tetau.

The following notices occur in the journals of Mr. Davies—

Aug. 25, 1851—To-day I buried a poor woman, whose case I hope may prove a warning both to myself and my people. She had long been baptized, and had been a regular attendant with the congregation on the Sabbath, and also on our catechetical meetings, and had been upon the whole, although a very high-spirited woman, a consistent walker. In the first stage of her illness, which appeared to be a liver complaint, she was tolerably patient; but as her pain increased in violence, and she found the medicine only relieved her in a very temporary way, she became impatient and irritable. This irritation gave her Christian visitors much pain; and although she was cautious how she expressed herself before me, she was less cautious with the Christian people who visited her.

About an hour before she died she was visited by Charles and Sarah Taurua. They tried to soothe her mind and to lead her thoughts to God; but her reply was, "First restore my body to health, and then I will think about the things you say." She did not then expect her end was come; but just after the Christian party left she was summoned into the presence of God. This I had cautioned them to expect, for it was evident that when the abscess broke she must die. Alas! may not many of our professing people be in a similar spiritual state? Had not this poor woman's pain roused the latent feelings of her heart, she would have died, relying on her religious duties, in a state of ignorant insensibility, and would have been regarded by us as having gone to rest in her Saviour's bosom. This has, I now fear, been the state of some of those of whose safety we have cherished a good hope.

Sept. 5—I buried Pirihira Tetau. What a contrast to the death of Maraia, the above-mentioned person. She had been long ill, and had suffered much pain, but Christ was her hope. When I saw her last she was in expectation of death, but her faith appeared simple. She was peaceful and resigned, and her end was peace. How different were her behaviour and views to those of Maraia, when the trying period actually arrived. When she found herself dying she called her friends around her, and gave them sound exhortation, and while thus engaged her spirit was removed to everlasting happiness.

Baptism of an old chief.

Oet. 14—On Sunday last three adults were admitted to baptism. Amongst them was an old chief, who, during the war, was a principal leader of the late Heke's party during their engagements. Under this head much might be said, and many anecdotes related of the daring courage of the old man; but as he was then a servant of sin these things are better passed over. Few men can show so many marks of former wounds as he can. In a severe contest between Heke and Walker the old chief was shot through the arm, just below the shoulder, a second ball struck him over the forehead and passed on the skullbone to the crown of his head: from these wounds he recovered slowly. It is now nearly three years since he began to think seriously of better things. His progress was slow, but persevering; and I think we could not put him off any longer: he appeared to desire to believe in Christ with all his heart.

I have lately had cheering visits from my people of Mangakahia: some of the people in those parts are, there can be no doubt, pressing on to the stature of the fulness of Christ. At Kaikohe, also, we have instances of a like progression.

Charles and Sarah Taurua.

The worthy old couple, Charles and Sarah Taurua, are about to leave us and proceed to Rotorua, Sarah's place and people. Their motives are solely of a Missionary nature, and I trust the Lord will go with them and bless them. We are loth to part with them, and could not, under any other circumstances, agree to their going. We have had several conversations together on the subject, and I am convinced they ought not to be hindered. They applied to me to procure them a passage to Auckland, but I told them I was myself powerless on that point, and could do nothing for them. To obviate this difficulty, as Sarah's tribe possess a coasting-vessel, a young man of our congregation volunteered to find his way to Rotorua to convey letters and bring up the vessel. We have heard of his arrival there, but not of their decision. This couple has long been a comfort to us, especially Sarah, whose tears flowed copiously yesterday at what she witnessed in the house of God. Yesterday week she came to bring me the joyful news of the serious concern of a poor sinner for the salvation of her soul. I have since seen the woman: she is in a state of mind of the most promising character, so clear as to leave no doubt upon the mind that the case is one in which the work of the Holy Spirit can be clearly traced.

KAITAIA.

The Rev. Joseph Matthews and Mr. W. G. Puckey continue their joint labours at this Station, which has grown up under their care to its present state of advancement.

General View.

The following remarks occur in the Missionaries' report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1852—

In reviewing the occurrences of the past year—the general agitation which Satan stirred up amongst our people, and the merciful providence of God in allaying strife which might have embroiled all the northern part of the island—we have good reason to ascribe praise to Him to whom alone it is due. Never have our natives been more sorely tempted to go to war than during the last six months; but as in times past, so lately, they decided, in conjunction with hundreds of their allies at Hokianga, that “it was too late now to think of war, and thus revenging old quarrels.” This, to our minds, has shown how firmly the word of life has fastened on the native mind. Even the natives themselves were astonished at this, and several of the oldest of the teachers pointed it out to us as being the best evidence that the gospel had been truly received, and that the change had been gradually assuming a more marked character. We, however, lament that the marks of true religion in our people are not more decided than they are, though we must be thankful for what we have witnessed.

We only add, in conclusion, that our feeling is, that there is very much to be done, and that all our energies are required to meet the spiritual wants of our people. After years of labour, we find that little more than surface-work has been done, and of course, as a new generation springs up, our work commences anew. We feel thankful for the help which the native teachers render us, and pray that they may be found at the last day amongst those who will rejoice together as sowers and reapers. Amidst all discouragements which have happened, and still may happen, we can "bless God for all those who have departed this life in His faith and fear," knowing that such are safe, beyond all reach of harm.

Notwithstanding these humble views of their work, there is much in their Report of an interesting nature, and which affords evidence that the natives are deriving spiritual benefit from the pains which have been taken with them.

Every Saturday a meeting is held of the native teachers, at which seldom fewer than twelve, and often twenty, attend. Scripture is read and explained, and conversation held upon it. Mr. Matthews writes—

I was calling their attention to Christ's sceptre being a right sceptre, and said that all who did not lay hold of it would have the rod of iron instead; and I showed them that in the Psalms, and in almost all the places, such as St. John iii. 16—19, where mercy, &c., are spoken of, judgment on those who do not believe is threatened (Mark xvi. 16). On hearing this, Himeona, our oldest baptized native teacher, said, "I will repeat now what I once did before—an event which really took place up at the south, whence I came. A great battle was fought between two large parties"—I think Ngapuhi of the Bay of Islands was one, and the aggressor—"and the pa was taken. Numbers of the people fled into the sea, and clung by scores to a large rock. Their enemies, with their spears, assembled on the top of the rock, and, anxious to procure captives as slaves, they reversed the spears, offering each captive the handle part," which is thicker, and has a shoulder well adapted for holding fast. The teacher was animated in relating this. He said, "Every native who had confidence in the captor that he would treat his slave well, laid hold of the blunt end, and was immediately rescued from the sea, and saved; but those, and there were many, who did not believe in the kindness offered, and who would not lay hold of the merciful end—the blunt end—were at once speared, and perished." He said, "I have told this before: it is a true tale." All were much struck with it, and said that the metaphor in the 45th Psalm was "truly measured," i.e. the simile is a fair one.

During the year several Christian natives have died, many of them affording encouraging evidences of their faith in the Lord Jesus. We introduce one of these cases.

Hoani Whakapiko had been one of the students in the Waimate institution; but, after three years' residence there, became consumptive, and returned to the immediate neighbourhood of the Kaitaia Missionaries, by whom he was visited during a long sickness. The Scriptures were his constant companion. Under the instruction of the Rev. R.

Burrows at the Waimate, his mind had become much enlarged, and his conversation was such as to evince the value that he placed on his regular instruction and preparation for the ministry. During his last hours most of his tribe gathered round him. He boldly declared to them his faith in Christ, and exhorted them to steadfastness in God's ways, telling them not to lament his death. "His manner," says our Missionary, "was so earnest, and his words so comfortable, that his mother, who had lost many children, and who would otherwise have bewailed the loss of this son, told me she could not mourn after such a happy death, and that she was quite well."

Portions of the natives who have hitherto held aloof from Christianity have, during the past year, willingly come under instruction. Amongst others, Te Morenga, the chief of Ahipara, and Te Kohanga, a man of much influence, and respected all over the northern part of the island, from Auckland to the North Cape. This man would sometimes say to the Christian natives, "If you leave off praying you will begin fighting. Keep to your faith."

The daughter of this chief had been baptized by the Romanists; but she had learned to read and think for herself. A year before, she had lost her eldest son. He died a believer, having been baptized by our Missionaries, and receiving the name of Taylor. Subsequently, the mother fell into decline, and greatly desired to be visited. This was done regularly and perseveringly. In many ways she evidenced her earnest desire for the things of God. Gladly would she have joined the confirmation at Kaitaia, and asked the Missionaries to send her a horse, but she was too weak to ride. The Lord's supper was subsequently administered to her.

After her death, the chiefs, who for many years had stood out against the gospel, met and spoke out their minds over her remains. They remarked, that neither the badness of the roads, nor the cold and rain, had prevented the Missionaries visiting the afflicted one, and that "from that time the road was open to them."

Two day-schools have been since opened, and every encouragement given to the Missionaries, the chiefs attending, and many of their people.*

Middle District.

No changes have taken place in the location of the Missionaries of this district during the past year. The reports of 1852 have not yet been received, but a few important extracts are given from the reports at the close of 1851, which did not arrive in time for the last year's Annual Report.

Four months of the past year I have spent in journeys amongst the natives, preaching the word and administering the sacraments. The communicants nearly reached their usual average of 500, and I admitted 220 into the church by baptism, i. e. 145 adults and 75 infants. When at home I have been enabled to carry on my usual round of Missionary duties, and to devote a larger portion of time than hitherto to the instruction of native teachers. To those alluded to in my last report I devoted five hours daily for four weeks; and to a second party two hours daily for four weeks, when a scarcity of food obliged us to send them away. On Saturdays I invite the native teachers from the neighbouring pas to visit me for instruction in the passage of Scripture upon which, on the following day, they have to address their countrymen. Six or eight usually avail themselves of the opportunity. One of my journeys was a peace-making expedition to the Thames. I was accompanied by 200 natives from this place, and the friendly relations between their tribes, which were interrupted by some murders committed nine years since, were again happily established.*

While we cannot recognise amongst our people, as a body, that deep repentance, and lively faith, and ardent charity, and self-devotedness, which we long to see exhibited, we cannot doubt that God has much people in this district—babes, it may be, in Christ, but who, under the teaching of that blessed Spirit which has commenced a good work in them, will yet arrive at the perfect man, “the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ.”

The Rev. G. A. Kissling has charge of the natives in and around Auckland, who attend his church of St. Barnabas in considerable numbers. He also visits the native hospital and jail. Respecting the latter employment he writes—

In the jail I find, happily, very little work to do. Very few natives have hitherto so committed themselves as to become inmates of the same, and the small number whom I have had occasion to visit have generally expressed a bitter regret for their follies, and felt themselves so degraded by their confinement, that there is strong reason to hope of its having proved, at least in some sense of the word, a house of correction for them.

The native girls' boarding-school has been kept up by Mrs. Kissling, and affords much encouragement in the progress of the girls in Christian knowledge and habits. But during the last year the institution has been severely tried by the sickness and death of several of the children, which caused a panic in the minds of the parents, so that many children were withdrawn, and the number which, at the beginning of the year, exceeded fifty, at the close had been reduced to half that amount.

The Waikato District.

It will be seen by the returns that the attendance in my district still continues steady. The old customs have now nearly altogether passed away. The gospel, and the preachers of it, are desired and honoured, and the parents in many cases are anxious to obtain instruction for their young people. I think, also, that I may add, that throughout the whole of my district, and of the Waikato river, the boarding-schools are becoming popular. Still, remembering that in the district occupied by Messrs. Ashwell, Morgan, and myself, there are at least 1500 young people, and that we have only 180 at our boarding-schools, we cannot but feel regret at the great number who are thus unavoidably growing up without any education. My many engagements during the past three months have prevented me from paying my annual ministerial visit to the Kaitotehe and Otawhao Stations. At Kaitotehe itself I have lately spent a week, and had much pleasure in examining the school of forty-five scholars, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Ashwell with great zeal and alacrity. The number of communicants during the past year in the Waikato Heads district was 148; and I had last Sunday the pleasure of administering the Lord's supper to 105 communicants in the Kaitotehe chapel. I am in hopes to complete the circuit of my ministerial district on my return from the local committee.

Mr. Maunsell also reports, respecting his translational labours—

The printing of the Old Testament has proceeded to the end of the first book of Kings. The first eleven chapters also of the first book of Chronicles have been struck off. Large portions of the remainder of the Old Testament have been translated, and are waiting to be printed.

I am truly thankful to record that the institution has passed safe through all its trials. God, in great mercy, has already supplied me with efficient assistants, under whose care both boys' and girls'-schools are conducted quite to my satisfaction, and by whose kind aid I am now relieved for a time from the duties of the Station. I may add, that these arrangements will cause no expense to the Church Missionary Society. By the aid of 200*l.* a year which we receive from the Government, by donations from friends, and by our own resources, we have been enabled to erect our buildings, maintain our operations, and support our scholars, without in any way drawing upon the resources of the Society. On balancing our accounts at the end of the year, I found that there was a debt of not more than 20*l*. against the institution during the last three months. I have made no effort to restrict our numbers, though I must do so in the course of a few months. The number now in the institution, of all ages, is ninety.

In a late letter, Nov. 11, 1852, Mr. Maunsell thus describes the death and burial of one of his scholars—

On the 2d of August we consigned to the grave the body of one of our female scholars, Anne. I had sent her, with four other girls, to Mrs. Kissling's school; but after she had been there a few months our apprehensions were excited by the developement of a consumptive tendency. Her mother and stepfather went to fetch her; but she seemed so attached to the school, that they thought it unsafe to remove her. Her complaint having increased, they went in again, and she consented to return. On her arrival, she stopped a few weeks at the native village, and I continued to visit her there. She always manifested a meek and cheerful spirit, and listened with attention to my remarks. She was not a girl of much power of mind; but seemed to take pleasure in my visits, and felt, I trust, the necessity of leaning exclusively on the merits of the Saviour. At last she expressed a wish to return to our school; and, our matron having also applied in her behalf, I consented. After she had been with us for about a month, Mary* came to inform me that she was very poorly. I went to see her, and found her apparently in the last gasp. I called in the little girls who were in the next room, and were peeping in through every chink in the partition. Having placed them in a circle around her, I gave them a short address, and, as we were bowing the knee in prayer, she expired.

Shortly after, on returning to the school-house, I found Anne's mother, uncle, and stepfather, wailing in a very loud voice. I took the liberty, however, of interrupting the old lady, and urged her not to weep as those without hope. The stepfather then stood up, and said, "I have a word to say: I wish this girl to be left here: she belongs to the school, and with the school she must now lie."

The feelings of natives are always strong on these matters: they always like to take away their dead to their own land. While we were discussing the matter, her uncle rose, and said, "Yes, it is all right: she must lie here with the school." Then, with a slow, solemn step, he moved to the head of the girl, and, sitting down, continued his speech: "This is a branch: she has gone to the root. Christ says, 'I am the vine, ye are the branches.' Yes, I say, she is a branch, and she has gone to Jesus Christ. I have no feelings as to where she should lie. If it were my old customs, I would have taken her to Wangaroa; but now she is merely dust. We are told, 'He made Adam of the dust of the earth,' and she will return to dust; but her spirit goes to the Saviour. Why should we make so much of the body? The spirit is the only thing really worthy of thought. Go, Anna! Go to your Saviour! Go along the road of faith. Yours was the good departure."

I was so struck with the suddenness of the speech, and with the high dramatic effect of the whole proceeding, that I particularly noted every word uttered.

*Missionary meeting at Kaitotehe.**

A native Missionary meeting was held Dec. 1, 1851, at the Station of the Rev. B. Y. Ashwell at Kaitotehe, on the Waikato river, at which 300 natives were present, and 10*l*. collected. Many chiefs addressed the meeting: amongst the rest, the chief Jowett Kukumomo, who had lately accompanied the Bishops of New Zealand and Newcastle to New Caledonia and other islands, thus spoke—

My friends, although I am not an old man, I have tasted human flesh. Some years ago it was sweet. The gospel came, and I would not receive it. I then went to Taranake, and I again tasted human flesh; but it was no longer sweet. Why was it not as sweet as it was before? It was now bitter to my taste. The reason is, the gospel told me it was wrong. Now, should any one in this assembly again taste human flesh, it would no longer be sweet to him: although he may not believe in Christ, yet he would find that his old habits and customs were no longer sweet, because he had heard the truth, and the Scriptures and the Holy Spirit would speak to his heart: the light having come, he would be unhappy. The bishop and I have been to the islands near to us. Many of the islanders are cannibals. Five Europeans had been killed a few months ago, and perhaps eaten. What are we to do? We must send the gospel of Christ. It has already begun to work. Thirteen children of the chiefs have been given to the bishop to educate. You must do the same. Send your children to the schools at Kaitotehe, Maraetai, and Auckland: they send their children a great distance, while you are but a short distance from the schools, and yet some of you do not send your children. At one of the islands we had a narrow escape. We landed to get fresh water: when inland, the people came around us, and stopped our path, but let us pass when we came in the midst of them: they then went aside, and some threw stones at us: they had their hands on their bows ready to send their arrows. We were obliged to leave our water-casks. When we reached the sea, the bishop and all of us had to swim in our clothes to the boat, which was some distance from the shore. We reached the boat and ship in safety; and why? Because God protected us. He will protect all His servants who make known His gospel. Why did He not allow one arrow to be shot at us? Why did we not sink whilst swimming to the boat? I had coat and shoes on: they were heavy, but God strengthened us all. The bishop says he will not give up the islands—he will persevere to carry the gospel; and if he says I shall go with him, and remain there, I am willing. But what am I doing? I am boasting, which is not good. That is all my speech.

The Rev. S. M. Spencer makes the following remarks upon the progress of Popery in this district—

Though the institutions of Popery seem to wear a favourable aspect, I am bold to state that those attached to that system appear rather actuated by a spirit of party than by any religious principle, while the more seriously considerate are induced by their own convictions to come out of Rome. In the Taupo district, an influential chief, with most of his tribe, have proclaimed themselves Protestants, regular worship according to our Liturgy being conducted by his son-in-law, who was baptized by the Popish priest. They are now engaged in the erection of a very superior place of worship.

I would also mention, that at the place where Manihera and Kereopa, the martyrs of Taupo, suffered, a Protestant party is gaining strength; and during my last visit to Taupo I passed a Sunday at the house of Te Herekiekie, the services being attended by the greater part of the neighbouring population, and four children being presented for baptism.

Eastern District.

This district has been deprived, during the past year, of the superintendence of Archdeacon William Williams, who only returned at its close to New Zealand. His Station has been supplied by the Rev. T. S. Grace. Mr. Baker has been obliged to remove from the district, and to suspend his labours, on account of his health.

Temporal prosperity.

Each of the Missionaries speaks of the very remarkable progress of the natives in temporal prosperity. The Rev. J. Hamlin writes—

The condition of the people is now considerably altered from what it was in former years. The progress has been gradual, but more rapid the last two years than in those preceding. When we first came amongst them, there was not wheat enough grown in the district to support our family; but in the last two years there have been about 3000 bushels sold each year in the towns, besides what has been consumed by themselves. The whale-fishing has been to this place what the gold-diggings have been to other countries. It is reported that there are 50 boats and 400 native young men engaged in the occupation this summer.

The Rev. T. S. Grace writes—

The natives have learned that eating bread is better than native food, and that to sit at a table and use a knife and fork is no punishment. The plough is in their hands, and is working wonders for them. Eighteen months ago there was not a native that could be prevailed upon to milk his cows: now they are making every effort to reclaim their bush cows, and great numbers are milked regularly. Oxen for the plough are sought for in every direction. A corn-market is already commenced by them. In every temporal respect they are looking up.

The Rev. R. Barker observes—

This tribe now possesses eight vessels. Should they be successful in running them, it must work a great change in the course of two or three years. It has already driven away nearly every white trader.

Spiritual condition of the people.

It will be easily believed that such prosperity, and the associations into which it has brought them with worldly-minded and ungodly Europeans, have tended to diminish the hold upon their minds which the Missionaries formerly possessed, and to introduce drunkenness and other vices. The state of the people is, in fact, too much assimilated to that of nominal Christians at home. Yet the Missionaries are not without encouragement. The Rev. James Hamlin, at the commencement of the year 1852, reported—

The whole of the natives may now be said to have joined either the Protestants or the Papists. A few individuals only remain as heathen, and even these are regular in their observance of the Lord's-day; and such things as are regularly practised by many professors of the gospel in England—such as opening their shops, &c., on Sunday mornings—are never even heard of among these. When Popery was first introduced into the district I began to fear for the consequences; but, now that it has tried its uttermost, perhaps there was never so little of Popery in the Wairoa, since its introduction, as at present.

In his annual report, at the close of the year, he states—

There are abundant opportunities, and we are not without encouragement to preach the word. The outposts have been visited, both by myself and the appointed native teachers, with regularity, and I am thankful to say that the congregations and Sunday-schools, the Bible and conversational classes, have kept up their numbers in the inland localities, and in some on the coast. On my last visit to the Out-stations it was encouraging to witness the numbers that assembled: though on week-days, scarcely an individual in some of the settlements remained away. I may also mention, respecting those on the coast, that, out of three vessels that have been wrecked at the Mahia, I never heard of a shilling's-worth of property taken away by the natives of that place.

Mr. Barker writes, in his annual report—

I have good reason to believe that the congregations throughout the district are now better than ever they were. The teachers, by my advice, have received class lists, so that every baptized native and candidate for baptism is called by name every morning throughout the year, and at the close of each month these lists are brought to me for inspection. The Lord's supper has been administered twice throughout the district: the first time there were 823, at the second 872, admissible candidates.

For many weeks we have been giving evening lectures on the Pilgrim's Progress. The steady attention manifested, the anxious looking out for the expected evening, and the intelligent answers we received, lead us to believe that it will have contributed to their advancement in divine knowledge.

We have had two instances in which God seems remarkably to have blessed the preaching of the word. In the one case, a native chief of this village, who, when I first came, did every thing to oppose me, especially on the subject of my school, as well as of my other plans, is now my main support, goes with me unasked in all my journeys, and is always thinking of plans for feeding my schoolboys. Another case is that of the chief Hokamau, once a noted murderer, dreaded by everybody: he has danced his furious dance in our yard, and as every previous Missionary will bear witness, was one of the proudest and most determined opponents of the truth. He has now become a meek disciple of the Lord Jesus. Once so sulky and surly, with never a question to ask or answer to give, he now is one of our most inquisitive hearers and most constant attendants when we visit his village.*

Archdeacon Hadfield and the Rev. Samuel Williams are stationed at Otaki,† where they have established an industrial-school, which promises to be the foundation of extensive and important educational measures, as well as a means of advancing the cause of the gospel amongst the natives.

Archdeacon Hadfield's Reports for 1851 and 1852.

The Archdeacon, in his report at the close of the year 1851, wrote—

The progress made by the people has been steady and satisfactory, their interest in spiritual things certainly unabated. Even those who for the most part have shown less desire for religious instruction, are now more anxious to attend to it. Unceasing efforts are now being made by Romanists to draw our people from us. At Otaki there is always one priest stationary, and at times there are two or three. So long as they confined themselves to their own people I could not complain of them, but of late they have shown symptoms of desire to interfere with our people. It will require watchfulness on our part to prevent their influencing the unwary with their pretensions. Their bold assumption of superiority, and their unscrupulous assertions in reference to us, give them a great advantage in controversy. I do not fear much injury; but their attempts will doubtless be successful in some instances, that is, among the more ignorant of our people, and such success is always made use of by them as means for further attacks. They have a bishop and several priests at Wellington, and they use that place as a centre from which to work. Having very few converts, they have plenty of leisure for making encroachments on our flocks.

At the close of 1852 the Archdeacon reports—

With respect to the district generally, I have very little to report: nothing either very encouraging or discouraging has occurred during the past year. There has been a steady improvement constantly going on, but the space of one year does not present any thing very remarkable. It is right, however, to observe, that there is the same readiness and alacrity in attending the preaching of the word and the various ordinances which it has been my privilege to report of late years; indeed, I may safely say, that the desire for spiritual instruction is decidedly increasing. There are, of course, instances of those whose conduct disappoints our hopes and expectations, but these are comparatively rare. On the contrary, there are many who show, by their consistency of life, that they are really more deeply affected by religion than might at first have been supposed.

One occurrence I should be hardly justified in passing over without notice: I allude to the death of Hakaraia Kiharoa, the principal teacher of this tribe, which took place on June the 4th. He was one of those who first turned their attention to the gospel, even before a Missionary had arrived in this part of the country. He, with two others of this place, was baptized about a year after my arrival—the first that I admitted to that ordinance. He was then appointed head teacher, and during my absence always conducted the services of the church and the school. He never received any salary. He was a sincere, humble, unostentatious Christian, who said but little: he was, however, always ready to co-operate in every good work. He was one of the very few natives who, when I suggested to him his baptism, declined for some time, on the ground that he could not answer for his own steadfastness. I endeavoured to show him that Christ was our strength, and that “His strength was made perfect in weakness.” During my long illness he kept up a constant correspondence with me on all matters connected with the welfare of his tribe, and conveyed to me, during the war, information that was frequently of much use to the government. About four years ago the bishop suggested to me that he should be presented to him for ordination; but I knew that he had a disease deeply seated in his lungs, and that he could not live long. I consequently did not advise it. He was beloved by his tribe, who attended his funeral from all the surrounding villages, and subscribed 15*l.* for a tombstone for his grave. Sir George Grey, who had a great regard for him, intends to have a dedication to his memory prefixed to a translation of the Pilgrim's Progress which he is now editing. We much regret his loss, but can only say, "The will of the Lord be done." The teacher we have to succeed him was one of the two baptized with him, Rawiri Te Whanui; quite his equal, perhaps his superior, though of inferior rank in the tribe; but this circumstance is not now of importance, as it was formerly.

I have this year, as usual, had the teachers in from the surrounding villages for a month: fifteen were present. Some were absent with my permission. During this time I took them through such courses of reading as I thought would be beneficial to them. They appeared to take increased pleasure and interest in what they were taught this year, and, I think, felt that they had got something to take away with them.

My engagements while at home have been various—attending to the daily services in the church and to the adult and children's schools, to the sick, &c. I have also been engaged in superintending numerous preparations for our boarding-schools.

Early in the year the bishop confirmed upwards of fifty persons whose names I had given him. I have administered the holy communion there four times, the average attendance being eighty-five. I have also baptized fourteen adults. Among these was Te Puni, the principal and well-known chief of the place. He had for some time previous taken considerable interest in religion. He had borne a high character among the English for integrity, but had never, until within the last few years, taken any interest in Christianity. I was very happy to be able to admit him into the church. His knowledge was quite equal to what I could expect from an aged convert, and his humility was in many respects very remarkable. As an instance of this, I may mention that in the selection of a name, though several great names were suggested to him, he asked me to recommend some very simple one, and finally took the name of Johnson—the name, I believe, of Dr. Johnson, who had shown him kindness when on a visit to Auckland.

The Rev. R. Taylor, in his report for the year 1852, writes—

I have twice visited the interior, and made my usual journeys through my district. The number of baptisms has been much larger than in the preceding year, and that of the communicants has also slightly increased; but I fear, in taking a general review of the state of this district, whilst I have to acknowledge with gratitude the peaceable state in which my natives are living, I must also express my fear that much deadness and indifference to religion prevails, and that it is more perceptible to me now than it was formerly. The work of past years is now being tested: the good seed has been sown, and the evil one has also plentifully scattered the tares. A strong feeling of covetousness has arisen, which it is often very painful to witness. Our propinquity to the gold-fields, and the enormous rise which that has occasioned in the price of food, has made the natives think more of traffic than any thing else: their thoughts appear to be engrossed by it. The daily attendance at morning and evening prayers has declined. Although they continue pretty regular in their Sabbath attendance, still the Lord's-day is more frequently disregarded in minor matters, and the congregation at school have not the same interest they formerly had. The "first love" of many has grown cold.

During the last year Wanganui has had a Romish Mission, consisting of two priests and two lay-associates. Strong efforts have been made to disseminate their anti-Christian doctrines, and to shake the faith of our natives; and they have not scrupled to use very violent and gross language, which I imagine has rather disgusted than convinced their hearers that they have the truth with them. The novelty of their doctrines, and the large store of religious toys which they have to distribute, like grain cast into the water to attract fish, have drawn some to see and hear; but hitherto I have reason to hope that their attempts on the Christian natives have been fruitless. A few of the most heathenish, who have never given up the native way, have gone over to them. The priests are now trying to turn the prevailing desire for mills to account by offering to erect them, thus hoping to obtain a hold upon them, one of their lay-associates being a millwright. They have commenced a mill at Tunuhaere, but the natives are, I trust, on their guard; for when I cautioned them on the subject, they replied that they had only employed the priests as millwrights, not as instructors of religion. Whilst, however, we have cause for thankfulness at the trifling success which these emissaries of a false church have hitherto met with, I feel we cannot too carefully guard the outlets of our Zion, and never lay aside that invincible weapon with which the great Captain of our salvation has armed us, even "the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God."

Celebration of the Lord's Supper at Tawitinui.

In his journal Mr. Taylor gives the following characteristic account of the celebration of the Lord's supper in a native church, Aug. 8, 1852—

Tawitinui. The church being not more than twenty-five feet long, they had built a kind of verandah to it of nearly a similar size, and in front of this a large space was enclosed with a screen of manuka branches: this was carpeted with the same, the verandah being matted, as well as the church. This space was quite filled with the congregation. After the service I arranged the communicants, in number 227, in it, and thence took about fifty at a time into the church, where I administered the elements to them. They then went outside, and were succeeded by another fifty, until the whole had communicated. The rest of the service I had standing in the door-way, between those within and those without. There was a propriety of behaviour during the whole service which was very becoming and satisfactory: there was no noise or confusion, and during the service the deepest attention; which surprised me, as I always consider this a stronghold of Satan.

Missionary Meeting.

An equally graphic and characteristic account is given by Mr. Taylor of a native Missionary meeting held at Wanganui, and of the speeches delivered on that occasion, which were the following—

Tahana said, "We are now like those who are employed in fortifying their pa against the enemy: each one brings his pole, and soon, from the labours of many, the work is completed. This is my word of comparison as to what we should do in collecting the means by which the gospel is to be built up around us. Let us all unite with heart and hands. In the early spring the koekoea's note is weak and feeble—it can only say, 'he kui, he kui;' but as the summer advances it gets warmed, and then it sings, 'witi-ora, witi-ora, witi-ora.' Let us imitate it. The winter has passed, the summer has arrived. I give ten shillings." The koekoea is the New-Zealand cuckoo, a bird of passage: the first note on its arrival resembles "he kui" (i.e. I am cold): as the summer advances it sings, "witi ora" (I am warm).

Aperaniko said, "What I have to give is little worthy of so good a cause, being only a sixpence, but I think on the woman in the gospel."

Hamuera said, "When I consider the safe and peaceable state I now live in, compared with the horror of my former years, I rejoice greatly. Here is my five-shilling piece."

Aperahama said, "We cannot think too highly of our present peaceable state: let us all pray, and pray constantly, too, that the good cause may prosper among us. I give ten shillings."

Paora—"I have a large thought in my heart for this good work; but this is not a plentiful year, and therefore I have only a trifle to give. Here are two shillings for the good cause: take them."

Miti Kingi—"We are not fettered with Resolutions at this meeting, as we were at the last, so we may say this or that just as it suits us: this is, therefore, my word. In former times our property was spears, clubs, and battle-axes, and such like instruments of death; but now it is the gospel. Since the ministers have come we have found this treasure: let us, therefore, prize it. I give now five shillings, and promise fifteen more, to make a pound."

Hemi Napi—"Look here! I have only two shillings and sixpence to give to this good work: sure the gospel won't look at me as worthy of it."

Hare Watene—"Since I have found the gospel of Christ, I have found what I could not seek for myself; and I compare the effects of its protecting care to the roof of the good house, which shelters those who in a rainy day sit under it. I come from the interior, and I have no money to give; but I have given myself and my tribe to the Lord. See! here are only two shillings." Capt. Richardson, being made acquainted with this chief's speech, laid a sovereign on the plate as Hare Watenu's offering.

Ruipuie—"Though it be little, or though it be much, though it be but a farthing, if it come from the heart God will accept it. Here is my mite."

Piripi—"We all know the nature of light, because it shines upon us; but one star differs from another star in the glory of its light: one is great, another is small. Here is my little sixpence."

We sang the hymn, that Christ's righteousness might embrace the whole world; and on counting up the contributions the result was—

Visit to Taupo.

Mr. Taylor thus describes a visit to Rotoaira, Taupo, Nov. 6, 1852—

I found the entire population drawn out to receive me. I had to make the complete circuit, shake hands with all, and rub noses with those who claimed a more particular acquaintance with me. I then went to see the new church, which is very neat, and tastefully ornamented in the native style. After taking some refreshment, I examined twenty-six for baptism, and was much pleased with them. I met the communicants, about forty, and afterwards had the evening service. I found the climate so cold that I could not help shivering constantly. The chief gave up his house to me. Here I found William, my head teacher, who is now living at Taupo on account of his health; and soon after, Putupi arrived.

I felt thankful that it had fallen to my lot thus to see so many of the tribe who caused Manihera's and Kereopa's death coming to seek baptism, and in such a suitable state of mind. May this be the precursor to the true baptism of the Holy Spirit! After the sacrament I held school, and was pleased to find that many could read. The chief of the place was one who received the sacrament, although he was only baptized a short time before by Mr. Brown. William persuaded him to be baptized, although he was waiting for me to receive him. William's motive was a very good one. He knew that many of the tribe were waiting for me, and he thought that if the head chief were baptized by Mr. Brown it would be paying him a delicate compliment. I appointed teachers for Tokanu, Pukawa, Motuapuhi, and Poutu: of the last place the chief becomes the teacher. He appears to search the Scriptures very diligently, and had a number of passages to ask me the meaning of, which he could not comprehend.*

BRITISH GUIANA.

Death of the Rev. J. J. Lohrer.

THIS Mission has sustained a heavy loss in the death of the Rev. J. J. Lohrer on the 11th of January last.* His journeys into the interior had marked him as possessed of a true Missionary spirit, and his removal, especially in the weak state of the Rev. J. H. Bernau's health, will be deeply felt.† Mr. Bernau writes—"The Lord enabled us, by His grace, to work harmoniously during the time we were together, and I feel sure he had the welfare of this people near his heart."

State of the Mission.

The difficulties connected with ministering to the Indians of the interior were noticed in the last Report. Of Bartica Grove Mr. Bernau writes, Nov. 10, 1852—

Our hearts are somewhat encouraged. The Lord's work, we are persuaded, is surely, though silently, being carried on in the hearts of many of the Indians; and, considering that their number is comparatively small, we may confidently say that the proportion of sincere Christians is not to be overlooked.

As regards the young people who have been brought up in the school, there are some who appear to have given their hearts unto the Lord. For some time past our schoolmaster, who was educated in the Mission, has given us much joy. He not only carries on his work to our satisfaction, but appears to be blessed of the Lord in it. From time to time there also are a few from among the young people who are approved candidates for the Lord's supper.

The congregation in general assemble with tolerable regularity on Sundays, as also at the weekly meeting; but, on account of their great ignorance, it would be desirable that they should attend the daily exposition of Scripture.

The coloured people have also of late manifested a better spirit, and we have every reason to believe that several thankfully partake of the blessings of the gospel.

* Some particulars of the event will be found in the "Church Missionary Gleaner" for April 1853, pp. 38, 39.

† Within a few days after the presentation of this Report, Mr. Bernau was compelled to leave his Station, from the failure of his health, for England.

The number of children in our schools has been quite regular for some time past, averaging more than 100; and as, by degrees, they surmount the difficulty of acquiring the English language, we observe increasing intelligence among them.

And Mr. Lohrer wrote, at the same time—

Certainly our labour is not in vain: the people prove this in a variety of ways. Naturally they are most ungrateful and selfish; but since they have tasted of the pleasant fruit of charity, their selfishness often gives way to charity. During Mr. Bernau's absence I made two collections within a month—one for the Society, yielding nearly thirty-six dollars, and one for the orphan asylum in Georgetown, nearly thirty-nine dollars. I do not think that there are many places in England, with a congregation of 200 or 250, where above 15*l.* sterling would be collected within a month. And it must be remembered that we have very seldom 150 adults.

There are young people who have been brought up in our schools, in whom the seed formerly sown begins now to ripen. Only last Sunday a young man was admitted for the first time to the Lord's table, whom we might put forward, I think, as an example in any place at home. And a number of them particularly requested me to give them a Bible lesson on Sunday afternoon, between the services.

General View.

THIS Mission presents the aspect of encouraging and healthful developement. The Stations, which some few years back were the extreme points of effort, are now centres of new operation. There are now no fewer than ten distinct spots, where Missionary efforts are being carried on amongst the Indians. The Bishop of Rupert's Land, in a late letter, thus speaks of the Mission—

The work in this country covers now a larger area of land than at any previous time; and yet there are many openings, of which, with men and means, we might avail ourselves. I had a pleasing application very lately from the Indians of Trout Lake, which is approached from York. They wondered why other Indians should have the gospel and means among them, while they had none. I believe a large number of families might be gathered in there. The largeness of the work, and the peculiar features of the country, call loudly for much additional prayer.*

In the spring of the past year the Red-River Settlement was visited by a fearful inundation, which laid completely under water the upper part of the Settlement. The Bishop, in a letter dated May 31, 1852, writes—

On the breaking up of the ice, on April the 25th, the Red River and the Assiniboine rose very alarmingly. At the crisis of the flood, it was accompanied by very severe wind and storm, and this led to a great destruction of property. Houses were swept away by the resistless current, and barns full of grain. My own house, the two schools, the Upper-Church school, and all the out-buildings, have suffered much: they look at present like a wreck. The window-sashes were removed, and the doors taken off, to allow a free passage for the water, which rolled in waves through the house. We remained in it for a long time; but when the water entered the house I sent the children up hither, where Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have most hospitably lodged them in the new parsonage-house, which was most fortunately roofed in, though not completed. After a few days, I followed up with my sister, and have since passed to and fro to watch the progress of matters below.

There has been a great resemblance between this and the previous flood, the waters becoming stationary, and retiring very much about the same time. The loss has been the greatest among the Canadian population on the main river, above its junction with the Assiniboine: they have, for the most part, lost their all—their houses are swept away, and the little property they possessed. The two extremities of the settlement, the district of St. James, and that of St. Andrew's and the Indian Settlement, remain uninjured.

The behaviour of the people under this heavy visitation is most praiseworthy. They manifest a patience and submission which are very striking to an European. I fear it will produce many changes, and that many may be led to settle elsewhere; but this rests with God. While driven from their houses, they have been encamped on the ridges and heights around. Here we have endeavoured to follow them with our services, and three happier Sabbaths than the last we never passed. On the 16th of May I preached on the little mountain, a small rising ground six miles off. It was a most beautiful sight, with twenty-four tents around, and 150 individuals in a semi-circle before me. The music was very touching under the clear canopy of heaven. I preached from Genesis xix. 27, 28, on Abraham regarding the ruined cities of the plain.

The Society will imagine that it has been a period of much anxiety and painful thought; yet let me assure them that God has been very gracious, and very near to us in our season of trial. There has been very little illness, and only one death; and all have enjoyed the services, while shut out from the ordinances of God's house, with a deeper relish and gratitude than even in former days of unmingled prosperity.*

GRAND RAPIDS DISTRICT.

Testimony from the Rev. J. Hunter.

The Rev. J. Hunter having been obliged to reside during the winter of 1851, with Mrs. Hunter, at the Red River, took charge of St. Andrew's church in the absence of the Rev. R. James, and bears the following testimony to the labours of his brother Missionary—

For eight months during the past year I had the charge of Mr. James's district at the Rapids, and am able to report very favourably of the state of things there. Mr. James is deservedly beloved and esteemed by his people, and his arduous labours have been greatly blessed among them. The congregation at the Rapids is considerably the largest in the settlement, and the services are well attended. The afternoon services I conducted in Cree, for the benefit of those who have only an imperfect acquaintance with the English language. I was delighted to see some of the poor heathen Indians walking into church in the afternoon, to hear, in a language they could understand, of the Saviour's love in dying for their sins. The Lord's-day is carefully observed by the people, and the number of communicants is very large, which manifests a healthy state of feeling throughout the community, and says much for the arduous and persevering labours of Mr. Cockran and Mr. James. They, with much labour and toil, planted, and I was privileged for a few months to follow up their labours; but God only can give the increase. May He "stablish, strengthen, settle" them "in every good word and work."

The health of Mr. and Mrs. James having compelled them to prolong their stay in England, the Station has been supplied, since Mr. Hunter's departure for Cumberland, by the bishop and the neighbouring clergymen.

The Committee being anxious to make this Station effective for the training up of schoolmasters, appointed Mr. Kirkby, from the Metropolitan Training College at High-bury, to establish a model-school, and to undertake the preparation of native schoolmasters in connexion with it. Mr. Kirkby sailed for Rupert's Land in June last, and, immediately on his arrival, entered upon his duties.

The bishop, in a letter dated Nov. 29, 1852, thus speaks of the opening of the school—

On the 2d of Nov. I rode down to open the new school at St. Andrew's. It is indeed a noble school-room, and, through the kindness of the Society, most admirably provided with maps, books, and every other requisite. We joined in singing some hymns; after which I read a portion of God's word—Prov. iii.—and addressed the children from it. After a short prayer we commenced the actual business of the school, inspecting first the beautiful maps, and examining the pupils in their knowledge of geography. A few of the parents were present: more would have been there, but they did not feel sure that I could be down, as the day was cold, with some snow upon the ground. As it was, I should have been sorry to have missed the gratifying sight, besides being anxious to give Mr. Kirkby every encouragement in my power at starting. The school is now in active operation—in the day-school nearly sixty children; and in the Sunday-school upwards of ninety.

THE INDIAN SETTLEMENT.

This Station has been under the charge of the Rev. W. Cockran during the last year. The work is altogether of a pastoral character. In his annual report Mr. Cockran states—

Public worship on Sunday is well attended, and the congregation is orderly and devout. On sacramental occasions their deportment is highly commendable: many of them approach the mercy-seat with an eye rolling in tears, and a broken and contrite heart, which God will not despise.

As the Committee look forward to this settlement becoming self-supporting, they are thankful to notice the following incident—

Another grist mill has been built in the Indian village during the past year. This may be said to be entirely Indian property. The Bishop contributed handsomely towards it; but the Indians have co-operated honourably to bring the work to a favourable issue. It does a great deal of good. We now get a regular supply of flour; and the two mills give a certain portion of employment to needy individuals, and sell flour to others who have any thing to represent it. This gives an additional spur to industry, and will no doubt induce the Indians to enlarge their farms, and look more to the soil for the supply of their wants.

The increase of the settlement has rendered it necessary to enlarge the church. A public meeting of the Indians was held for this purpose, and it was at length resolved that a new church should be built of stone. All came cheerfully forward, some promising boards, others labour, others cash, the subscriptions to be paid by instalments within four years. The whole expense was estimated at 800*l.*, and the sum of 350*l.* was promised on the spot.*

FAIRFORD, MANITOBA.

The Rev. A. Cowley remains at this Station, reaping at length, in some degree, the fruit of his long toil and "patience of hope." He thus refers to the celebration of Christmas 1851—

Mrs. Cowley reminded me, that on the first Christmas-day we spent here all the Christians, and all the heathen then upon the spot, dined together in our room, 13 feet by 16. This Christmas Mr. John Mackay entertained nearly, or quite, forty adult Christians to dinner. We do rejoice in this altered state of things, and bless God for His mercy.

Missionary tours—Commencement of a Station at Fort Pelly.

In Jan. 1852 the Rev. C. Hillyer joined Mr. Cowley at his Station, who took advantage of this opportunity to make a Missionary tour through Lake Winnipeg to Berens' River, returning home by the Saskatchewan.†

In March he proceeded in an opposite direction to Fort Pelly, to which place a native catechist, Charles Pratt, had been sent with his family in May 1851, to commence a Station. Mr. Cowley thought the prospect of the Station sufficiently promising to warrant Mr. Hillyer's immediate removal thither. It is a post of the Hudson's-Bay Company on the route from Fort Garry, on the Red River, to Fort Carlton on the southern Saskatchewan; its distance from the former point being about 394 miles, or fifteen days' journey; and from the latter, about 276 miles, or twelve days' journey. It lies in a S.-W. direction from Fairford, and is sheltered on the north by a range of woods, having the Assiniboine river in front: the cold in December is very severe. Mr. Cowley's opinion of the prospects of the Station is given in the following terms—

May 7, 1852—From what I can learn respecting this tribe, I conceive that a Missionary may travel among them, as Fox did among the Telugu people, with acceptance, and with a good prospect of success. This I must recommend. In the plains no settlement can be formed for want of wood. The nearest favourable place for locating Indians is, I believe, in the neighbourhood of Fort Pelly. If a Missionary should travel, and collect a number of Christ's sheep from among the Crees, he might in time induce them to locate upon available lands near Fort Pelly, whence, like the settlers of Red River, they could make trips to the plains for provisions, and thus there might be another happy Christian village of native Indians, to the praise and glory of God our Saviour.

At the end of June Mr. Hillyer removed to this new Station. For the rest of the year his time was much occupied in preparing his residence for the winter, and in laying in a sufficient stock of food for his own consumption, and the support of such Indian children as may be placed in his school.*

CUMBERLAND STATION.

Labours of the Rev. H. Budd.

During the absence of the Rev. J. Hunter at the Red-River Settlement, from Sept. 1851 to June 1852, this Station was under the charge of the native minister, the Rev. Henry Budd. The report which we now introduce, dated Aug. 2, 1852, describes the condition in which Mr. Hunter found the Missionary work on his return. It is in every respect encouraging and satisfactory. He writes—

We arrived here from Red River about the end of June, and received a hearty welcome both from Mr. Budd and my people. I found every thing going on as usual, and that Mr. Budd had conducted the business of the Station very efficiently during my absence.

The Indians have considerably enlarged their farms, several new houses have been erected, and an Indian village is springing up rapidly around us. Every thing has the appearance of activity and progress, and one feels that the work is consolidating, and assuming a permanent and stable form. The total number of baptized on the register is 579.

The following specimen may be given of Mr. Budd's conversations with inquiring Indians—

May 28—I had at length an opportunity of speaking to a heathen Indian, who came to my house, and said he wanted to speak to me. On inquiring what he wanted to say, I found, to my surprise, it was about religion. "I thought of religion," he said, "some time ago, but I always put it away. I have found, since, that the more I have tried to put it away the stronger hold it has had in my mind. Now I am in a strait. I do not know what to do. I would embrace Christianity at once if I knew that I should find my living by staying about the place, and going to church every Sunday." He said again,

* Further accounts of Fairford are given in the "Church Missionary Record" for April 1853, pp. 90—93; and of Fort Pelly in the Number for May, pp. 108—111.

"The last Sunday that I was at church, at the sermon time, I felt something which made me tremble, and I could not keep my eyes dry. I did all I could to put it off, but I could not. I have had the same thing troubling me once or twice before." I gave him every encouragement in my power to set his mind on Christianity in good earnest, and not to be halting between two opinions, and then he may expect more peace in his mind. God's Spirit is no doubt striving with him; but he does not know how soon God may withdraw His Spirit from him, and leave him to his hardened state. He promised to attend to these things better. He has been living with the Christian Indians the whole of the spring, and always inquiring from them about religion, of which he already knew something.*

The Nepowewin.

At a subsequent date Mr. Budd notices his examination and baptism of a woman from the Nepowewin, with her four children. This event was the more interesting, as it had been lately determined that Mr. Budd should commence a branch Station in that locality.

Mr. Hunter thus notices in his report the formation of this branch Mission—

In about a week or ten days Mr. Budd leaves here, with a boat and supplies, to commence a new Station at the Nepowewin, on the banks of the Saskatchewan, and about eight or ten days' journey up the river from hence. I sent him to visit the Indians there last year; and from the favourable report which he brought back, the Corresponding Committee at Red River urged me to commence the Station this summer. It is a very important locality, bordering upon the Plains, and there is an abundance of fine land for agricultural purposes: the buffalo, also, are in the neighbourhood, and the Indians numerous. Should the Indians be well disposed, we may hope, in a few years, under the efficient superintendence of Mr. Budd, to see a flourishing Mission established there, from whence the blessed tidings of salvation will be carried among the Plain Indians. Mr. Budd is well qualified for the post; and all that human effort can accomplish will be done to render this fresh endeavour to "branch out" successful. May it be owned and blessed by the great Head of the Church, and the gracious influences of the Holy Spirit vouchsafed, to remove the prejudices and soften the hearts of the Indians, both there and throughout the country.

Moose Lake has been visited by Mr. Budd three times during the year, and the buildings necessary for carrying on the school are now nearly finished. John Humphible has laboured faithfully and zealously during the past year; and although we are not able to report much progress, yet we feel that the work is really advancing.*

LAC-LA-RONGE.

Trials at this Station—Proposed occupation of another locality.

At this distant outpost, the northernmost of all our Stations, the Rev. R. Hunt and Mrs. Hunt have had many trials and discouragements, amidst which they have been permitted to experience the truth of the promise, "As thy days, so shall thy strength be." Mrs. Hunt has suffered under long-continued illness, although at the last date happily convalescent; the progress of the Indians in Christian knowledge and experience has been apparently slow; and the unsuitableness of Lac-la-Ronge for a permanent Station, and the necessity of selecting some new locality, have caused them much solicitude. On this latter point Mr. Hunt thus expresses himself—

Perhaps I have held this spot—which was occupied as the Station before my arrival, and to improve which I have laboured, working with my own hands—too tenaciously; but I have not, till lately, seen any way open, or any sign of God's finger pointing, to a better. But now I think I see the darkness around me beginning to be enlightened, and the pillar of fire about to move. This movement is partly manifested by the external improvement of our Indians, which has altered their opinion of this locality. The little land here contributes so scantily towards their sustenance, that they find it necessary to wander away from the Station, and take many of their children with them; instead of sending them to school, and remaining themselves near to God's house, especially in summer, to enjoy the benefit of more frequent and more continued daily instruction. This benefit is what the majority of them now declare that they desire; and this is, in fact, what they all greatly need, in order that their spiritual progress may appear. If we may judge from externals, the desire they express for improvement is sincere; for in all, and more especially in the women, the improvement in decency of habits and mode of dress, since our arrival, is very manifest.

As soon as it was determined to remove the locality of the Station, many conflicting claims pressed themselves upon the consideration of the Missionary. Applications had been made by the Indians of far-distant regions in the west and north-west, but the attention of the Missionary was ultimately fixed upon a locality in a north-easterly direction, a point of land about eight miles above Rapid River, where the Missinippi, or English River, swells out into a lake.

It was an important consideration in favour of this direction, that it will facilitate the intercourse of our Missionary with another tribe of Indians, speaking a language different from the Cree, who have repeatedly and urgently applied for Protestant Missionaries. In one of Mr. Hunt's exploratory tours he thus describes his interview with one of that tribe—

June 3, 1852—I arrived at the Frog Portage yesterday evening, was talking with the few Chepewyans until early this morning, and sat down on the ground at half-past four o'clock A.M. to write these additions to my journal. The Chepewyan deputed by his fellow-countrymen from Churchill and from the northward Indians is an intelligent, earnest, respectable, and, I think, true and candid man. His name is Cōh-che-dī-āh-zy, "a chief," as he says with apparent modesty, having some influence over his countrymen. He comes to bear their earnest request that they should have a Protestant minister at the head of Deer Lake, or near the head, as soon as possible. He and they are very anxious about it: the subject is never from their thoughts. They feel that they are passing out of the world without any right knowledge of God or the world to come. They apply to us, with the request that we will pity their poor souls, and not disappoint them, although they are poor. In answer to my questions, he allowed they love goods; but it is not for earthly goods they apply to us: they want instruction. The young and active men must hunt, and he cannot say how long or how often they could be at the Station; but their aged people and children might stay any time. Lest he might be in danger of telling an untruth, he would only say that he is certain that forty families would visit the Station. There are at least fifty families in Churchill, and perhaps more than four hundred in other parts who would come some time or other.*

Arrival of the Rev. E. A. Watkins—Visit of the Bishop.

In the last Report it was stated that Mr. Horden had arrived at this Station in August 1851, to act as schoolmaster and catechist, and commence a Missionary Station, in the hope that the Committee might be able to appoint a Missionary in the following year. The Rev. E. A. Watkins accordingly sailed in June last. The Bishop of Rupert's Land determined to proceed across the country, in order to visit the Station, with the view of assisting its formation, and taking back Mr. Horden to the Red River in order to study for holy orders; but upon the Bishop's arrival, he found the Station in such a state of forwardness, and that Mr. Horden had so zealously and ably imparted religious instruction, both to the settlers and Indians, that he determined upon ordaining him deacon and priest, and to leave him in charge of the Station, while Mr. Watkins should proceed to a more northerly point in the Bay, where he would be brought into contact with the Eskimos, and might there commence a new Station. The Bishop wrote from Moose Factory, August 10, 1852—

The Society will learn with interest that I reached this in health and safety, after a very pleasant journey, on Aug. the 3d. I started from the Red River June 28th, and reached Albany July 28th, in a light canoe. Here I had full opportunity of judging how much of progress Mr. Horden had made in the language, and how successful he had been in gaining the affections of the Indians; successful, also, in teaching them to read and write in their syllabic system, as all of them had their books ready to produce and read before me. But although I saw quite enough there to lead me to form a most favourable opinion of his successful efforts and untiring diligence, the view of this spot tends much to deepen these impressions. To hear him talking with them in their tents; to hear him address them for some time in unpremeditated words; to see the love which they seem to bear towards him in the Lord; this is a sufficient reward for the length of way along which I have travelled. The first question has been here, whether I am going to remove him, and carry him back with me; and it has been a great relief to them that such a step will, I hope, not be necessary. At Albany, when I was speaking with the Indians, they interrupted me by saying that Mr. Horden spoke their own language very well; and last evening, in examining an old chief for confirmation, his spontaneous testimony, without any question on the subject, was to the same effect. Indeed, it will be sufficient proof of this, if I mention that, in examining about twenty Indian candidates last night, he could interpret entirely for me, and no one was requisite besides ourselves. I deem it highly creditable to him to have acquired such fluency in so short a time. It has been, I think, by going at once into their tents, taking down often a long conversation from their lips, and sitting often for hours employed in this way. In the use of the syllabic system he has been most successful, and I must confess that, in raising the Indians, and carrying them rapidly onwards, I have not yet found any engine so effective.* They carry their book now about with them: they have one or two of their little books in a bookcase, or within two boards joined with a string, and their demand from me at Albany was for paper. They can write very beautifully themselves, the women as well, on an average, as the men. Their dialect is different somewhat from the Cree, although I can understand them a little, and they me. It is their dialect that Mr. Horden speaks and writes exactly as they do.

Of the place itself I would only say, that it is more like an English village than any other sphere in the country. There is a small church and parsonage, formerly built for the Wesleyans by the Hudson's-Bay Company. I am bound to acknowledge the exertions of Mr. Banrley, for many years a diligent labourer here, and who laid the foundation of what we see around us. Mr. Horden is fortunate in finding these buildings all ready.

And subsequently, Aug. 24—

My own stay here has been a most happy period. In my first sermon to them on the Sunday after my arrival, from the text Romans i. 9—12, I expressed the wish and prayer that our short time together might be a bright spot in our existence, a season of refreshment from the Lord. To myself it has been so; and I think I am not wrong in saying that God has fulfilled the prayer to others also. My first Sunday was, in a manner, baptismal. In the afternoon I baptized twenty-five children, infants chiefly, whom Mr. Horden could not baptize. Next Sunday was the Confirmation Sunday. In the morning, twenty-three of those resident in the Fort, and Europeans; in the afternoon, 105 Indians—a delightful service, reminding me of Cumberland in 1850. I had examined them all in little parties, with Mr. Horden's assistance, without an interpreter, in the Catechism which he had prepared on the leading truths, the substance of the gospel. Their answers about their present condition, and their hopes for eternity, were very satisfactory and intelligent.

The last Sunday, the 22d, was sacramental. After the morning service I ordained Mr. Horden deacon, preaching myself on the occasion, from the motto on the priest of old, Exod. xxviii. 36. "And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and grave upon it, like the engravings of a signet, 'Holiness to the Lord.'" We then partook of the Lord's supper with those connected with the Fort. At the afternoon Indian service we celebrated the first communion with them. It was still, and deeply solemn. We chose out only a small number of them, and to this little party additions will soon be made. I administered the bread in their own dialect, and Mr. Horden followed with the cup in the same tongue. We were thirty-one altogether, when the rest of the congregation had removed. It had been overflowing, women and children sitting in the aisles, and the day being one of our hottest, it was very overpowering. I was glad that Mr. Horden should so commence his work at once: he had that afternoon some adult baptisms, some infants, and, after all, the Lord's supper. To him, however, it is lighter, from his knowledge of the language. He was much affected when all was over, and said that the one service more than repaid him for all his toil and labour.

To-day I ordained Mr. Horden priest, preparatory to my departure to-morrow morning. Mr. Watkins preached on the occasion a very full and excellent sermon from Col. i. 28, and assisted me afterwards in the imposition of hands.

The bishop thus also describes the post to which Mr. Watkins has been appointed—

Mr. Watkins professed his willingness to break out new ground, and to remain entirely passive in the matter: indeed, the Christian spirit of both Mr. and Mrs. Watkins in the whole matter I cannot too much praise. I have therefore appointed him to Fort George, or Big River on the maps, for the present winter; and I hail it as the happiest arrangement which I have been able to make during my trip, the best fruits of my journey. He will be welcomed by a large number of Indians, as well disposed towards the gospel, I believe, as those here. He will be near another post, Little Whale River, to which also many come; and at each of these posts, but especially the latter, he will meet from time to time with some of the Eskimos,* who come down in large numbers.†

Encouraging Tokens.

Mr. Horden mentions in his journal the following encouraging facts—

One Indian would be quite an example to many so-called Christians. Passing his tent rather late one evening, after having visited one of my sick patients, I was arrested by hearing his voice. On drawing near, I discovered that he was engaged in prayer. In this delightful exercise he continued for a long time; and his manner showed me that something more than bare words was used in this act—namely, the dictation of an humble and pious heart. You may conceive my feelings at this moment. I assure you that they fully compensated for the fatigues of a rather laborious day. Another, with his family, walked a hundred miles for the purpose of seeing me, that he might hear some of the word of God. These are sources of encouragement, and provide a warmth for the heart even in this dreary, bleak, and snowy land.

Connected with Moose Factory are numerous Stations to which the Missionary will have to pay periodical visits. Amongst these is Albany, on the west side of James's Bay, a spot in which Romish priests are labouring diligently to substitute Popish for heathen superstitions. It has been repeatedly visited by our Missionary.‡ Mr. Horden writes—

At Albany I assure you that I found enough to do: my opponents were very persevering men, and worked in a manner worthy a better cause. I think that the numbers of Protestants and Romanists are already well nigh equal, namely, about eighty adults of each. There is, however, this material difference: theirs came in like a swarm of bees, remained four or five days, and then departed, leaving the priests with a very small number; whereas I could always muster a tolerable congregation.*

Translations.

Mr. Hunter has sent home the gospel of St. Matthew in Cree, written in Roman characters, which has been printed.

Mr. Horden has sent home portions of Scripture and of the Prayer-book in the syllabic character, for which a fount of types has been prepared, by which the works will be printed in this country, and the types and a press will be afterwards sent to Mr. Horden, who already understands the art of printing.

CONCLUSION.

THE Committee have, on several previous Anniversaries, spoken of the openness of the field of the world for Missionary labours. But the evidence which the present Report adduces, authorises them to advance upon their former statements, and to speak of the heathen world as manifesting, not only an openness, but A WIDE-SPREAD THIRST FOR THE WORD OF GOD. The Committee have carefully weighed the force of the term they use. They do not assert that such indications are universal. Apathy still possesses the masses of the people—bitter enmity rages in many places; but, in every place visited by Missionaries, there are also found very many who evidently thirst for the word of God. This is a wonderful change in the state of things, and the Committee humbly recognise in it the moving of the Spirit of God upon the face of the nations—the dawn of their regeneration.

The Committee would avoid, on the one hand, rash and presumptuous conclusions; and, on the other hand, slowness of heart to believe that God has heard and answered the prayers of His faithful servants. They have, therefore, carefully examined the evidence; and they feel constrained to announce the conviction forced upon their mind.

And what, the Committee ask, has been the chief agency honoured of God to work this change? The present Report bears testimony that this Society has had its share. The Committee claim for it no more than a share. Other Societies have had their share also. It has been estimated that the native converts of Protestant Missions throughout the world number one million, of which this Society can claim little more than a tenth, though, in some particular fields of labour, it has been honoured with a larger proportion of the whole success.

The Committee might here at once appeal for an increase of Missionaries throughout the world; for they are jealous for the honour of their church, lest others should press before them into this inviting field, and reap the harvest. But, as they desire on this occasion to direct their appeal specially to the case of India, they will, first of all, refer to a few particulars in respect of Missionary labours in that land.

Correct statistics have been lately furnished of all Protestant Missions in India and Ceylon. From these it appears that twenty-two Missionary Societies are sending thither their evangelists. Two of this number are episcopal—namely, this Society, and the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. Twenty other Societies—non-episcopal—of England, Europe, and America, are labouring for the conversion of India! One hundred and ten Stations, with 139 ordained Missionaries, are occupied by the two former: by the latter, 203 Stations, with 340 Missionaries.

The results of Missionary labour in India are, as yet, in favour of our church—we have inherited the fruits of the Danish Missions in South India. Sixty-four thousand converts are members of our church—forty-eight thousand of other Christian communities. Thirty thousand children are educated in our schools—fifty thousand in theirs. These facts are too important to be overlooked. The success of other Societies is too precious to be viewed with any other feelings than those of praise and thanksgiving to God. It is one of our fundamental rules, that “a friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the gospel of Jesus Christ”—and we wish them prosperity in the name of the Lord. Thus the whole results of Protestant Missions in India and Ceylon present 112,000 native converts, and 80,000 children under Christian instruction. If these numbers be compared with the vast population of 160 millions, they are all but insignificant; yet, viewed in another light, they are most encouraging. The Missionary Stations are the starting-points and centres of the holy enterprise for the conversion of India. The large body of native teachers—of which this Society alone employs 1150—forms a spiritual army, of which the Missionaries are the officers, and to maintain and extend which the Christian schools furnish the recruits.

Here, then, we ground our special appeal. An army of allies is ready to take possession, in Christ's name, of India—this land of promise. The troops are mustering—to enter with us, if we are ready to go up, or in advance of us, if we linger. As St. Paul boasted “to them of Macedonia, that Achaia was ready a year ago;” and as he stirred up the rich Achaians by the reciprocal record, that the churches of Macedonia “to their power, yea, and beyond their power, were willing of themselves” to minister to the saints; so should the twenty-two Protestant Missionary Societies, labouring in India, “consider one another, to provoke unto love and to good works.” Will the clergy of the United Church of England and Ireland hesitate to enlist in this glorious enterprise? Will our Universities withhold their students from us? The funds are in hand—the men alone are needed. Many posts are but feebly supplied, the Missionaries are already over-worked, some are single-handed. We need an accession of men to keep up our present work. Unless such help can be obtained, the Committee will be compelled to enjoin their Missionaries to hold back, lest the enemy deprive them of the ground already won.

But why should we not receive such a supply as to enable us to make an onward movement? The Society has at present above thirty Missionaries in India, whose familiarity with the native language and character qualify them for itinerating among the heathen: they long to be so employed, if only they were released from the pastoral charge of 38,000 native converts. These might be watched over by newly-arrived Missionaries, assisted by native teachers, till these new Missionaries had themselves acquired the language, and were prepared, in their turn, to go forward. So an onward movement might be at once organized, by this Society alone, with thirty veteran Missionaries. So led, so sustained, how gloriously might the kingdom of Christ be advanced! How eminent might be the position maintained by the Church of England in the conversion of India!

To-day the opportunity is offered! While other Christian communities, from England, Scotland, Germany, and America, are pressing forward; while the legions of infidelity are mustering; while the emissaries of Rome are marshalling their well-appointed ranks; shall the episcopal churches of England and America abide in their protected domains "among their sheep-folds" and their "ships?"

The Committee, at their last Anniversary, declared their ability and their readiness to send out forty additional Missionaries. A mere fraction of that number has, during the past year, been supplied from home. Yet, more than that number are wanted for India alone. Then there is all Africa, and its now unfolding prospects—Palestine—Rupert's Land!

The Committee will not now mention any particular number as the index of their wants; but they state, in the presence of this vast Meeting, and before the Church at large, their willingness to accept any number of true-hearted Missionaries, who may appear to be called of God to the work. They will send out any number, trusting to the Lord of the harvest, whose is the silver and the gold, to supply their treasury with the funds for this blessed and glorious undertaking.
